FORT WAYNE HONORS ITS YOUNG SOLDIERS

EXPECT FIVE THOUSAND IN LINE

THE PROGRAM.

6:15 p. m.—Dinner for guardsmen at Elks' temple.

LINE OF MARCH

Form Berry and Harrison; march south on Harrison to Williams, east on Williams to Calhoun, north on Calhoun to Columbia, east on Columbia to Barr, south on Barr to Berry, west on Berry to Court House and disband. Grand Marshal, A. G. Emrick. Chief of Staff, Major C. F. Dreisbach.

Promptly on the stroke of 8 o'clock Tuesday night the field pieces of Battery D, Indiana field artillery battal- will sound a salute from the St. Mary's river flats, and Fort Wayne's great patriotic parade will swing into motion. To the music of four bands and a drum corps and with probably five thousand people in the line as an escort to the members of Company E, First Indiana infantry and Battery D, the city is prepared for the greatest patriotic demonstration in the history of Indiana.

The program began Monday night when Manager Frank E. Stouder opened the Palace theater to the returning guardians of the Texas border. Members of the societies of civil war veterans also were invited, and scores of them came with their ladies.

The veterans sat well forward in the center section of the house, and the guardsmen were directly behind them.

The olive drab uniform first came into view about 8 o'clock, and the house, already filled, began to cheer. As the new veterans of the Mexican border campaign marched to their seats the whole house stood and welcomed the guardsmen by remaining standing till the last of the boys had found his place and was seated.

Salute the Colors.

Manager Stouder inaugurated a new system at the theater Monday night by starting the performance with the Star Spangled Banner and the orchestra stood while it played. Toward the last note the curtain rose and displayed a huge American flag, probably the largest in the city, and in front of the flag stood the speakers of the evening. At the first note of the national air the West Jefferson street. Chief Jasper had not been well for some time, but it never occurred to his friends or associates that his condition was serious. Apoplexy was the cause of his death.

Monday was Chief Jasper's day off duty at the fire station, and he had attended the theater Monday night with his wife. Returning home he decided to sleep downstairs to save time in case he was required to answer a night alarm.

At six o'clock Tuesday morning Mrs. Jasper heard him attempting to arise, and a moment later the thud of a fall-

PRESIDENT AND CABINET DEBATE STEPS FOR WAR

Washington, March 20.—As the cabinet convened this afternoon the sentiment was generally expressed that the United States is virtually in a state of war with Germany.

Washington, March 20.—Further steps to protect American lives and property against the warlike operations of German submarines, are expected to take some more definite form after today's cabinet meeting. As has been the case since all official Washington acknowledged that a state of war practically exists between the United States and Germany there is a wide range of speculation on the precise action President Wilson contemplates, but there is no official ground for any forecast.

Calling of congress in extra session before April 16, the day first chosen for its assembly, still continues foremost among the probabilities, but there are no indications that President Wilson had finally decided upon it. On the other hand there were some indications that the date of the session would not be advanced.

Hurrying Preparations.

Preparations for carryin gout the policy of armed neutrality to its fullest degree are being hurried in the navy department. The possibilities of their execution range even to active co-operation at sea with the British

WILSON TURNS DOWN CARRANZA'S SCHEME TO STOP GREAT WAR

Washington, D. C., March 20.—The note to General Carranza declining his proposal for neutral action to bring peace to Europe by cutting off exports of supplies to belligerents was made public today at the state department.

The refusal was based, first, on the apparent hopelessness of peace at the present time as shown in the futility of President Wilson's efforts and Germany's attempts to embroil Mexico and Japan in war with this country and in the belief that any restriction of commerce with the belligerents would in effect be an unneutral discrimination.

"Nevertheless," the note concludes, "the president would not be understood as desiring to impede the progress of a movement leading to the resumption of peaceful relations between all the belligerents and would therefore wish the Mexican government to feel that his inability to accept in the present state of affairs should in any way militate against the attainment of the high ideals of General Carranza by the cooperation of other neutral govern-

Summary of the Day's War News

French troops pushing hard on the heels of the retreating Germans, are today within striking distance of the "Hindenberg line," the supposed goal of their retiring foe. The milestones on the Oine are the historical towns of Lille, Cambrai, St. Quentin, Leon and Lafere. The troops of General Neville were rising towards St. Quentin yesterday at a rate almost unprecedented in the present world war and had reached a point within five miles of the city. Unless some unheralded factor has entered into the situation the French have by this time either entered St. Quentin or the German retreat has halted..

In the meantime to the north the British are doggedly pushing forward to Cambrai and are apparently within striking distance of that town, the heart of the Lille-Lafere line and famous since the days of the Romans. The British are advancing more slowly than the French, but nothing either in the official reports from Paris or London or in the unofficial stories of newspaper correspondents at the front indicates that either army has yet come in contact with the main German forces. The theory that the Germans propose to halt their retreat on the Hindenburg line has been put forward by military critics in the allied capitals, but there has been no indication from Berlin of the plans of the German general staff and the purposes and meaning of the dramatic retreat of the invaders of France remain clothed in mystery.

French military observers estimate that the German retirement has already released 150,000 troops who are available for a long predicted counter offensive to be launched against the allies lines, against some speculative papers. The newspapers regard some such move on the part of von Hindenburg troops as almost certain and discuss the possibility of another tremendous drive to smash a way through to Calais.

In the meantime the only indication of a German attack to assume the initiative is an apparently sporadic discussion in the chamber of deputies. Nothing has developed to indicate an offensive on a scale great enough to effect the sensational evacuation of a thousand or more square miles in Picardy.

CZAR URGED TO CALL IN GERMANS TO QUELL REVOLT

FINAL HOUR OF IMPERIAL GLORY

Petrograd, March 20.—Via London.—The history of the last hour of Emperor Nicholas as ruler of Russia, is related by a correspondent of the Outro Rossii, of Moscow, as follows:

Two trains arrived at the station at Vishera (on the Moscow-Petrograd railroad, 125 miles southeast of Petrograd,) on the night of March 14. One train carried the emperor's suite, the second the emperor, Gen. Baron Frederick, minister of the imperial house; Rear Admiral Niloff, Gen. Zabel and others. Nicholas called from headquarters by the empress, was on the way to the Tsarkoe-Selo.

Czar is Deceived.

None of the telegrams about the revolution sent by President Rodzianko, of the duma, had reached the emperor. Every effort was made to keep him in ignorance of these affairs. Gen. Zabel protested, declaring that if the others refused to inform the emperor, he would do so. Nicholas, who had been sleeping, was awakened at 2 o'clock in the morning. He went to the dining car and demanded that Admiral Niloff tell him what had happened in Petrograd. He was told that a crowd of students, hoodlums and young soldiers had terrorized the duma, but that a few detachments of troops would be able to put them down. Just then Commander Voyekoff, of the imperial train, entered with a telegram stating that 700 of the St. George cavalry were on the way to Tsarskoe-Selo to present a cross to the emperor and had arrived at the nearby station of Dno, headed by Gen. Ivanoff.

"Your majesty," said Voyekoff, "it

SERIOUS PLOT SEEN DASH OF INTERNED SEAMAN TO ESCAPE

Washington, D. C., March 20.—Lieutenant Chorth and Machinist Mate Hermann Schroder, of the German interned crews at Philadelphia navy yard, are believed to have been drowned last night in an attempt to escape.

Eight other men who escaped at the same time have been captured by companies of marines and the Philadelphia police. There are in addition to the seven reported last night as having faile dto escape.

Fourteen men were concerned in the attempt to escape. Officials feel certain that the dash was known to the German officers and that the men, led by Lieutenant Chorth, made it with the sanction of the commanders. What their purpose was can only be left to speculation. Four men were captured while attempting to leave their ship. The crews of the Kronprinz Wilhelm and the Prinz Eitel Friederich were at once mustered and it was found that the lieutenant and nine men were missing. Companies of marines were at once dispatched in pursuit, the police reserves and civil authorities aiding in the chase. How the eight retaken were found the preliminary report does not show, nor what evidence there is to ssupport the supposition that the lieutenant and one man were drowneed. Two of the four men caught while attempting to leave their ship were in civilian dress, having discarded their uniforms for the dash, and were well supplied with money.

In connection with the coup it may or may not be significant that Baron von Schoer., a former attache of the German embassy, transferred to Mexico before the break with Berlin, recently has been reported traveling in the United States.

In the light of the present situation and all the circumstances the presence of a German diplomatic agent abroad in the country is looked upon with some concern. The prospect of German sailors at large also is regarded with apprehension.

All the men interned at Philadelphia are to be transferred back to Forts McPherson and Oglethrope, Ga., where they will be kept in stockades and guarded by troops of the Seventeenth infantry.

STORY OF THE BREAK.

Washington, March 20.—Preliminary reports to the navy department early today say that a lieutenant and nine men of the interned German sailors at the Philadelphia navy yard succeeded in making their escape in last night's dash from the yard.

Philadelphia detective bureau was responsible for the statement that from thre to ten of the crews of the interned German cruisers Kronprinz Wilhelm and Prinz Eitel Frederich got away in the dash for liberty last night, in which four sailors were captured. Nothing could be learned from government officials at the navy yard, where the two ships are interned, but the detectives insisted that several men, possibly ten, are at large. They swam a distance of 300 yards across a channel to the shore.

The dash was made under cover of darkness and when search was made at daylight the police found an interesting collection of property. It included ten life preservers marked with the initials of the two cruisers, three discarded uniforms and a dagger. They also found civilian clothing inclosed in oil skin bags and this, it is suspected, was placed on the shore by accomplices of the escaping men. The police say that each of the men captured had ten new $10 bills pinned to his undershirt.

TWO ARE INJURED WHEN AUTOS CLASH

Axles Broken and Tires Punctured in Corner Collision.

Occupants of two roadster automobiles were slightly injured Tuesday morning when the machines met in a corner clash at Harrison and Wayne streets. The two cars were badly damaged. Fast driving is given as a cause for the mishap.

Mrs. John G. Girard, 802 West DeWald street, who was in the one car, with her husband, complains of injuries to her left arm and side. She reported to police that the side of the machine in which she was riding was struck because Clarence Steward, of the Protective Electric Supply company, driver of the other car, was driving too fast.

Steward reports that Girard drove past the traffic sign and allowed him no room in which to pass the corner. Steward complains of an injured knee. Front axle was broken and both front tires punctured on Steward's machine.

Chicago, March 20.—The picture of Nicholas Romanoff, former emperor of Russia, with other imperial insignia has been removed from the walls of the Russian consulate in Chicago.

Members of the consulate staff who were busy yesterday giving the royal emblems relating to the reign of the late emperor, declined to say whether the orders had come from the Russian embassy at Washington.

HEAR RUMOR THAT WILHELM IS SHOT

Erroneous Report Causes Much Excitement in Fort Wayne.

Rumor that Kaiser Wilhelm, of Germany, had been shot, caused no little excitement, and much speculation in Fort Wayne Tuesday. Newspaper officer were besieged with telephone calls throughout the day for confirmation of the report.

Origin of the rumor has not been explained. The first intimation of it was received in Fort Wayne about 10 o'clock Monday night. A report to that effect is said to have passed over the Western Union wire. Tuesday morning a similar report was heard over wires of the Pennsylvania railroad, which also stated that extra editions had been issued by the newspapers of Indianapolis. Passengers passing through the city alighted from the trains in search of extras or definite information. The report seems to have gained general circulation throughout this section of the country.

Of course, the rumor is erroneous. None of the press associations carried the story—not even the rumor.

DEMOCRACY MUST BE GERMAN HOPE SAYS SOCIALIST

Berlin, Monday, March 19.—(Via London, March 20.—11:40 a. m.)—Phillip Scheidmann, socialist leader in the reichstag, says in the socialist newspaper, Vorwaerts:

"It does not require many words to explain why almost the whole world is arrayed against us. The answer is given quickly. The whole world sees among our enemies more or less developed form of democracy, and in us sees only Prussians.

"We have always answered by referring to the absolutism of Russia, but now czarism has gone, and the emperor's successor to accept the throne only if the representatives of the people agree. These representatives are to be elected on the basis of universal, equal, direct and secret suffrage.

"In Asia the empire of the Mandarins opposed every reform. They desired an emperor with absolute power, as long as he did ,their will, and thereby undermined the monarchy and laid the foundation of a republic. In the European central empire similar spirits seek to build similar Chinese walls and hinder every reform. The clock shows five minutes to twelve. They imagine they hold up the time when they move back the hands to eleven.

"Why does the chancellor shrink back now from unconditional necessity? Always the hesitator, the procrastinator, Bethmann-Hollweg wants to begin to cure Prussia after the war. Russia also promised all reforms after the war, but the war lasted too long for the Russians. Why postpone till tomorrow what is absolutely necessary today, what even the king himself declared years ago was one of the most urgent matters of the business of the state? Now is the time for decisive action. The difficulties which might rise if the government adopts the reichstag system of elections for Prussian elections, are as a feather-weight as compared with the difficulties which will come if it does not do this. This chancellor should not delay one day. The Prussian people, as well as the other German states, will stand as one may at his side if he acts decisively."

In a different strain the Lokal Anzeiger, one of the newspapers closest to the chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg, says:

"A change in the Prussian electoral system has been promised for a year, and after the war will be debated and put into practice with all quiet thoroughness. That is no longer news; it is an obvious fact. To demand it for tomorrow and at that in connection with a hymn of jubilation for the Russian revolution is no precarious a venture that it must be rejected. It is certain that minister-president von Bethmann-Hollweg intended no such result from his last speech."

FORT WAYNE HONORS HER YOUNG SOLDIERS

soldier boys were on their feet with the snap they learned while with the colors, and they stood at attention until the last note had died away. The remainder of the house stood, too, and no one any straighter than Thomas Toomey and his fellow veterans who occupied seats of honor in the front row.

Mayor Is Chairman.

Mayor Hosey called the assemblage to order, and welcomed the guardsmen back to Fort Wayne in the name of the people of the city. He told the boys in olive drab that Fort Wayne was not slow to realize the sacrifices they had made, and the trials they had undergone, in their service with the colors at the back door of the nation. Mr. Hosey also thanked Mr. Stouder for the gift of the theater, and the veterans of two other wars for the interest they had taken in the newly made veterans of the border campaign.

First on the program, Harry G. Hilgeman, talked briefly to the "boys." The boys of '61, of '98, and now of '16, sat before him, soldiers all, some a little grayer than others, but all possessed of the fighting spirit which made America.

Mr. Hilgeman welcomed first the heroes of '61 and '98 and then turned to the present guardians of the flag and told them that they could not realize what feeling existed for them in Fort Wayne.

"When you marched away to the border, you believed, and we all believed, that you were marching away to war. You went, not a man of you but with one thought, the thought that the nation's flag must be protected, and that you would follow it, no matter where it took you," Mr. Hilgemanu continued. "We did not have war, and we thank God that tonight we are here to welcome you back from a victory of peace rather than to listen to the word that might come from the trenches somewhere in Mexico."

Captain Ryan Speaks.

Captain Thomas F. Ryan, commander of the recruiting detail working in this city, and a recognized authority on matters military, greeted the boys as the spokesman from Uncle Sam.

"I know what your border service means," he said, "what hardships you underwent, I know that there were times when your stomach told you that your throat had been cut, that you made remarks about the camp sites that you wouldn't make here. I know what you have undergone on the border campaign, for I had the honor of being a member of the Pershing expedition."

Captain Ryan hit a responsive chord when he urged universal service. The guardsmen gazed about in delight at their safe and civilian friends in other parts of the theater and applauded with an enthusiasm that was disconcerting to the young bloods who wore no uniform.

Urges Preparedness.

"Had the Union been prepared in '61 the civil war would have lasted two years instead of five, had we been prepared in '98 the Spanish-American war would have seen a very few American dead, compared to the number who gave their lives in service; had we been prepared last year Villa never would have attacked Columbus, and we should have been spared our Mexican unpreparedness. I don't believe in a great standing army as the ultimate effort in our preparedness. I believe in giving every man an education that not only will make him a soldier of the reserve, but will make him a better citizen. The time for universal service is ripe.

"And may I complete my welcome by asking Fort Wayne to get behind this patriotic movement, to put every shoulder to the wheel; may I ask every man to do his share. Get behind the president and uphold the dignity of the flag. Don't be afraid to show your colors. Let every public building and every business house and every private residence in Fort Wayne display the Stars and Stripes. If you have no flagpole hang them up in front of the door, and if that is impossible, for goodness sake don't be afraid to put them in the window."

Following a splendid bill the soldiers were the guests at the Trier dancing academy at a "military ball."

The Parade.

The parade Tuesday night starts starts from Berry and Harrison promptly on the stroke of eight, and all divisions will be in line ten minutes before that time. This will be Fort Wayne, and probably Indiana's greatest patriotic demonstration. The thousands who will march are being augmented hourly by new organizations which will appear.

Grand Marshal Emrick has asked his aides and assistant marshals to meet him at the Commercial club at 7:15, to enable him to get them at their posts and avoid the confusion which will attend the gathering of the many marching bodies.

The dinner for the guardsmen will take place at the Elks' temple at 6:15 Tuesday night, and all guardsmen who did border service, or were discharged at Indianapolis, have been invited. The parade will follow immediately after the dinner.

Following the parade the public reception and welcome demonstration in the court house will be presided over by Mayor Hosey and the speakers will be the Rev. A. J. Folsom and the Hon. Charles E. Niezer.

The police department orders that no cars be parked on Calhoun street, between 7:30 and 9 o'clock, and that on the side streets automobilists shall not allow their cars to stand more than two feet from the curb. The entire day police force will be out with the night men to assist in handling the crowd. Special details of patrolmen will be scattered through the downtown districts.

A. D. T. Boys Will March.

Chief Delivery Clerk King, of the Western Union company and a platoon of the A. D. T. boys will march in the patriotic parade Tuesday night, according to information given out at the office Tuesday afternoon. The Red Men also will meet at their lodge and will take part in the parade, as will a number of other lodges not originally scheduled in the list. It seems that every organization of any size in the city is determined to display its patriotism by representation in the procession.

ing body. She rushed downstairs and found hi mon the floor, unconscious, but still breathing. Neighbors were called, but before medical help arrived the fireman was dead.

Twenty-three Years' Service.

In his twenty-three years of service with the city department, George W. Jasper made an enviable record as a man in the ranks and an official. On October 4, 1898, he was appointed captain of No. 3 engine company, and retained that position until on July 1, 1909, when he was appointed to the newly created office of assistant chief, which had been made for him.

Due to his untiring efforts much of the good service of the past few years of the department was accomplished. In recent years, since Chief Hilbrecht relinquished active charge of all fire runs, Chief Jasper has been first in command in the large majority of battles with the flames. His ability as a fire fighter has been recognized not only in Fort Wayne, but all throughout the central states.

Fire Prevention Work.

With the growth of fire prevention work, and the new systems inaugurated in recent years to prevent the starting and spread of fires, Chief Jasper had taken an active part. Under his direction the captains and lieutenants of the downtown fire brigades made almost weekly inspections of stores and warehouses, backyards and basements, and the success of the work is written in the records at headquarters, which show Fort Wayne's losses in the business district the smallest in the state.

His Last Fire.

The last fire which Chief Jasper attended was at the home of Dr. J. E. McArdle, on South Calhoun street, shortly aftere 7 o'clock Sunday evening. He was a member of the Elks and the Concordia Singing society.

The deceased is survived by the widow, four children, Alba, Irene, Ralph and Paul; one brother, Fred, and one sister, Mrs. L. C. Heck.

Chief Henry Hilbrecht announces that every member of the fire department who can be spared will march in the funeral procession. Arrangements for the funeral have not been completed.

GERMANS LEAVE RUIN IN WAKE

the gashes and chips showed that the work was done within the last few days. The beautiful gardens of the outlying houses were also wrecked and every fruit tree within several miles of the way through and then broken down.

The correspondent of The Associated Press was among the first visitors to Peronne in the wake of the English troops, who have now swept well beyond the place.

Through Ruined Villages.

It was necessary to pass through half a score of ruined villages which only a few days ago were within the zone of intense artillery fire, before reaching the banks of the Somme. Crossing that stream on an improvised bridge and trudging through Halle, Peronne was reached over a road which had been reconstructed within 24 hours over succeeding rows of German trenches and through recurring masses of rusted barbed wire, some of these being at least six feet in height and 50 feet in width.

In the outskirts of the city English tommies were encountered wearing German "pickle" helmets and grinning from ear to ear. In the great square of Peronne, which is strewn by melancholy ruins, was the British lieutenant who led the first patrol into the city. He was mounted on a splendid little pony which he captured with its full equipment. Several other officers arrived during the morning and begged for the privilege of taking a ride about the place on this prize of war.

Buildings Blown to Ruins.

There was a ghostly silence in most sections of the city. No sound of war was to be heard except once when a prying German airplane scudded over into the shelter of the high clouds and anti-aircraft guns opened, driving him to quick retreat. British officers pointed out building after building where apparently the damage had resulted from interior explosions. In many cases walls, facing away from the line of British and French fire, had great squares blown through them, differing strikingly from the round holes made in other buildings by shells. The beautiful old sixteenth century church of St. Jeane was a pitiful mass of ruins, but one of its oil paintings still hung on a bit of wall in the transept and was miraculously untouched.

The statue of Catherine Devoix, which had adorned the great square, had been taken away by the Germans and a gaudily clad dummy left in its stead.

The Germans had left several foot bridges across the Somme which were apparently intact, but on closer examination showed that false sections had been inserted which gave way at the first foot pressure. The correspondent investigating one of these bridges too closely had an icy bath in the Somme. On the blank walls of the city there were many printed proclamations to the soldiers, including the entire text of some of Chancellor von Bethmann Hollwegg's speeches in the reichstag.

At a chateau just outside Peronne the Germans had killed two magpies and stuck them on the sharp points of the iron posts at either side of the entrance. "I suppose that signifies the German curse of bad luck," said a British subaltern, as he went whistling gaily on his way to find, as he said, "where the war has taken itself off to."

BLOCKADE OF GREECE LIFTED.

London, March 20.—(1:00 p. m.)—The ministers to Greece of the entente nations have again taken up their residence in Athens, Reuter's correspondent there reports. The discharge of a cargo of wheat destined for Piraeus begins today.

The admission of wheat to Greece indicates the lifting of the blockade which has been in effect for several weeks. The Greek government has made repeated representations that widespread suffering was being caused by the shutting off of food supplies, to which the entente responded that the blockade would be lifted when Greece had complied fully with its demands. The most important of these demands were the transfer of the army to lower Greece and the disbanding of the reservists, for the purpose of removing the possibility of an attack by Greek troops on the rear of the allied forces in Macedonia.

is enough that you appear at the Tsarskoe-Selo in the midst of these heroes and with the Tsarskoe-Selo garrison, go to the duma. All the troops will remember their oath. It will be easy to overcome these young soldiers."

"It is a lie, your majesty," shouted Gen. Zabel. "You are deceived. Read these telegrams. Here is the order: "To the imperial train at Vishera: Do not send the train to Tsarskoe-Selo, but to Petrograd."

The emperor arose and exclaimed: "What does this mean? Is it so? Is Grekoff (who signed the order to divert the train) commander in Petrograd?"

Then General Zabel spoke out, saying: "There are 60,000 troops, with officers, backing the temporary government. Your majesty has been declared dethroned. It is impossible to go further."

Nicholas, completely nonpulsed, exclaimed:

"Why was I not told before? Why tell me now, when all is finished?"

Yields to His Fate.

After a moment he added with a gesture of helplessness:

"Let it be so. Thank God. I will abdicate if that is what the people want. I will go to Lividia (the estate of the Russian imperial family on the south coast of the Crima,) to my gardens. I am fond of flowers."

The train moved toward Bologoie. At Dno a telegram was received stating that the Tsarskoe-Selo garrison had revolted and that the empress had appealed to the duma for protection. Nicholas pondered the situation, then said:

"I shall go to Moscow. Mrozovski, (commander of the Moscow garrison,) used to say Moscow always would defend me."

At Bologoie was received a telegram stating that the Moscow garrison had joined the revolution. The train returned to Dno, where it met the train bearing Gen. Ivanoff.

The general related everything that had taken place, adding:

"There is only one thing to do now. It is to open the Dvina gate to the Germans and let them quiet the canaille."

Angrily Rejects Treason.

Nicholas rejected the suggestion, exclaiming angrily:

"I shall never become a traitor to my country."

Then Nicholas broke down and wept. After a moment he said:

"If only I knew my wife and children were safe I should go to Lividia quietly to finish my life and let Michael govern the country. He is liked by the people. I will sign my abdication and then go back to the army, say good bye to the soldiers and let them do as they like. I shall not stand in the way."

and French fleets to clean submarines out of the shipping lanes.

It was learned definitely before the cabinet meeting that the president, while considering deliberately all phases of the situation, had not finally made up his mind on any forward step beyond the active preparation of the navy for eventuality. For the present President Wilson is taking the posome unlooked for change before consition that at all events the nation must be placed in a better state of preparedness, because he believes that from a practical standpoint Germany is making war on this country.

Favor Rigorous Measures.

Members of the cabinet before the meeting apparently were agreed that every possible step to safeguard American rights should be taken but were not sure whether anything would be gained by advancing the date of the extra session of congress. While the situation now facing the nation has been anticipated by the president ever since the submarine question between the United States and Germany became acute, he is considering it now again from all angles because of the far-reaching questions involved in an active entrance of the United States in the war. The president is known to believe that the objects he has in mind—the establishment of a league to preserve future peace—has been set far forward by the revolution in Russia. The murmuring against autocracy in Germany is also being considered.

No doubt now remains in the minds of most officials that unless there is gress meets, the president will open the extra session with an address making clear the new position into which the United States has been forced by Germany's ruthless disregard of American rights. He may discuss universal military training.

The indications before the cabinet assembled were that there would be no change in the situation before tomorrow although it was possible that discussion at the meeting might lead the president to act at once.

PROCLAMATION SOON DUE.

Washington, March 20.—Without waiting for the proclamation President Wilson is expected to issue today or tomorrow that a state of war exists between the United States and Germany, the government today prepared definitely for forceful action to clear trans-Atlantic ship lines of German submarines and to protect the coast.

Sixty submarine chasers, 110 foot, speedy craft, were ordered from the New York navy yard to be completed in about two months and bids for 200 more will be opened by the navy department tomorrow.

The naval academy was ordered to graduate the senior class March 29, and the junior class in September, so that 374 more junior officers may be available speedily.

The president authorized expenditure of the $115,000,000 emergency fund provided by congress to speed up construction of warships and suspended the law limiting labor in plants doing government work to eight hours a day.

Navy officers prepared plans for calling out privately owned motorboats offered by their owners for coast patrol work, and for manning the two thousand submarine chasers or patrol boats which it is estimated will be ready for action within four months.

It was thought the president might make some announcement after today's cabinet meeting whether he expects to call congress in special session before April 16.

ments in the use of their good offices and friendly mediation to bring about the end of the terrible war."

The note mentions the "careful and sympathetic consideration" which the United States has given to the proposal, refers to the new vigor of the warfare and goes on to say: "To render the situation still more acute, the government of the United States has unearthed a plot made by the government dominating the central powers to embroil not only the government and people of Mexico, but also the government and people of Japan in war with the United States. At the time this plot was conceived, the United States was at peace with the government and people of the German empire and German officials and German subjects were not only enjoying but abusing the liberties and privileges freely accorded to them on American soil and under American protection."

The note then takes up the proposal to cut off commercial relations with the belligerent nations and refers to the American note to Austria-Hungary to show the policy of this government in declining to stop munition shipments.

Believing that this position of the United States is based upon sound principles of international law the conclusion says: "And is consonant with the established practice of nations, the president * * * * * cannot bring himself to consider such a modification of these principles or of this practice as compliance with Gen. Carranza's proposal to suspend commercial relations with the warring nations would entail."

U-BOAT WAR HAS NOT SLACKENED BRITISH TRADE

London, March 10.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)—A visit around the harbors and docks of London, Liverpool and Manchester, undertaken with a view to observing how the German submarine blockade has affected shipping, revealed that "business as usual" is the rule in the British ports.

There has been no apparent slackening of trade at any point and the slight holding up of neutral shipping has not yet had any reflection in the weekly tonnage and trade opportunities of the port authorities. In each of three ports visited the figures of arrivals and departures make a favorable comparison with the figures of three months or a year ago and in each of these ports the stocks of foodstuffs and other merchandise stand at better than a peace time basis.

There is plenty of evidence that the British admiralty is taking up the submarine question with the greatest energy. The arming of merchantships goes on under rush orders at every port, and few British ships are now leaving without guns and gun crews.

"We have practically ceased to worry about submarines," remarked the superintendent of one of the big London docks. "We have too much else to do, attending to the daily routine of using to best advantage every minute of the time when a ship is in our hands.

Every ship that comes in has a few stories to tell about the excellent marksmanship of their gun crews. There is a great rivalry among the crews and if their reports about hitting floating barrels at fabulous distances in practice on the open sea are correct, there is little chance for the submarine that shows its periscope within sight of any of our ship lookouts."

GERMAN PUBLIC JUST LEARNS OF BIG RETIREMENT

Berlin, Monday, March 19.—(Via London, March 20., 11:50 a. m.)—The morning newspapers today gave the German public its first news of the big events on the front in France. All publish articles by military experts explaining the movement as a part of the strategical plan of the general staff for a decision on the western front and a master stroke to vitiate the preparations of the entente for an offensive, giving a decided advantage to the Germans. These writers are unanimous in expressing the fullest confidence in Field Marshal von Hindenberg. The Deutsche Tages Zeitung says:

"This is not the first strategic retreat von Hindenburg has executed in this war. It is necessary only to remember his great retreat from before Warsaw and the partial evacuation of Transylvania. Thus far these retreats of von Hindenburg always have borne fruit a hundredfold, so that we may face the new measure of our highest military commander with well founded confidence and the fullest assurance that it furnishes the preliminary to new German successes.'

The Morgen Post says:

"The German people can and must have the fullest confidence in their leaders, especially von Hindenburg and his able counsellor and assistant von Ludendorff. Developments may be awaited with calm confidence."

The Vossische Zeitung says:

"We must not forget that the same von Hindenburg who began the Transylvanian campaign with a retreat and who in 1914 evacuated a conquered strip of Poland to strike the Russians like a bolt of lightning, now stands master of the battles of our western front."

MUCH WORK TO GET RAIL PACT IN OPERATION

New York, March 20.—Much hard work remains for the railroad managers and the brotherhood leaders as a result of yesterday's agreement putting into effect an eight hour day as from January 1. The task of fitting the new working day to the time schedules of every railroad in the country was taken up today by a committee of the brotherhoods and a sub-committee of the railroad managers.

About 800 schedule wage contracts must be signed on the new basis. These committees will decide in what manner the back wages due the men from the first of the year will be computed. It is estimated that the employes will receive between $12,000,000 and $13,000,000. There was some talk today of leaving the computation to the eight hour committee headed by Major General G. W. Goethals. Freight service on all trunk lines has been more or less deranged by the embargoes declared in anticipation of a strike. Nearly all the railroads lifted their embargoes yesterday as soon as they heard of the settlement.

The actual labor of effecting detailed changes in pay schedules will be done in conference between the individual managers and the general chairman of the four brotherhoods on these roads. With some 200 roads represented in the recent controversy approximately 800 forms of contracts will have to be revised so that 250,000 employes in freight service may receive increases averaging $240 yearly, or a total of $60,000,000 yearly as estimated by railroad heads. It developed today that between 5,000 and 6,000 passenger employes, most of whom are on eastern roads are to benefit under the agreement just reached. These are men in the so-called turnabout service, on trains which carry commuters and on which they have morning and evening runs, with "spread" time between when they are not actually working.

ARMY TO HAVE 350 NEW LIEUTENANTS

Fort Leavenworth, Kas., March 20.—Three hundred and forty members of the provisional battalion of second lieutenants, nearly all of whom were appointed from civil life, will complete their three months' training course here about April 1, it was learned today. They will then be assigned to units of the regular army and will have two years to "make good." The training of the young officers has been intensive and little attention has been given to the higher branches of military sciences since the aim being to educate the subalterns in practically everything the enlisted man is called upon to do, it is said at the military post.

ORGANISM OF STRANGE MALADY IS ISOLATED

Galesville, Wis., March 20.—The germ of the strange throat disease, which in the last few days has caused eight deaths in this village, and mystified physicians from nearby cities, has been isolated, according to a statement issued today by doctors and state health authorities, who investigated the epidemic. The disease was traced to an infected milk supply. More than 150 persons have contracted the malady. Two of three town physicians are ill of it and have been taken to a hospital. Many persons now convalescent will be crippled for life, health authorities say.

RUSSIAN REVOLUTION WILL STIR GERMANY

Authority on Russia Thus Explains German Chancellor's Speech.

(By J. H. DUCKWORTH.)

New York, March 20.—"I have not the slightest doubt that the revolution in Russia will lead to serious uprisings and momentous changes in Germany. The kaiser must see the writing on the wall. Autocratic monarchies are doomed.

H. BERNSTEIN

"That is the explanation for Chancellor Bethmann-Hollweg's belated championing of political reforms. At all costs the Hohenzollerns must head off a German revolution."

This is the interpretation of Herman Bernstein, greatest authority in the United States on Russian affairs, of the recent happenings in Russia and Germany.

For twenty years Bernstein, editor of the American Hebrew and of the Day, has been fighting for the freedom of Russia. He was a friend of Count Tolstoy. He visited Russia in 1908, 1909, 1910 and 1911.

In 1912 he was barred from Russia because of his articles in the United States criticising the Russian government's refusal to recognize the passports of American-Russian Jews. Colonel Myasoyedoff, who turned him back at the Russian-German frontier, was hanged a few months ago for his part in a gigantic grafting scheme.

"I believe," continued Bernstein, "that the men in German trenches, led to believe they are fighting a defensive war, will be the very leaders of these uprisings in Germany. They will demand drastic changes and reforms in th junker government that has so wickedly misled them, and that has been responsible for the horrible catastrophe now facing the German pople.

"A well-known German writer told me when I was in Germany last year that he would not be at all surprised if a revolution were to break out in Germany at any time led by a man now fighting in the trenches.

"This war has brought many ills in its train. But it has brought one consolation—democratization in the ranks of armies everywhere. That is why we see Russian troops supporting Russian revolutionaries, the same troops that ten years ago helped to crush the people.

"I believe the entire Russian revolution is due to the fact that the liberal element of the people believed a separate peace would kill all immediate hopes for a democratic Russia. It knew Germany preferred a backward, reactionary Russia for a neighbor, a Russia it could point to as more reactionary than itself.

Bethmann-Hollweg and others of the kaiser's ministers must have been unpleasantly surprised by the Russian revolution. They would have welcomed a revolution that would have split and weakened Russia and at the same time driven Russia into their hands.

"Real representatives of the Russian people have revolted, not along lines desired by the Grmans, but along lines of real liberalism and freedom.

MUCH EXTRA WORK IN MARCH.

It's between seasons now, when few persons perspire as much as health demands. The result is double work for the kidneys, for the kidneys must throw out waste matter from the system that is eliminated through the pores when persons perspire. Overworked, weak or disordered kidneys need help now. B. H. Stone, Reading, Pa., writes: "Whenever I need a kidney remedy I rely on Foley Kidney Pills. They have been worth their weight in gold to me." Dreier Drug Co.—Advertisement.

COLUMBIA CITY NEWS.

Columbia City, Ind., March 20.—James A. Steel, for several years a junk buyer in Union township, passed away Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the home of his cousin, Isabella Steel, northeast of Coesse.

Mr. and Mrs. Orlando Stickler, of Washington township, early Sunday morning discovered fire about the walls near the chimney in their home and a fire extinguisher put out the blaze, after $75 worth of damage had been done.

Northa Hazen, of Kosciusko county, and Miss Bertha Hill, daughter of Clark Hill, of Troy township, were wedded Saturday evening at the home of Rev. L. A. Luckenbill, of this city, and have gone to a farm in Kosciusko county to reside.

While at the Virgil Baublit home southwest of Larwill Sunday noon, Dr. L. W. Tennant, of Larwill, received a fracture of both bones of the right wrist when the engine of his auto backfired while he was cranking it.

Robert Jones, who sold his Washington township farm several months ago and moved his family to Columbia City, has purchased the eleven acre truck farm of C. C. Riddle, just north of the city, and will move to it April 1. The consideration was $4,500.

The residence property of the late Mrs. Sarah E. Hemmick, on North Chauncey street, has been purchased from the estate by Attorney B. J. Bloom for $3,500.

Paul Harter, teacher in the Coesse school, and son of Mrs. Lewis Harter, of this city, left Monday for Chicago to take the army physical examinations, having been appointed to West Point. During his absence his classes are being taken by Miss Lucy Jones.

Warren Thompson, employed on the Panhandle section, received a three-inch gash on the right cheek Monday afternoon when a flying spike hit him.

The home of Harry Fosler, in South Whitley, is under quarantine, their son, George, 16, a high school student, having contracted scarlet fever. The school at South Whitley has been fumigated and classes were held Monday as usual.

Sheriff James Bodley Monday took to the Logansport hospital Miss Hazel Burnheimer, of Etna township, recently adjudged insane.

Miss Lida Glass, stenographer in the Bailey & Compton law office, has resigned and returned to her home in Ossian.

The maple sugar camps in the county are yielding little sap, owing to the protracted cold weather. At the Jacob Kaufman sugar camp, 45 gallons of syrup have been boiled; at the R. H. Maring camp, 50 gallons have been boiled, while at the Williamson-Keller camp, in Cleveland township, about 50 gallons have been obtained.

A special meeting of the township trustees will be held Wednesday afternoon in the office of County Superintendent A. R. Fleck, to receive the county agent petitions and subscriptions, the $500 guarantee having been raised. The county council will in a few days make application to Purdue university for the appointment of a county agent for Whitley county.

TAKE SALTS TO FLUSH KIDNEYS

Eat less meat if you feel Backachy or have Bladder trouble.

Meat forms uric acid which excites and overworks the kidneys in their efforts to filter it from the system. Regular eaters of meat must flush the kidneys occasionally. You must relieve them like you relieve your bowels; removing all the acids, waste and poison, else you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sours, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment; the channels often get irritated, obliging you to get up two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids and flush off the body's urinous waste get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine and bladder disorders disappear. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys and stop bladder irritation. Jad Salts is inexpensive; harmless and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then, thus avoiding serious kidney and bladder diseases.—Advertisement.

NOSE CLOGGED FROM A COLD OR CATARRH

Apply Cream in Nostrils To Open Up Air Passages.

Ah! What relief! Your clogged nostrils open right up, the air passages of your head are clear and you can breathe freely. No more hawking, snuffling, mucous discharge, headache, dryness—no struggling for breath at night, your cold or catarrh is gone.

Don't stay stuffed up! Get a small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm from your druggist now. Apply a little of this fragrant, antiseptic cream in your nostrils, let it penetrate through every air passage of the head; soothe and heal the swollen, inflamed mucous membrane, giving you instant relief. Ely's Cream Balm is just what every cold and catarrh sufferer has been seeking. It's just splendid.—Advertisement.

DAILY BIBLE READINGS FOR THE HOME

35 Again the next day after, John stood, and two of his disciples;
36 And looking upon Jesus as he walked, he saith, Behold the Lamb of God!
37 And the two disciples heard him speak, and they followed Jesus.
38 Then Jesus turned, and saw them following, and saith unto them, What seek ye? They said unto him, Rabbi, (which is to say, being interpreted, Master,) where wdellest thou?
39 He saith unto them, Come and see. They came and saw where he dwelt, and abode with him that day: for it was about the tenth hour.
40 One of the two which heard John speak, and followed him was Andrew, Simon Peter's brother.
41 He first findeth his own brother Simon, and saith unto him, We have found the Messias, which is, being interpreted, the Christ.
42 And he brought him to Jesus. And when Jesus beheld him, he said, Thou art Simon the son of Jona: thou shalt be called Cephas, which is by interpretation, A stone.
44 Now Philip was of Bethsaida, the city of Andrew and Peter.
45 Philip findeth Nathanael, and saith unto him, We have found him, of whom Moses in the law, and the prophets, did write, Jesus of Nazareth, the son of Joseph.
46 And Nathanael said unto him, Can there any good thing come out of Nazareth? Philip saith unto him, Come and see.
47 Jesus saw Nathanael coming to him, and saith of him, Behold an Israelite indeed, in whom is no guile!
48 Nathanael saith unto him, Whence knowest thou me? Jesus answered and said unto him, Before that Philip called thee, when thou wast under the fig tree, I saw thee.
49 Nathanael answered and saith unto him, Rabbi, thou art the Son of God; thou art the King of Israel.

John 2:13-22.

13 And the Jews' passover was at hand, and Jesus went up to Jerusalem.
14 And found in the temple those that sold oxen and sheep and doves, and the changers of money sitting:
15 And when he had made a scourge of small cords, he drove them all out of the temple, and the sheep, and the oxen; and poured out the changers' money, and overthrew the tables;
16 And said unto them that sold doves, Take these things hence; make not my Father's house a house of merchandise.
17 And his disciples remembered that it was written, The zeal of thine house hath eaten me up.
18 Then answered the Jews and said unto him, What sign shewest thou unto us, seeing that thou doest these things?
19 Jesus answered and said unto them, Destroy this temple, and in three days I will raise it up.
20 Then said the Jews, Forty and six years was this temple in building, and wilt thou rear it up in three days?
21 But he spake of the temple of his body.
22 When therefore he was risen from the dead, his disciples remembered that he had said this unto them, and they believed the Scripture, and the word which Jesus had said.

Adamson Law Decision.

Agreement by the disputants, some hours in advance, left nothing immediately practical in the way of results for the supreme court to establish by its decision upholding the Adamson eight-hour law, beyond imposing a legal status upon the peace pact. But the decision is one of the vital and far-reaching constitutional settlements made by the court.

Stated in its lowest terms, the decision means that the constitutional power of congress to regulate interstate commerce has no defined limits. That power is made in this decision to appear broad enough to reach almost any possible circumstance or condition. Congress has the power to fix wages and to establish hours of labor and conditions of employment, just as it has power to delegate to the interstate commerce commission authority to fix rates Whatever may be essential or necessary to an effectual maintenance of interstate commerce, congress is authorized to deal with. Certainly congress will never be called upon to determine by law any matters that a few years ago would have been considered so radical and so outside the pale of a proper, safe, conservative and constitutional interference with interstate commerce as the fixing of wages and the establishment of hours. All that, however, has been settled in a decision upon issues raised but little more than half a year since.

Perhaps there would be a more settled confidence in the stability of this ruling had not the court divided itself as nearly as possible into equal bodies of opinion. The affirmation of the Adamson act was accomplished by a vote of five to four. It is to be noted that among the five affirming were Chief Justice White, who delivered the opinion, and Justice McKenna, the two justices who in point of service are the oldest on that bench. Justice White's support of the law and his opinion affirming it carry great weight and will do much to breed confidence in the major opinion of the court. In any event, the decision nails down the Adamson law and it defines additionally the great scope of congressional power to deal intimately and minutely with questions of interstate commerce.

Patriotic Revival.

It is a privilege none should refuse to embrace, this evening, to join in the welcome home to the national guardsmen of the two military units that went from this city to the Mexican border last summer. It is properly felt that these young soldiers deserve some token of the community's appreciation of their services to their country. An interesting and suitable program has been arranged in which the details are purposed to afford opportunity for a lively revival of patriotism in Fort Wayne. Perhaps patriotism is under no stress for a revival, but it will be strengthened and quickened in an occasion to show itself and voice itself. There will be a great throng of the city's people in this demonstration. It should include the participation of every person in Fort Wayne who is able to get to the center of things this evening. It is designed to be a patriotic outpouring of all the people of the city and lines will be drawn on no one who wants to join his appearance and his voice to the demonstration. Citizens of alien birth will have as much right and as hearty a welcome and as loyal a fellowship with the crowd as those who trace an American ancestry to Jamestown or Plymouth Rock. The spirit of the affair is Americanism—sane, sound and true. They are happily less than a handful among us who cannot come to this great meeting with that spirit glowing and throbbing in their breasts. We believe this demonstration is going to surprise even those who have made arrangements. We hope so; you hope so. Let all of us together help to make it so.

There is a stern and warlike note in the words of Josephus Daniels, who as secretary of the navy says he doesn't know what the navy can do against the submarine campaign, but whatever it can it will. That ought to set red terror stalking through Teutonic lands.

A WONDERFUL DECADE.

(Philadelphia Record.)

When the great historian of the future plans his monumental work upon man and his doings since the creation of the world one seems justified in believing that he will devote no little of his important space to that particular decade, from 1911 to 1920, in which we are now so fortunate as to live. When has mankind seen its like? Not even the period of the French revolution contained such dramatic episodes and such changes of vast and world-wide importance.

Russia's astonishing transformation, by which the last of the great autocracies is converted into a constitutional monarchy, is but the last so far of a kaleidoscopic series of amazing shifting scenes and overturns. The first month of the year 1911 witnessed the overthrow of the Diaz regime in Mexico, and Italy's war upon Turkey and conquest of Tripoli. In the year following the Turk was beaten to his knees by the Balkan nations and his long agony of misgovernment in Europe almost ended. This was quickly followed by the second Balkan war in 1913, and in 1914 Germany let loose all the furies by backing Austria in her onslaught on Servia. This most terrible of all wars still rages, with every promise of lasting at least another year.

While Europe has been convulsed, China has awakened from her long sleep, expelled the ruling Manchus and proclaimed a republic. Persia has also witnessed a dynastic revolution and has almost ceased to exist as a distinct nation. Among the other changes of government Portugal passed from a monarchy to a republic.

There have been great doings, political and peaceful, in the United States, and more seem destined to come. And there are still four years of this wonderful decade in which Hades may yet break loose in unsuspected quarters. Russia's example may prove contagious to some of her neighbors. A wonderful period, regarding whose doings the historans will be busily writing for centuries to come.

BY GENE AHERN.
FILIBUSTERS.

La Follette, Stone, Clapp, Cummins, O'Gorman, Lane, Kenyon, Kirby, Works, Norris, Gronna, Vardaman—filibusters—daschund barks coming from under the disguise of American flags—made a notable speech the other day as Americans, with the words coming through a pretzel. What did they do?

Well, we'll tell you, George, in our language so that anybody can understand it—even ballplayers—the services they did for our president and country. Supposing a fella was drowning and calling for help. This bunch ran up to the shore and threw the drowning man more water. Or a fire, they helped put it out with gasoline and more wood. The train came rushing on to the open trestle, they saved the train from disaster by greasing the rails and flying green lights. The runaway horse ran wildly down the crowded street, they hopped into a taxi, got ten feet ahead of the horse and stayed that way, then held out a feedbag full of oats and a pitchfork full of hay. There you are. Ain't we all proud of our twelve cute senators? Dear brothers, next Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 brother La Follette will hold a crochet party at his house to make chest protectors for the Amazons. Tea and vanilla wafers will be served and I trust you will all be present.

GEORGE IS GRANDPA.

George Betzler, of West Wayne street, wore a big, long smile Tuesday morning. He also passed cigars to his friends. It wasn't his birthday either, nor his wife's. He did not fall heir to a large fortune either. He isn't the proud father of a baby boy, but his son is. He received word Tuesday morning that he was now a grandpa. And it is the first time, too. Francis George Betzler is the name of a big baby boy which arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John G. Betzler, of Chicago, some time Monday. George has not seen his grandson as yet, but he states that he bets he's a dandy.

Nine Year Old South Bend Boy Loses Little Time From School

If more parents would follow the advice of Mr. J. M. Felton, 116 E. Broadway, South Bend, Ind., their children wouldn't lose much time from school on account of colds. The important thing is to treat these troubles at the first symptom. Keep plenty of fresh air in the bedroom, and at night apply a good application of Vick's VapoRub Salve, leaving the covering loose around the neck, so the vapors arising may be inhaled. Mr. Felton gives his experience as follows:

"About a week ago our nine year old boy came home from school with a cold—pain in his head and high fever. We put him to bed and applied Vick's VapoRub up his nostrils and over his chest, then covered with a warm flannel cloth and in the morning the pain in his head was gone and in two days he went back to school and has been well since. VapoRub is the best we have ever used."

EVANS GRIFFIN FELTON.

VapoRub relieves by absorption through the skin, taking out the tightness and soreness, and also by inhalation as a vapor. These soothing, antiseptic vapors loosen the phlegm and open the air passages. Three sizes.

THE STORY OF LLANO GRANDE AND THE FORT WAYNE BOYS WHO GUARDED THE VALLEY OF THE LOWER RIO GRANDE.

Fort Wayne's soldier boys are home from the border.

After eight months in the Texas sands, the Hoosier soldiers are mustered out and have returned to their civic duties. Fort Wayne has planned a welcome for them, an affair to take place today.

It is not only to welcome the returning guardsmen, but to display its patriotism that Fort Wayne has set aside this day. In these times of national peril there can not be too great a display of patriotic feeling, and Fort Wayne should do its best to make itself for one day at least the most enthusiastically American city on the continent.

But Fort Wayne hardly realizes what her boys have done in the sands of Texas. Bits of information coming in letters to parents and friends have told some of the story, but never has an exhaustive resume of the work and life of the Hoosier citizen soldiery on the border been written.

The President's Call.

The call of President Wilson, for guard troops to protect the border on the night of the 18th of last June, found Fort Wayne with a miserably small, but efficient guard quota. An infantry organization of about forty men comprised the Summit City's offering.

Captain John E. Miller, then in command o fthis company, which at that time was a portion of the separate infantry battalion of state troops, started out the night of the call to recruit his outfit to war strength.

Assisted by his son, Lieutenant Miller, and Captain Ray McAdams, at that time first liteutenant of the company, in less than four days the number of men had passed the required war strength and E company was ready to move.

Then came the first drills at Fort Benjamin Harrison for the green recruits, who had joined at the president's call. Those were days of anxious waiting, and days of labor for every man in the command. Many of the boys, green and unhardened, went out and worked in field drills hour after hour and day after day, and presently it became apparent that the Fort Wayne company was one of the best in the Indiana brigade.

Paper work, wrapped in endless miles of army red tape, was new to the militia officers. And the regular army mustering officers were impatient, and because the militiamen did not understand what they had never been taught, they became soured on the guard. But the Fort Wayne officers and enlisted men went about their duties and did their best, and each day their best became a little better.

Captain John E. Miller, grown exaggerated about the waist line, with good feeding and the comforts of home, found that he could not pass the physical examination, because he was over the weight limit. It was sad for this old guardsman to have to stay behind, but he was happy too at the thought that he was sending to the front a company well officered and with a lot of men as anxious to learn and as hard-working as any on those green fields at the fort.

The Battery Organized.

For many years Fort Wayne had supported a battery of field artillery, but when the government decided that students could be made into soldiers, and interest here seem to fail, the equipment was removed to Purdue university and the local artillery unit was mustered out.

John E. Scheffer decided that Fort Wayne could support a battery, and it was not many weeks after the call that he was organizing the unit which became D battery, first battalion, Indiana field artillery. Leaving Fort Wayne with a war strength outfit, an organization for the most part composed of men who never had known military service, and, too, a pretty green looking lot of rookies, he arrived at Fort Benjamin Harrison with a tought road ahead of him.

If Company E was worked hard, the Battery certainly labored double time and no canteen. But it was not long until it began to shape itself into a military outfit, and it left for the border with a knowledge of what soldiering is, although still was comparatively soft.

Arrive on Border.

Company E went to the border by way of East St. Louis, Ilmo, Little Rock, Texarkana, San Antonio and Kingsville. Near San Antonio the scenery began to change, and sage brush and mesquite appeared for the first time in the lives of the men who were to become personally acquainted with it to a remarkable txtent.

One rookie looked out of the window of the train.

"Say, fellows," he asked, "what's that queer looking bush?"

"Why, that's cactus," said the man who had lived in Arizona on his uncle's ranch.

"Cactus! Aw, fellows, look quick at the cactus."

Cactus—to quote the versatile Mr. Noah Webster—Pl, Cacti, a kind of prickly plant, a genus of plants, type of the family Cactaceae, consisting of about 300 species.

Mr. Webster is wrong. He didn't count all of them. For Texas boasts more than that number of varieties of the prickly plant.

Llano Grande was the stopping place. One night the train stopped and the guardsmen found that they were at the town of Mercedes (pronounced Mer-say-dees, the accent on the second syllable), and that they were but five miles from the Rio Grande. Three and a half miles further was Llano Grande (pronounced Yano Granday), where their "camp site was waiting."

That Camp Site.

In the first gray heat of the tropic morning they moved on, and in less than an hour were glad to tumble out of the sweaty coaches they had occupied for a week. In the blazing border morning they were marched across a little sandy space, past a blistered white ranch house, and were halted on the edge of a mesquite thicket. Now it isn't the mesquite that's thick in the mesquite thicket, it's the things that grow among the mesquite.

But before you proceed hear ye what is mesquite. It is a Mexican shrub or tree, gnarled, and with leaves like the fronds of a fern, of hard red wood and never growing more than about fifteen or eighteen feet high. And there's about as much shade under a mesquite as there is under a fishing pole.

In among the trees was cactus—or rather, were cacti—all three hundred varieties you read about in Webster's works and then the others thrown in for luck.

This place the boys of Company E were told to convert into a camp site.

That first day will remain clear and red and ugly in the mind of every man who answered the president's call. A sun overhead that was a torment, a wind that breathed with blazing intensity and seemed to make the heat more unbearable, and then a rain, a rain that fell and splattered little hot drops on the backs of the tender guardsmen.

The cactus had to be grubbed out, and the ax-handles and the pick-mattocks, helves and shovels were short, and the limbs of the cactus were long and every time one touched them he carried away a bitter, bleeding spot that was to be sore for weeks to come.

But did the boys of Company E whine and say it couldn't be done, that they were not in condition for such horrible toil in such a horrible land?

THEY DID NOT!

Night found Company E and the remainder of the First Indiana camped in temporary tentage beside its neighbors, the Second and Third Indiana, which had arrived a few days before. It was not a pleasant camping place, to be sure, but the tents—old state issue canvas that leaked badly—held off part of the rain and made a shelter for the weary guardsmen who sank on their blankets and sought sleep in the horrible, feverish, tropic night of early July.

At midday a thermometer in the shade of a mesquite touched 118, and even after dark it played about the hundred mark.

After a night of sweaty attempts to sleep the hot day broke, and the guardsmen began their second twenty-four hours of labor in the sands of lower Texas.

Where Is Llano Grande?

The Rio Grande, making the international boundary between the land of the Mex and the United States, swings southwest at a 45 degree angle from El Paso to the gulf, reaching that body of water just south of Point Isabel. Eighteen miles upstream from the mouth is situated the city of Brownsville, a town of 10,000 people, of whom less than 2,000 are white. The Gulf Coast railroad enters Brownsville from the north, and across the river lies Matamorus, historic Mexican town.

Twenty miles above Brownsville, at the town of Harlingen, a little stub end of a railroad runs west, striking the Rio Grande at San Fordyce. Half way along this line, at a point seventeen and a half miles from Harlingen, is situated a ranch house, and across the track from it a land agents' hotel, Casa Grandes, opened when tourist trains bring the home-suckers down from North Dakota.

Years ago it was a great bunch-grass level, unmarked by tree or shrub, and was called by the Mexican "Llano Grande," or great plain. Then the mesquite came up from the south and the cactus from the west, and soon the land was a tangle of plants that rip and stick and tear.

It was at this place, without a permanent white settlement, without a road, or a man who knew the English language, and only a few scattered Mexican 'dobe huts, that the Fort Wayne boys and 13,000 other guardsmen from Indiana, Minnesota, Nebraska, Oklahoma and Iowa were set down.

The River Guard.

Along the Rio Grande at this point there is no water except what is pumped out of the river. Land companies have built canals leading from gigantic pumps along the river, and the drinking water and irrigation and all water used for any purpose passes through the canals and up into the interior.

Settlers had fled north when the bandit raids began, and the scattered ranch houses and truck farms were deserted. Cotton gins were in ruins after bandit depredations, and sugar mills still smouldered from the effect of the bandit's torch.

Small detachments of regulars guarded the big pumps that supplied the water to Harlingen, LeFeria, Mercedes, Donna, Mission and McAllen, the towns along the railroad six miles back from the river. Ranch houses, in grave danger of looting, situated on the military road half a mile from the river, were practically unprotected.

These places were given the militiamen to guard. There were five, and later six stations to be guarded out of Llano Grande, and the Fort Wayne boys had their work ahead of them. Mercedes pump, Progresso, Champion's Store, Donna pump, San Juan Hacienda, and later the town of Donna itself, all were guarded by Llano Grande troops.

Major Clyde Driesbash, of Fort Wayne, was in command of the battalion on this guard at one time, and later Company E was sent to guard San Juan Hacienda (pronounced San Wan Hah-thee-ain-dah).

In a bare plain, a mile from the river, and twenty-two miles from Llano Grande, stands a ruined sugar mill. Here, as a guard to the mill and its surroundings, the San Juan station was occupied by the Fort Wayne boys.

Trenches were built in every direction, and a surprise attack either by bandits or an invading force was impossible. The tents were set up in the midst of the trenches, and here in the hot January sun and the cold rains of the "northers," as north-wind storms are called, they did their guard.

Trails led to the river, and up and down the desert borderland, and here in the sultry desert noons and in the cool of border moonlight Fort Wayne boys patrolled. Here when the Mexican sand storms broke in fury and made life a torment, when the Texas rains made the trails knee-deep in mud, when the sun blistered the skin or the cold norther chilled the wet guardsmen, Fort Wayne guarded Uncle Sam's backyard.

For six miles up and down stream these patrols marched, always watching for activity on the opposite shore, always on the sharp lookout for bandits, exposed to the worst climate the continent knows in one of the world's most desolate spots, Company E "did its bit."

And back in camp at Llano Grande, when the company was there, it was not a case of sitting by and waiting for something to happen. Mr. John Texas needed roads along his southern border, and it was up to the Indiana soldiers to do their share. Many were the stiff backs and many the man who dropped unconscious at their labor in those days of road building between Mercedes and Llano Grande. Ambulances in a long train went out to the road gang empty and came back loaded. It was terrible work and it left the men weary beyond all belief.

Then there were the days of drilling and the nights of regimental and camp guard, and the two days hikes and the sham battles, all of which contributed to the making of the soldier.

That Brownsville Hike.

In the great fifteen day hike and sham battle of the twenty-three thousand men in the "Brown" and "White" forces, that extended from Llano Grande to Point Isabel and back, the Indiana troops, and especially Company E, proved that they were no longer "untrained guardsmen," that they were no longer "rookies," but that they were soldiers, as fit and capable as the Twenty-six, or the Twenty-eighth, or the Thirty-sixth infantries of regular service. And Battery D, engaging in an artillery charge at Harlington, put on one of the most spectacular feats in the history of sham warfare.

And the last two days, with the troops under heavy marching orders on a road that was heavier still, the guardsmen marched thirty-five miles in thirty consecutive hours. Each day saw them seventeen and a fraction miles ahead of their camp ground of the night before. That was the feat—and the Indiana brigade marched at the head of the column—that caused the regulars to throw up the sponge and concede that the guardsmen were soldiers. That day when the bands struck up "The Viking," known along the border country as "Indianay" and considered by the troops the state song, when the brown tents of Llano Grande hove into view across the great east parade ground, Fort Wayne and Indiana soldiers stepped out steadily and boldly in the greatest military feat of peace times.

The troops learned to shoot—and Battery D developed into one of the best artillery units on the Palo Alta range, and they learned it as thoroughly as conditions would have permitted.

Fort Wayne has a right to be proud of her returning units. As a member of another regiment, and bound to the local company and battery only by Fort Wayne interests, the writer is willing to concede that the infantry and artillery units which called Fort Wayne their home, were the best trained, the most spirited, the best looking lot of soldiers among all the guards in the lower border country.

Turn out the guard! See the parade Tuesday night. Cheer the boys for the reputation they have made for their home town.

AT THE MAJESTIC.

Warfield Wednesday.

Under the direction of David Belasco and in the world renowned comedy-drama, "The Music Master," David Warfield, America's premier actor, will be seen at the Majestic theater Wednesday.

Of all the successes of Mr. Warfield's stellar career, this is far and away the greatest. Mr. Warfield has made the character of the music master, Herr Anton Von Barwig, all his own. Critics everywhere are a unit in the belief that it is in the class of Booth's "Hamlet" and Jefferson's "Rip Van Winkle." First produced in 1904, it ran for three full seasons on Broadway. This year Mr. Belasco revived it at the Knickerbocker theater, announcing an engagement of eight weeks. This was extended from time to time so that the run totalled twenty weeks, and during all this time there was scarcely a vacant seat in the theater. The company that has been appearing all season with Mr. Warfield will be seen here.

Zimbalist Making a Record.

When Efrem Zimbalist completes his engagement as soloist in the concerts of the annual spring tour of the New York Symphony orchestra, of which Walter Damrosch is conductor and director, the famous Russian violinist will have established a travel record for one season never approached by other concert artists. In the coast-to-coast trip that includes the principal cities of the country in its itinerary the artist will add more than 15,000 miles to his season's travels, making a total of nearly 20,000 miles since his first concert in October.

Brand New Way to Remove Hairy Growths
(Actually Removes Roots and All)

The vexed question of how to completely banish superfluous hair has been solved at last! By means of the new phelactine process, the hairs entire, roots and all, come out before your very eyes—easily, harmlessly, "quick as a wink." It is so different from the depilatory, electrical and shaving methods, you simply must try it to fully appreciate its remarkable advantages.

Phelactine is perfectly odorless, non-irritating, non-poisonous—a child could eat it without the least injury. It leaves the skin so soft, smooth and hairless, no one could tell you ever had a moustache or other hairy growth. If you will procure a stick of phelactine and follow the simple instructions, you will certainly be astonished and delighted with the result—or druggist will refund the price upon request.

SPRING OPENING AT MERGENTHEIM'S

Store is Beautifully and Artistically Decorated for the Occasion.

Mergentheim's millinery store has been beautifully and artistically decorated for the annual formal spring opening which started there Tuesday and will continue over Wednesday. Manager M. H. Cline and his assistants have been working night and day in an effort to make this spring opening surpass in beauty and display of latest hat styles any previous opening the store has ever had.

The entire store as well as the large display windows are cleverly decorated with Japanese lanterns, Japanese figures and landscapes that are thoroughly in accord with the various colored display of millinery and trimmings.

A new children's department has been added to the store and has been placed in the front of the building. In addition to the exquisite decorations for the opening, the management has secured the services of living models who will wear the millinery from their own workrooms or that selected by managemeent of the store. Mrs. C. A. orton, harpist, and Mr. T. Ciccone, violinist, will furnish the music for this afternoon, tomorrow afternoon and evening.

The large display windows of the store are gorgeously trimmed with Japanese lanterns, drapery, Japanese color schemes, and apple blossoms. The decorations and trimmings are the handiwork of Mr. Lawrence Hood, who is well known in Fort Wayne for his art work in all lines of display.

We want to urge every man who buys a new spring suit to come here and see our great showing of new spring models.

AT THE PALACE.

WAIT FOR THE PARADE.

New Palace Show Will Be Held This Evening.

The curtain will not rise this evening at the New Palace until after the patriotic parade in honor of the returned soldiers shall have disbanded. This decision was arrived at so as to insure all who wish to attend the show that they need not therefore miss the parade. Then, too, the New Palace employes want to be in on the salute to the returning guardsmen, who answered the call of the president nearly a year ago.

Japan has contributed the headline attraction to the current bill at the New Palace in the person of Mme. Sumiko and her four Geisha girls in a medley of operatic and American rag time airs. These diminutive lassies, bewitchingly pretty in their elaborately colored robes, sing American rag time as thought to the manner born. They have translated one of their songs from English into Japanese.

Lucy Gillett, the girl juggler, whose forte is her ability to combine exquisite feminine grace with every trick, no matter how difficult, is proving one of the varoites on the bill. Among the others on the program are Rottaino and Shelly in a classy singing and violin skit; Couty and Welch in their little farce, Mr. Flynn from Lynn; John and Herman Blondy in acrobatics de luxe, and Green, McHenry and Dean in comedy singing.

Basketball, Thursday night, at St. Paul auditorium, St. Paul Juniors vs. St. Mary's Cardinals; admission, 25c; preliminary at 8 o'clock.

WOMEN WIN DEBATE.

Decide That the Woman's Responsibility in Home Greater Than Man's.

At the social meeting of the congregation of Wayne street M. E. church, held in the church parlors Monday evening a debate on the subject "Resolved, That woman's responsibility in the house is greater than the man's," went to the affirmative side. Three women, members of Mrs. C. Claud Travis' Sunday school class had the affirmative side, while three members of the Men's Bible class attempted to refute their statements.

Several musical numbers completer the program. Vocal numbers by a trio were among these. Following the program, light refreshments were served. This was one one of a number of social sessions of the church members.

DEVOTION OF FORTY HOURS.

Solemn Opening at St. Mary's Church Takes Place Friday Morning.

Solmn opening of the devotion of the forthy hours takes place at St. Mary's Catholic church at 8 o'clock Friday morning, with Rt. Rev. Msger. John Oechtering, the celebrant at high mass. The sermon will be delivered by Rev. N. Steinbach, C. SS. R., a prominent Redemptionist missionary from St. Louis. Services will be held during the day Friday and Saturday. Sunday morning mass will be celebrated at 7:45 when the societies will receive holy communion, high mass at 10 o'clock, and the solemn closing in the evening at 7:45. The customary retreat of three days for the young people has been dispensed with this season. Many school children will participate in the solemn procession at the opening and closing of the forty hours.

SERMON ON CONVERSION.

Evangelist Hull Will Be Heard in Interesting Discourse Monday Evening.

"Conversion; How It Comes and What It Does," is the subject upon which Evangelist John Hull will speak at the West Creighton Avenue Church of Christ Tuesday evening. Rev. Hull's sermon on the subject is most powerful and interesting. Following the preaching, baptismal services will be held.

The services Monday were well attended and show that interest in the revivals is growing steadily. Two people united with the church as a result of the work done by the evangelist.

Only Guaranteed Gray Hair Restorer

HERE is the one, safe, cleanly, healthful and certain way to restore the natural color to gray or faded, lifeless hair—the one method in perfect good taste and accepted by America's foremost people.

Q-Ban Hair Color Restorer will bring all your hair back to its original, even shade, and it will be rich, glossy, lustrous and soft. For women, Q-Ban means hair of real beauty. For men and women Q-Ban means the look of vitality, health and youth.

Simply apply Q-Ban like a shampoo. Your hair will surely, gradually and evenly return to its natural, uniform shade. Beware of imitations. Beware, too, of dangerous dyes and chemicals.

Q-Ban is all ready to use. It is guaranteed to be as harmless as the pure air. It is sold under guarantee of "satisfaction or money back." It is the only guaranteed preparation for the purpose. It costs only 50c for a large bottle—at all good drug stores, or write Hessig-Ellis Drug Co., Memphis, Tenn.

Try Q-Ban Hair Tonic, Q-Ban Liquid Shampoo, Q-Ban Toilet Soap, also Q-Ban Depilatory (odorless), for removing superfluous hair. Send for Free, illustrated book of lectures, "Hair Culture." This tells how to take proper care of your hair. Write today.

LADIES! DARKEN YOUR GRAY HAIR

Use Grandma's Sage Tea and Sulphur Recipe and Nobody Will Know.

The use of Sage and Sulphur for restoring faded, gray hair to its natural color dates back to grandmother's time. She used to keep her hair beautifully dark, glossy and attractive. Whenever her hair took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect.

But brewing at home is mussy and out-of-date. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for a 50 cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get this famous old preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients, which can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, it becomes beautifully dark and glossy.

Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite for those who desire a more youthful appearance. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.—Advertisement.

FORT WAYNE CHAUTAUQUA.

Redpath Lyceum Under Auspices of University Club Will Give Program.

Arrangements are complete for a chautauqua to be given in Fort Wayne next July under the auspices of the University club. The Redpath Lyceum people are to furnish the speakers and the tent which will house 3,000 people. One of the interesting features will be an address to be given by Miss Jeanette Rankin, the first woman to be elected to the United States congress. Members and officers of the University club are particularly enthusiastic about the arrangements.

IMMENSE COLLAR AND SLEEVES FEATURE CLINGING BLOUSE.

FASHIONABLE FULLNESS IN SOFT BLOUSES.

BY BETTY BROWN.

New York, March 2?.—Georgette crepe, unstarched cottons and linens go to the making of the most artistic summer blouses. Poorly designed garments of soft stuff always look scant and skimpy. The best models are cut on very generous lines, as in today's illustration of a Lucille blouse.

The huge collar emphasizes the curve of the shoulders and the enormous bishop sleeves drape rather than conceal well-rounded arms.

WOODBURN NEWS.

HAIR COMING OUT?

Dandruff causes a feverish irritation of the scalp, the hair roots shrink, loosen and then the hair comes out fast. To stop falling hair at once and rid the scalp of every particle of dandruff, get a 25-cent bottle of Danderine at any drug store, pour a little in your hand and rub well into the scalp. After a few applications the hair stops coming out and you can't find any dandruff.—Advertisement.

CHILD GETS SICK CROSS, FEVERISH IF CONSTIPATED

"California Syrup of Figs" can't harm tender stomach or bowels.

A laxative today saves a sick child tomorrow. Children simply will not take the time from play to empty their bowels, which become clogged up with waste, liver gets sluggish; stomach sour.

Look at the tongue, mother! If coated or your child is cross, feverish, breath bad, restless, doesn't eat heartily, full of cold or has sore throat or any other children's ailment, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," then don't worry, because it is perfectly harmless, and in a few hours all this constipation poison, sour bile and fermenting waste will gently move out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. A thorough "inside cleansing" is oftimes all that is necessary. It should be the first treatment given in any sickness.

Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly printed on the bottle. Look carefully and see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company—Advertisement.

Knocks Obstinate Coughs in a Hurry

A Simple Home-Made Remedy that Gets at the Cause.

Thousands of people normally healthy in every other respect, are annoyed with a persistent hanging-on bronchial cough year after year, disturbing their sleep and making life disagreeable. It's so needless—there's an old home-made remedy that will end such a cough easily and quickly.

Get from any druggist "2½ ounces of Pinex" (50 cents worth), pour it into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup. Begin taking it at once. Gradually but surely you will notice the phlegm thin out and then disappear altogether, thus ending a cough that you never thought would end. It also promptly loosens a dry or tight cough, stops the troublesome throat tickle, soothes the irritated membranes that line the throat and bronchial tubes, and relief comes almost immediately. A day's use will usually break up an ordinary throat or chest cold, and for bronchitis, croup, whooping cough and bronchial asthma there is nothing better. It tastes pleasant and keeps perfectly.

Pinex is a most valuable concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, combined with guaiacol and is used by millions of people every year for throat and chest colds with splendid results.

To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with full directions and don't accept anything else. A guarantee of absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded goes with this preparation. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

ENGLISH LORD WEDS BROTHER'S WIDOW AND WILL SOON BECOME AMERICANS.

LADY GEORGE WELLESLEY.

A wedding of international interest took place when Lord George Wellesley of the English aviation corps and his late brother's widow, shown here, married in New York. After the war, the couple will become American citizens and live in the United States. Lord Wellesley is fourth son of th Duke of Wellington and great-grandson of the victor of Waterloo.

GYPSY QUEEN WILL RETURN FOR JUSTICE

Has Gone from Fort Wayne, But Not Forever, She Said.

Alma Lorrel, the dark-eyed gypsy queen, has disappeared from Fort Wayne as suddenly as she arrived, two weeks ago. She dare not return to her race of roving folk since she associated with Earl Reed, 29, who roomed at 1345 Sherman street, she declared. Where she has gone nobody in Fort Wayne knows.

A sister-in-law of Reed's in whose home she stayed while in Fort Wayne, after her thrilling escape from the vigilance of her parents, in Columbus, Ohio, in order to be with Reed, has only her statement, made the day before she fairly vanished from the home:

"I don't get justice now. I come back some day for justice," Alma said, and her black eyes snapped fire.

Police court attaches who heard of the girl's statement have visions of a flashing dagger and a small dark figure fleeing down a black alleyway. They fear for Reed's safety and say so frankly. Possibly the gypsy woman will secure the aid of other members of her nomad, wild-hearted family in seeking vengeance on the man who she says she loves.

But Alma was not in police court, Tuesday morning and Judge Kerr dismissed the case in which Reed is charged with enticing a woman into improper relations. Reed's attorney says: "That is the last of the case." But is it?

Mostly Accidental.

Tim Tinsley, who recently returned with his wife from Oklahoma, was in a bad mood Monday night, it is charged. He broke glasses and wrecked a trunk in the rooming house on Montgomery street, where he and his wife were staying, it was claimed.

Tinsley pleaded guilty to the disorderly charge, but said that his disastrous attitude was largely accidental. He just chanced to let a large, cut-glass dish crash to the floor and he did not mean to wreck the trunk when he was getting some articles of wearing apparel from it, he told. His case was continued until Wednesday, when version of the landlady as to just how much of Tinsley's destructiveness was caused by accident, will be given.

Will Leave City.

Oscar Shaw and Gertrude Busher, said to be man and wife, will move their few belongings from a Baker street rooming house and leave Fort Wayne at once. So they promised Judge Kerr.

Shaw was charged with taking money from an expressman whom he is claimed to have taken to his Baker street apartment. The woman told that Shaw is not her husband and that he had induced her to come here from Ohio. Misstatements were made by both the man and woman. The easiest way for Fort Wayne to solve the general tangle was to send the pair out of town, Judge Kerr thought.

Other Police Court Cases.

William Parry, plumber, charged with assault and battery on a woman, will be tried on Thursday. A compromise between Parry and the husband of the woman, who claimed that Parry assaulted her, is expected.

Mathew Rubner, charged with disorderly conduct, will be tried on Wednesday. Fred Carlton was released after pleading guilty to a loitering charge.

Cases of public intoxication were William Lennon, colored, fined $5; Robert Boyne, colored, $1; John Brown, $5; J. A. Williams, $5; Charles Moran, $5, and William Barnwell, released.

NEW RUSSIA IS CREATED

Tyranny Endured and Bad Faith in War Stood to Breaking Point.

London, March 20.—The following manifesto has been issued by the Russian provisional government to the nation, according to Reuter's Petrograd correspondent.

"Citizens: The great work has been accomplished. By a powerful stroke the Russian people have overthrown the old regime. A new Russia is born. The coup d'etat has set the keystone upon long years of struggle.

"Under pressure of awakened national forces, the act of October 30, 1905, promised Russia constitutional liberties which were never put into execution. The first duma, the mouthpiece of national wishes, was dissolved. The second duma met the same fate and the government, being powerless to crush the national will, decided by the act of June, 16, 1907, to deprive the people of part of the legislative rights promised them.

Lost All Rights They Had Won.

"During the ensuing ten years, the government successfully withdrew from the people all the rights they had won. The country was again thrown into the abyss of absolute ruin and administrative arbitrariness. All attempts to make the voice of reason heard were vain and the great world struggle into which the country was plunged, found itself face to face with moral decadence and power not united with the people—power indifferent to the country's destinies, and steeped in vices and infamy.

"The heroic efforts of the army, crushed under the cruel weight of internal disorganization, the appeals of the national representatives who were united in view of the national danger, were powerless to lead the emperor and his government into the path of union with the people. Thus, when Russia, by the illegal and disastrous acts of her governor was faced with the greatest disasters the people had to take the power into their own hands.

Unanimous for Revolution.

"With unanimous revolutionary spirit, the people, fully realizing the seriousness of the moment and the firm will of the duma, established a provisional government, which considers that it is their sacred duty to realize national desires and lead the country into the bright path of free civil organization. The government believes that the lofty spirit of patriotism that the people have shown in the struggle against the old regime also will animate our gallant soldiers on the battle fields.

"On its side the government will do its utmost to provide the army with everything necessary to bring the war to a victorious conclusion. The government will faithfully observe all alliances uniting us to other powers and all agreements made in the past. While taking measures indispensible for the defense of the country against a foreign enemy the government will consider it is its first duty to grant to the people every facility to express its will concerning political administration and will convoke as soon as possible a constituent assembly on the basis of universal suffrage at the same time assuring the gallant defenders of the country their share in the parliamentary elections. The constituent assembly will issue fundamental laws guaranteeing the country the immutable rights of quality and liberty.

Liberty and Equality.

"Concious of the burden of the political oppression weighing on the country and hindering the free creative forces of the people during years of painful hardships, the provisional government deems it necessary even before the constituent assembly to announce to the country its principles, assuring political liberty and equality to all citizens making free use of their spiritual forces in creative work for the benefit of the country. The government also will take care to elaborate the principles assuring all citizens uparticipation in communal elections which will be carried out on a basis of universal suffrage.

"At the moment of national emancipation the whole country recalls with Pious gratitude those who in the struggle for their political and religious ideas fell victims of the vengeance of the old power and the provisional government will joyfully bring back from exile and prison all those who thus suffered for the good of their country.

"In realizing these problems, the provisional government believes it is executing the national will and that the whole people will support it in its efforts to ensure the happiness of Russia."

KUCHER IS NAMED.

Theophile J. Kucher has been appointed deputy oil inspector for Fort Wayne by Carl H. Mote, the newly appointed chief inspector. Kucher will succeed Pat Bresnahan, who had been holding that position for the children of the late Tom Bresnahan, who was originally slated for the appointment. The new inspector was deputy controller under Mayor Grice.

ABLE TO RETURN HOME.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lee, who were operated upon three weeks ago at St. Joseph hospital, will return to their home, 1203 St. Mary's avenue, the latter part of the week.

TO ATTEND FUNERAL OF FIREMAN IN BODY

Council to Order Respects to Deceased Fire Fighter, Tuesday Night.

City council, assembled as a committee of the whole Tuesday evening, will ask all city officials to arrange to attend, in a body, the funeral of George W. Jasper, for twenty-three years a city fireman and who died suddenly Tuesday morning. Resolutions of respect for the valiant assistant chief will be ordered drawn up in behalf of the city by the council body.

Councilmen will meet, with all other officials, at the corner of Harrison and Wayne streets at 7 o'clock Tuesday evening to take part in the patriotic parade. After the demonstration of national loyalty the council members will go to the city hall for a special session of the committee of the whole.

Topic of business is whether the salaries of waterworks employes shall be raised. Councilmen have varied views on the subject. Some of the members believe that the waterworks men are being paid sufficient at this time. Others think that they should have been given a raise along with police and firemen. It is expected that increase for waterworks employes will be allowed.

SHOWS PLANS.

Fine Organization in New Bowser Office Building.

S. F. Bowser laid plans for the new five story office building, which will stand at the southeast corner of Creighton and Bowser avenues, and upon which work will start soon, before the members of the board of works Monday afternoon. The structure, in connection with the Bowser Tank works, will be one of the most completely organized office structures in the middle west.

Rest room, kitchen, restaurant, first aid department for employes who may meet with slight accidents while about their work, will be included in the building. Creighton avenue is to be widened ten feet in front of the building in order that automobiles may be parked before the structure without congesting traffic.

Building Permits.

Building permits were issued to L. M. Bauer to build frame residence, 1205 California avenue, $3,500; Railroaders Realty company, construct dwelling, 2317 North Clinton street, $3,000; Joseph Bundy, dwelling, 1827 Alabama avenue, $2,500; J. F. Dennis, repair house, 2350 Gay street, $500, and Fort Wayne House Wrecking company, build temporary shed, North Clinton street, $350.

File Expenses.

Latest candidates in the recent primary election to file their expense accounts were: Frank H. Kleekamp, democrat, candidate for city judge, $82; W. J. Whitman, republican, candidate for council from Ninth ward, $9.75, and F. J. Schwanz, democrat, candidate for councilman at large, $14.50.

Birth Record.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Osterman, 1115 Hench street—a girl.

To Mr. and Mrs. William Warner, 1616 Erie street—a boy.

To Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hedeen, 916 Liberty street—a boy.

To Mr. and Mrs. William H. Thompson, 348 Melita street—a girl.

Contagion Report.

Jack Bendiere, aged two years, 809 Archer avenue, suffers from attack of scarlet fever, the health department has been notified.

Water Turned On.

Water from the No. 2 pumping station was turned into the city mains Monday night. Water from the No. 2 system has been pronounced "satisfactory" by J. C. Diggs, state chemist.

Bowser Buys Lots.

S. F. Bowser company purchased the lot offered for sale by the city on Tuesday. The lot, located on Reed street, had been originally purchased for a fire engine site for the Tenth ward.

To Talk Subway.

Assistant Superintendent Currier, of the New York Central lines, will be in Fort Wayne Wednesday morning to discuss plans for elevating the New York Central tracks over Elizabeth street. Meeting of Mayor Hosey and members of the works board has been called for conference with Currier at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning.

LINCOLN HIGHWAY FARMHOUSE DAMAGED

The farm house of Mrs. August Racine, situated on the Lincoln highway, three miles from the city, and less than a hundred yards from the new Lincoln school, was damaged by a roof fire at noon Tuesday. Firemen from Central engine house in a motor truck made the run to the place and extinguished the blaze before the loss amounted to $50. Reports in the city to the effect that the Lincoln school was on fire caused many motorists to make hurry-up runs to the place.

IN SERIOUS CONDITION.

Cyrus M. Miller, a farmer of Pleasant township and a brother to Assessor Edwin Miller, is in a serious condition at St. Joseph's hospital suffering from what is believed to be blood poisoning. His hand was injured a few days ago as the result of a gasoline engine explosion.

W.L. ENLIST WOMEN IN THE NAVAL SERVICE

Washington, March 20.—Secretary Daniels today ordered naval commandants at shore stations and all recruiting officers to be prepared to enlist women in the actual naval service, in case of an emergency.

The judge advocate general has ruled that women can be enlisted under the laws regulating recruiting. While it is not intended to place women aboard ships they may be utilized for shore duty in connection with coast defense. Grades corresponding to the yeomen class will be given to those qualifying as stenographers, clerks, typists or similar positions. Training in camps, a number of which have been organized under the auspices of the navy league also will be recognized by navy officials as a factor in choosing the women recruits. Another grade which may be designed is that of radio telegraphy and other communication divisions. Difficulty in obtaining men stenographers from the regular enlisted personnel caused the question of women's employment to be taken up.

COAL MINERS TO GET INCREASE OF WAGES

Columbus, O., March 20.—Ohio mine operators are holding a joint conference with the executive board of mine workers of Ohio here today to consider the proposition of granting to the miners a 10 per cent increase in wages effective April 1, on account of the high cost of living. If Ohio operators grant the increase or bonus, it is said, other states in the central competitive field including Indiana, Illinois and western Pennsylvania, may do likewise. Any increase that is granted would be entirely voluntary and outside of the present wage contract, which does not expire until March 31, 1918. The meeting here today is only for Ohio operators and miners.

CZAR ATTEMPTED TO STEM REVOLUTION

Tokio, March 17, 7:30 a. m.—(Delayed.)—According to information received here from Russia the Russian emperor was on a train outside of Petrograd when the revolution took place. He sent General Ivanhoff into the capital to rally the troops to the imperial defense but the general found the soldiers had gone over to the revolutionists and that the emperor's cause was hopeless. It is believed here that any grave disorder in Russia is unlikely unless the former emperor provokes internal war in an effort to regain his throne. The foreign office has been advised that the revolution has removed any danger of a separate peace between Germany and Russia.

VAST RUSH TO GET SUBMARINE CHASERS

Washington, D. C., March 20.—Th Orleans navy yard was today ordered to build at once four submarine chasers. The New York yard yesterday was ordered to build sixty.

The department had called upon all navy yards fitted to undertake small boat construction to submit estimates as to the number of submarine chasers they can turn out quickly. The Mare Island, Portsmouth, Boston, Charleston and other yards probably will be assigned to construction of chasers to the full extent of their capacity. It is possible that the construction of 150 or 200 chasers may be provided for in this way in addition to 200 or more to be offered tomorrow from private builders. The chasers are designed to do 35 knots and will be equipped with triple propellers and full capacity for long cruising radius.

MISSING MEN OF MEMPHIS HEARD FROM

New York, March 20.—A cablegram telling of the arrival at Glasgow, Scotland, of the missing eight officers and ten of the crew of the American freight steamship City of Memphis, sunk last week in the German submarine zone off the British Isles, was received here today by W. H. Pleasants, president of the Ocean Steamship company, of Savannah, owners of the vessel. With the safety of these men assured, it becomes certain that the destruction of the City of Memphis involved no loss of American lives. The cablegram received here today was sent from Glasgow by Captain L. P. Borum of Norfolk, master of the lost freighter, and reads: "Memphis sunk seventeenth. Ship's boats separated during night. Three boats containing 49 men reported landed Irish coast. Myself and remaining landed Glasgow. Trying to assemble crew." Some hours after the freighter was sunk the life boat which was known to have contained the captain and seven companions, was found empty at sea and it had been surmised that the men had either been taken aboard the German submarine, or had been rescued by a ship not carrying wireless. The owners here are without information as to how the men reached Glasgow.

HAVE NEW PLAN TO DISTRIBUTE PAPER

Trade Commission Working on System to Avoid Unfairness.

Washington, March 20.—The trade commission plans to revise the sale and distribution of newsprint paper through a board which will represent all interests concerned. The board, to be named as soon as a price fixing pool proposed by the manufacturers finally is arranged, will comprise five members, one each from the manufacturers, large publishers, small publishers and the trade commission. The trade commission representative will operate the pool from offices in New York. Other members of the board will serve in an advisory capacity and their powers will be purely ministerial.

Manufacturers who have been accused of intimidating publishers into remaining out of the price fixing arrangements have, it is understood, assured the committee, if there should be any intimidation, subordinates have been responsible and officers of the companies themselves have not countenanced it. Members of the trade commission, just back from New York, where they urged on publishers the necessity for strict economy in the use of newsprint, say the war situation threatened a new condition in which the newsprint demand threatenes to cripple production.

READY TO ARRAIGN 150 INDICTED MEN

Indianapolis, Ind., March 20.—More than 150 indicted recently by the federal grand jury, charged with violations of the election laws in some manner, are to be arraigned tomorrow in the United States district court before Judge A. B. Anderson. The filing of a demurrer to the indictments is expected on the part of the lawyers representing at least some of the defendants. The indicted men will come from Evansville, Frankfort, Gary and Indianapolis.

SAFETY FIRST WORK IN MINES.

Washington, March 20.—Circulars in foreign languages and embodying lessons in first aid to the injured are to be distributed by the bureau of mines in furtherance of its safety first campaign among the million miners in the United States. The first of a series of circulars has been issued in Italian, Polish and Slovak. In announcing the plan, Secretary Lane said: "It is not only an additional effort toward safety of the miners but is also a step in the line of good citizenship."

CONGRESS HAS FULL POWERS IN RAIL STRIKE

New York, March 20.—Full power by the government through congress to prevent railroad strikes, in the opinion of the railroads, as expressed here today, is the country's chief gain from the decision by the United States supreme court yesterday upholding the Adamson act. An official spokesman for the national conference committee of railroad managers authorized the following statement:

"The chief thing that the country has gained out of this decision is that it establishes beyond doubt that the government through congress has full power to prevent railroad strikes. The opinion as read makes it plain that employes of interstate carriers, because of the public character of the railroads, are affected with a public interest and they have no more right to strike and tie up the commerce of the country than have soldiers and sailors.

"It is understood that Secretary Lane who was chiefly instrumental in bringing about the settlement, believes that this broad opinion from the court as to the public duties of the employes is the most important thing gained."

WAR BRIEFS

Berlin, March 20.—Via Sayville—There were several engagements of infantry and cavalry detachments yesterday between British and German forces in the territory on both sides of the river Somme, and the river Oise, abandoned by the Germans, according to the official statement issued today yby the army headquarters staff.

The French yesterday and last night directed violent attacks against the German positions on the left bank of the Meuse, the statement adds, but everywhere were repulsed.

Paris, March 20.—12:30 p. m.—The war office announces that the French are still maintaining contact with the Germans along the section of the front over which the retirement is taking place but that the advance has become more difficult by the reason of absence of all communication and bad weather. German attacks at Avercourt wood and Hill 304 on the Verdun front, were repulsed. Serious loss was inflicted on the Germans.

St. John, N. B., March 20.—Sinking of the British steamer Bray Head, by a German submarine March 14, was announced in cable advices received by local agents today from the owners of the vessel at Belfast, Ireland. Captain Hoy and seventeen members of the crew, the message said, were missing.

Amsterdam, March 20.—Via London, 8 a. m.—A telegram received here from Frankfort-on-The-Main says that on March 16 a hostile airplane flew over the town and dropped six small bombs, one of which slightly damaged the roof of a house. The others fell in the river or in fields and caused no damage. The airplane was fired on by anti-aircraft guns. The French war office announced on Saturday that Frankfort-on-The-Main had been bombarded by a French airplane in reprisal for the setting afire of Bapaume.

HOLLAND IS FACING A THORNY COURSE

The Hague, March 17.—Via London, March 20, 4 a. m.—(Delayed)—Government officials are at work on the thorny problems of the admission of armed merchant men to Dutch ports but no official statement as to Holland's attitude was obtainable today. It is understood that so far, there is no divergence from the stand point laid down in the neutrality proclamation of August, 1914, by which all belligerent warships or their equivalents are barred from Dutch ports.

In the event of war being declared between the United States and Germany the attitude of the Dutch government is still problematical.

Third Advertised Letting of State Street Bridge Brings No Results.

Being of the opinion that a heavier bridge was needed at this point than was shown by the plans of the National Concrete company, the board of commissioners rejected all bids for the State street bridge at the third advertised letting of the contract, Tuesday afternoon at 2:40 o'clock.

The National Concrete company, of Indianapolis, was the only firm which submitted a bid at this letting. The bid which they submitted was for $64,000. The appropriation for this bridge by the county was $77,000.

It was brought out in the executive session of the commissioners that the State street bridge would be nearly as large as the Harrison street bridge which cost approximately $71,000,000 at which time the cost of material and labor were fifty to one hundred per cent. lower than it is now. The Laten plans upon which the National Concrete company based its bid, called for a bridge which would be much lighter than the Coombs street bridge.

A lare number of interested parties waited from ten o'clock Tuesday morning until in the afternoon for the decision of the commissioners.

HAD $500 ON PERSON.

Court Orders Nick Lapidot to Deposit Amount With Clerk.

Two weeks ago Flora Lapidot sued Nick Lapidot for divorce and also asked that an order be given the First National bank restraining it from paying out the $700 which he had deposited there. Nick, however, learned that his wife had sued him for divorce and he drew out the money before the restraining order was issued. It was discovered that he had gotten away with the money and was making plans to make his exit from the city. He was caught and was found to have $500 on his person. Tuesday morning Judge Eggeman, of the circuit court, ordered that he pay seven dollars a week for the support of his wife and that the five hundred dollars be deposited with the county clerk.

BROKE ALL THE DISHES.

Marguerite Piepenbrink Sets This Forth in Divorce Complaint.

Complaining that at one time when he came home he broke up all the dishes in the house, destroyed his stepson's bed and broke a number of pieces of furniture, Marguerite Piepenbrink has sued Carl Piepenbrink for divorce. The plaintiff also alleges that the defendant is cruel and inhuman and that at various times he kicked the plaintiff. The complaint further sets forth that the defendant often times becomes intoxicated at which times he is violent and abusive. She asks for an absolute divorce. Byron Hayes is the plaintiff's attorney.

CALLED HIM NAMES.

Joseph Adams Says Wife Did Not Use Decent Language.

Joseph Adams has sued Lucy Adams for divorce. In his complaint he sets forth that she called him vile and indecent names which were of such a nature that they could not be set forth in print. The plaintiff further alleges that the fedenfant often times boasted of her conduct with other men and would tell him of her association with them. He asks that the court grant him the custody of a minor child, Howard Adams, aged four months. Hartzell and Todd are his attorneys.

Asks for $1,000.

John Place has sued Grant S. Smith on complaint on an account for wages. He asks that the court give him a judgment for $1,000. C. P. Squires is the attorney for the plaintiff.

Want Flag Poles.

Trustee Hamilton, of Wayne township, has made appeals for flag poles for the various schools in the township. He states that he would be more than willing to supply the needs if there was any money available. He states that if he erects a flag staff and secures a flag for one school that he intends to do it for all the schools.

Will Remove Cast.

C. J. Hutchins, county agent, was at the office Tuesday morning and stated that he intends to remove the cast from his leg in a few days. He states that the injury does not give him any pain.

Agree to Settle.

After the jury had set two hours the Adams township highway case was settled out of court, Monday afternoon. There was only $200 difference between the plaintiffs and the defendants and a compromise was made in some way.

Case Set for Trial.

The case of Andrew Rudowski against George Lloyd has been set for trial by jury for April 18. This is a damage suit for $2,500.

Dismisses Case.

Court Notes.

A change of venue was taken to the DeKalb county court in the case of Hockworth against Hockworth.

The jail gang was working on the roads at Huntertown, Monday.

Margaret Wilson was granted a divorce from James Wilson and her maiden name of Brown was restored.

TAKEN SERIOUSLY ILL.

E. J. Druley, of this city, who went to Chicago several days ago on a business trip, was taken seriously ill with pneumonia soon after his arrival, and his brother, T. J. Druley, of Walsh and company, was called to his bedside. He is somewhat improved.

CONCORDIA CEMETERY ASSOCIATION ELECTS

Directors Order Work to Begin Soon on Beautification.

Eighteen members of the board of directors of the Concordia Cemetery association met in regular session at St. Paul's Lutheran school hall Monday evening and elected officers for the coming year. Paul Wolf was named president; Charles Scherer, vice president; Fred Landenberger, secretary; August Freese, financial secretary and treasurer, and William Doehrman, Otto Banks and Henry Franke, trustees.

The board of directors ordered that the work on the beautification of the grounds begin as soon as the weather permits. Many changes will be effected and everything will be done in the way of making the cemetery have a very attractive and beautiful appearance.

It is planned to have many new trees and shrubs planted around the edge of the grounds and large flower beds will be placed in the grounds along the driveway and walks. A new walk will also be built.

RUSSIA LIKELY TO BECOME REPUBLIC

Government to Rest for Present With Council of Ministers.

Petrograd, March 19.—Via London, March 20.—Russia's government, it was learned at the foreign office today, will rest exclusively in the control of the council of ministers until the convocation of the constitutional assembly. The duma committee has fulfilled its task as temporary governing body during the days of the revolution and thus will pass out of existence as the chief executive body of the government.

It is impossible as yet to forecast with any certainty the final form the government will assume since it will depend entirely upon the collective will of the entire people. The belief prevails in official circles that the opinion of the country will be found to favor a republican form of government, not under a president, but under a commission similar to the governing body of Switzerland. If this becomes an eventuality, it is not unlikely that from the present cabinet, containing the most popular leaders in the country, will be drawn the principal names of the commission which will govern the country.

In any event the old regime is dead, the foreign office today informed the Associated Press, and nothing can resurrect it. If the people decide upon a monarchy it will be a monarchy of the most limited type and the monarch will be stripped of all the traditional powers which belonged to the emperor and he will be little more than ruler in name only. The foreign office reiterated the declaration already made by the new government concerning the liberty and full rights for all the races which are component parts of the nation, and it was stated since this was applicable to Jews, as well as others, nothing now stood in the way of a new commercial treaty with the United States.

NEW REGIME TAKES WELL IN FINLAND

London, March 20.—Nearly all the district governors and officials in Finland voluntarily resigned when they heard of the revolution and little opposition was shown anywhere towards the new order of things, according to a Copenhagen dispatch to Reuter's, quoted in the Beroinske Tindinde. M. Roditcheff's appointment as the governor of Finland is said to have proved popular as he is known as a staunch advocate of Finnish aspirations. The prisoners in the fortress at Uleaborg have been liberated and the governor and police dismissed.

SEALERS IN CONVENTION.

Indianapolis, Ind., March 20.—The sixth annual conference of state, county and city inspectors of weights and measures opened here today with an address by Governor Goodrich. Dr. H. E. Barnard, state commissioner of weights and measures, discussed the new legislation on weights and measures. Annual reports and a question box occupied the remainder of the time of the opening session. Addresses and discussions of various questions of interest to the weight and measure inspectors were on the afternoon program.

PRETTY DETAIL OF AVIATOR'S FUNERAL

New York, March 20.—Twelve pupils of Peter Carl Millman, 22, one of the government's most capable aviation instructors, will fly over his grave tomorrow and drop flowers at the conclusion of Millman's funeral. Millman died Sunday night of pneumonia after five years' experience as an aviator and many spectacular flights without a serious accident.

NEWS OF FORT WAYNE'S NEIGHBORS

KIDNAPED CHILD IS FOUND BY MOTHER

Boy Placed in Catholic School by Father Missing Since November.

Warsaw, Ind., March 20.—Johnnie O'Leary, who has been missing from his home in Chicago since November 25, has been located at the St. Michael's academy at Plymouth. Saturday the boy ran out of the school into the arms of his mother and a big automobile whirled them away to Chicago.

The boy left his home on November 25 to go to the St. Lawrence Catholic church where he met his father, John O'Leary, and his aunt, Mrs. Sadie Killian. The father asked his son to accompany them, saying they were going to a ball game. At first the boy refused but finally consented. He was then told he was to have a good education and soon he was taken to the academy at Plymouth.

For months the boy received no word from his mother and many tearful nights followed. On Valentine's day the boy received a valentine inscribed "From Mother," but while at Plymouth the woman stated she had not sent the message.

Mrs. O'Leary was granted a divorce Friday in Chicago. On the same day she received a letter that Johnnie had managed to smuggle out of the school by another boy. The judge gave the woman the custody of the child and as soon as she learned of his whereabouts she hurried to Plymouth to get her boy.

TWO ROBBERIES.

Young Farmer Is Held Up South of Van Wert.

Van Wert, O., March 20.—George Grunewald, who lives about three miles south of town, on the Washington street road, was held up and robbed late Saturday night, while walking from town to his home. He met a horse and buggy on the road and when the outfit drew up to him, two men leaped out and by force relieved him of about $13 in money and a gold ring. The young man was so badly frightened that he did not report the robbery to the officers until Sunday morning, consequently the search for the thieves was greatly retarded.

The office of the Northern Grain Co., on Bonnewitz avenue, was burglarized Sunday night. Entrance was gained by forcing a lock. An examination failed to disclose anything missing. The officers are of the opinion that the burglary was the work of a boy.

PIONEER EDITOR DEAD.

J. W. Armstrong Succumbs at Home in Leesburg.

Leesburg, Ind., March 20.—James W. Armstrong, of this place, one of the pioneers and most prominent men of Kosciusko county, died at his home shortly after 7 o'clock Sunday morning following a sudden attack of acute indigestion. He was 82 years old.

Mr. Armstrong had been in remarkably good health, considering his advanced age and was not seriously ill until taken with the attack of indigestion about 1 o'clock Sunday morning, when physicians were summoned, but his condition grew gradually worse until the end, shortly after 7 o'clock.

SCHOOL BUILDING ENTERED.

Decatur, Ind., March 20.—It is very seldom that boys break into school. But that is what happened at the central school building, presumably Friday night. They pried open a window in a lower room; then pried open the door of the office of Superintendent M. F. Worthman with a crowbar, leaving prints on the floor and gaining entrance, broke open his desk. Only a few pennies were the total of the money in the desk. They turned everything topsy turvy, however, and a few papers, of value to no one except the owner of the desk, are missing. In leaving, the boys, for the burglars are believed to be boys, broke open a side door.

SEPARATE AFTER 7 MONTHS.

Auburn, Ind., March 20.—Mrs. Pearl Forsyth, who for the past six months has resided in the neighborhood of Garrett, has filed a suit for divorce from her husband, Paul Forsyth, in the DeKalb circuit court. The present residence of her husband is unknown, and affidavit is made in the case that he is a non-resident of Indiana. In her complaint Mrs. Forsyth alleges that she and her husband were married June 23, 1915, and separated about February 2 or 3, 1916. Cruel and inhuman treatment is given as the cause why she should have a divorce from her husband.

GIVEN BAD FRIGHT.

Bluffton, Ind., March 20.—Miss Desdalora Brunn, daughter of Charles Brunn, and an operator at the United telephone exchange, was given a bad fright shortly before 10 o'clock, when an unknown man grabbed her arm and then, when she broke away from him, followed her to within a short distance of her home at the corner of Williams and Ohio streets. The man met up with her near the Venis shoe shop on Johnson street and near the Presbyterian church he grabbed her arm. Miss Brunn started to run and he continued behind her until she was within a half block of her home.

FOSTER IS FINED.

Auburn, Ind., March 20.—R. E. Foster, proprietor of the poolroom on the south side of the public square in Auburn, was fined $5 and costs in the court of Mayor McClellan for a bad case of intoxication Saturday night. This is the second aggravated offense of this kind for Foster in the past few months, and the mayor made it plain to him that the third time would mean the limit at the state penal farm.

START SECOND MURDER TRIAL

John C. Spahr Again Being Tried for Killing Arrel Littler at Markle.

Huntington, Ind., March 20.—The second trial of John C. Spahr, former section foreman of the Erie at Markle, on a charge of murder began in the circuit court Monday morning before Clifford F. Jackman, special judge. The first task was the selection of a jury to hear the evidence of the killing of Arrel Littler on the evening of October 9, 1916.

Al Forst, who had served on the grand jury which indicted Spahr, was excused on that ground and Frank Christy, of Warren, was excused for personal reasons before the jury box was filled. The first twelve men to enter the jury box were George Gill, M. L. Vickery, E. E. Fisher, Peter Wendell, Henry Houser, Elmer Settlemyre, John Strobel, Frank Knight, Frank Strauss, A. Wasmuth, Elijah Thompson and Adam Shenkel.

In answers to Milo Feightner for the defense, Frank Strauss and Elijah Thompson said they had opinions concerning the case. Henry Houser asked the court to excuse him from jury duty on the ground that the law firm of Bowers & Feightner was in his employ, and he would feel embarrassed to serve as a juror. Mr. Houser said, in answer to questions, that despite this fact, if he was chosen as a juror, he thought he could, and would, weigh the evidence entirely free from any bias or prejudice.

The state challenged Mr. Houser for cause, and the defense objected. Judge Jackman sustained the objection, and the state finally asked if Mr. Houser had any conscientious scruples against inflicting the death penalty. He said he had, and the court sustained the challenge for cause.

Dan Andrew was the prospective juror who took Mr. Houser's place.

Wolcottville Girl Well Remembered by Her Step-Father.

Kendallville, Ind., March 20.—Miss Ruth Zoll Hammer, 18, a senior in the Wolcottville high school, and one of the charming young ladies of that town, has fallen heir to a fortune aggregating $21,500 and possibly more. She becomes an heiress by provisions of the will of the late Royal Hammer, of Indianapolis. Miss Zoll was an adopted daughter of Hammer's wife, with whom she had resided until the former's death.

Four thousand dollars in gold and $2,500 in silver were found in two safe deposit boxes owned by Royal Hammer, who committed suicide on March 9 in Crown Hill cemetery at Indianapolis. They were opened several days ago by John C. McCloskey, inheritance tax appraiser. The will also bequeaths $15,000 in real estate to Miss Hammer.

Stock certificates found in the boxes are largely mining certificates and are not thought to be of great value, although an appraisement has not been made.

WRECK ON BIG FOUR.

Warsaw, Ind., March 20.—F. A. Miller, traveling freight agent of the Big Four railroad, miraculously escaped death shortly before noon yesterday when two freight cars and a caboose were crushed almost to splinters as they struck an open switch near the east shore of Center lake. The loss resulting from the wreck will reich in the neighborhood of $3,500, according to estimates. One freight car now lies in the lake, one car was overturned and lies at the side of the track and the caboose in which Mr. Miller was riding is a complete wreck.

INDICTMENT QUASHED.

Auburn, Ind., March 20.—A motion to quash was sustained and the indictment dismissed in the DeKalb circuit court Monday in the case of the State against Nie Sheffer, charged with unlawfully mortgaging his personal property to defraud his creditors. Prosecuting Attorney J. R. Nyce will file another affidavit against Sheffer charging him with the same offense.

MOVIE ACTRESSES AND THEIR HAIR

Did it ever occur to you that every movie actress you have seen has lovely hair, while the most popular count their curls as their chief beauty? In fact, many are leading ladies just because of their attractive locks. Inquiry among them discloses the fact that they bring out all the natural beauty of their hair by careful shampooing, not with any soap or makeshift, but with a simple mixture by putting a teaspoonful of canthrox (which they get from the druggist) in a cup of water and applying this instead of soap. This full cup of shampoo liquid is enough so it is easy to apply it to all the hair instead of just the top of the head. After its use, the hair dries rapidly with uniform color. Dandruff, excess oil and dirt are dissolved and entirely disappear. The hair is so fluffy that it looks much heavier than it is, while its lustre and softness is delightful.—Advertisement.

FORT WAYNE BOWLER IS SENSATION IN SINGLES AT A. B. C. TOURNEY

Shoots 693 in Singles at the Grand Rapids A. B. C. Tournament.

Grand Rapids, Mich., March 20.—By narrowly missing the head pin in the tenth frame of his final game in the singles of the American Bowling Congress here yesterday, G. W. (Bill) May, of Fort Wayne, and a member of the Schieffer-Paiges, was cut out of first place and missed breaking the world's record in three-game singles.

May landed five pins behind Otto Kallusch, who is leading. He started striking in the third frame and went all the way through to the tenth frame without a miss. In the last he just scraped the head pin, leaving it standing with three others and lost his chance at the record and the lead. May's final score was 693, while the high man has a count of 698, and the record as shot by W. B. Pierce, of Pueblo, Colo., stands at 711. Four other Fort Wayne bowlers rolled into the money section as follows: Jimmy Beckes, Ed Slagle, Frank Seidler and Carl Suedhoff.

Scores of the Fort Wayne pinmen in singles were as follows:

ILLINOIS ATHLETIC CLUB

Won National A. A. U. Basketball Championship Saturday.

Chicago, March 20.—Playing a sparkling game, the Illinois Athletic club of Chicago won the national A. A. U. basketball championship Saturday night, defeating the Brigham Young university team of Provo, Utah, 27 to 14.

The Illinois A. C. played a superior combination game and got away to a flying start, piling up seventeen points in the first half, while the Westerners were scoring eight. Elliot, left forward for the I. A. C., was the individual star.

The third place went to Montana State college, which defeated the Seward Park Blues of Chicago, 16 to 9.

Gold medals and a trophy emblematic of the championship were awarded the I. A. C. players. Silver medals went to the Brigham Young team and bronze medals to the Montana five.

DETROIT FIVES ROLL IN TOURNEY TONIGHT

Big Figures Expected form Teams Slated for the Day.

Grand Rapids, Mich., March 20.—Twenty-three Detroit teams will roll tonight against the 3,051 total that now promises to carry off the team honors of the American bowling congress tournament here after the failure of the powerful squad that shot on the final shift last night. Teams from Chattanooga, Lexington and Syracuse are also scheduled to roll and some big figures are expected.

In the minor events some fast work is also looked for, particularly from Herman Collins and "Kip" Selbach, of Chicago, and Eddie Kelly and Al Tommel, of Chicago, bracketed in the doubles.

McCaughan and Peachey, of Indianapolis, with their 1,314, still hold the lead in the two man event, while Otto Kallusch, of Rochester, with 698, remained at the top of the individuals. The failure of all but one of the big teams on the late shift last night—the Capitol alley five, of Indianapolis, being the lone exception with their 2,800—probably was due to the nervousness caused by the large crowd of spectators present. Missed spares were the cause of most of the low marks.

PHI DELTA CONVENTION.

Annual Session Will Be Held in Marion, June 18, 19 and 20.

The fifteenth annual convention of the Phi Delta Kappa fraternity will be held in Marion, Ind., June 18, 19 and 20, this year. Many Fort Wayne members of the fraternity have been planning to attend and the announcement that it will be held in the state comes to them agreeably. The local chapter, Iota, was offered the convention but because of the recent reorganization it was found impossible to take on the project, which is always a large one.

C. Harrison and Sergeant Dennis of Uncle Sam's army. Army officers have been assigned to nearly every training camp. Ban Johnson, president of the American league, will give $500 for the best drilled team in his league.

WILL GREAT PITCHER BE A GREAT MANAGER

Matty's Ability is Big 1917 Question of the National League.

BY PAUL PURMAN.

(The Sentinel special sport writer touring major league training camps.)

Shreveport, La., March 20.—Perhaps there is no more interesting question in baseball today than what steps Christy Matthewson is going to take to make a good ball club of the Cincinnati Reds.

MATTY.

As a manager Matty is an experiment. He was a great pitcher, a brainy one, but there have been many of these who have gone on the bone heap of wasted baseball ambitions.

It takes more than a great ball player to make a great manager. It takes a natural ability to lead men—men who for the most part are difficult to lead.

For this reason the Cincinnati team this year will be one of the most interesting in baseball to watch.

I watched Matty on the field here for two days. His men like him. There was no madhouse stuff. Matty asked for what he wanted and usually got it.

If he didn't there was no wild raving—no racing up and down in front of the bench.

Matty usually had a little comment—quiet, cutting, ironic, and though I visited the club early he seemed to be getting results.

I was especially interested in finding what course Matty would take with his pitchers.

From one of the greatest pitchers in the world you would expect to see something unusual in the handling of the mound staff.

The first day I watched Matty with his pitchers he was teaching them how to field. A great fielding pitcher himself, he intends to have a staff that no ball club can bunt off its feet and one that will not throw its games away by wild heaves to the bases.

Matty is too wise to send his men in with a lot of stuff this early in the season, but he is trying to teach them one of his greatest assets, control.

One other thing I noticed about Matty's work with his men. While I watched him and afterward when I talked to ball players and newspaper men who have been here since the Reds arrived, I found Matty never tells his men "This is the way I used to do."

Once in bunting practice he said, "This is the way Wiltse used to do."

Wiltse, by the way, was one of the greatest of fielding pitchers.

Matty may not make a great manager—there are many things which may come up between now and the opening of the season—but he will be a conscientious manager—which may help to drag Cincinnati out of the second division.

FULTON AND MORRIS TO SCRAP APRIL 10

New York, March 20.—Fred Fulton and Carl Morris finally have been matched. They will meet at the Manhattan A. C. on the night of April 10. Fulton was inclined to sidetrack both Morris and Moran, and in order to force him into a meeting Moran and Morris agreed to box for the privilege of besetting Fulton's heels. That did not materalize, as Grant Hugh Browne did not secure Madison Square Garden, as he had contemplated.

Tom McCardle, matchmaker of the Fairmount A. C., has arranged what should prove to be a cracking good battle between Knockout Joe Burman, of Chicago, the latest sensation among the bantams, and Frankie Daly, the little Staten Island boxer, who has been making rapid strides to the front of late.

SCRAPS.

New York, March 20.—Ted Lewis, the persistent challenger for Jack Britton's welter-weight championship, has been signed to a contract for another bout with Britton. They will meet this time on March 26 at Concinnati.

Memphis, Tenn., March 20.—A scheduled eight-round bout here last night between Jack Dillon, of Indianapolis, and Jack Moran, of St. Louis, was stopped by the referee in the sixth round and the decision awarded to Dillon to have the game, but sadly battered St. Louisan from further punishment.

Columbus, Ohio, March 20.—Joe Rivers, of Los Angeles, gave Johnny O'Leary, of Buffalo, a terrific lacing through eleven rounds of their scheduled twelve-round bout here last night. O'Leary's seconds threw in the sponge in the eleventh. Both men were over the 135-pound limit agreed upon.

Philadelphia, March 20.—Johnny Kilbane, featherweight champion, defeated Eddie Shannon, of San Francisco, in a six-round bout here last night. In the third round Shannon was dropped for a count of nine. Kilbane was the aggressor throughout.

JUNIOR FIVES MEET.

St. Paul's Juniors and St. Mary's Cardinals Play Thursday.

The St. Paul's Juniors and St. Mary's Cardinals meet Thursday night at St. Paul's auditorium in what should be one of the best games of the season's end. One game has been played between the two amateur fives and it resulted in a one-point win for the Cards. The rivals will be there with their strongest line-ups Thursday night, each team being anxious for a win. Pete Dietrich will officiate.

WABASH TEAMS WORK AT CAGE AND TRACK

Crawfordsville, Ind., March 20.—Coach Harry Schooler, of the Wabash college baseball team, has a squad of more than twenty men practicing daily in the Crawfordsville Y. M. C. A. gymnasium. This number includes all of the "W" baseball men in college except Bacon and Clements, who were on the basketball team. Mikels and Clements, last year's twirlers, will probably be selected to do slab duty for the Little Giants again this year.

Twenty-five candidates for the Wabash track team reported for the first practice under the direction of Captain Don Sims. Wabash has fine track prospects this spring. The Scarlet's track season was opened at the recent relays at the University of Illinois when the Little Giants brought home first honors in the college relay. Wabash will enter in the Drake university relays to be held April 21, at Des Moines. The Scarlet will send a half-mile relay team to that meet.

BACHELORS PLAY KEKIONGAS.

Football Champs Will Try Hand at Basketball Wednesday Night.

A basketball team representing the Bachelor A. C. will play the Kekiongas at Library hall Wednesday night. The Bachelors have not had a five in the field all season but many of their members have been playing on the Lyceum Aeolians and a fast team has been recruited from the south side ranks. The Kekiongas have been playing a fast game and are going strong for the city title in the amateur division. A good game is expected and the sale of tickets has already reached a high mark.

HARRY SMITH SIGNED TO MANAGE BENDERS

Bosses Have Lined Up Twenty-Two Men to Start Training.

South Bend, Ind., March 20.—One important deal was pulled off by Owner Ed Smith the past week in the signing of Harry Smith of Wheeling as manager of the local club. Checking up of the season ticket books has kept the Bender boss busy all week and he plans to turn the entire matter of signing players over to the new manager as soon as he arrives in South Bend.

Several other contracts from fast semi-pro players were received during the week and when Smith checked up Saturday he found that twenty-two men were either signed or had accepted terms. The following men are under contract:

Pitchers, Herbert Hill, Paul Schanis, H. F. Rasmussen and Stacy Bowman; catchers, Harry Smith, Leonard Tree, Fred Watson and Siner; infielders, Ted Julian, Hogan and Wright; outfielders, Vincent Tydeman, L. T. Dalecke and Harrigton Smith.

More Will Accept.

Players who have been sent contracts and have told Smith that they will accept the terms but have not yet sent back the signed documents are J. Collins and Baschang, outfielders; Joe Grodick and Hensling, infielders; Louis Schettler, pitcher, and Harry LaRoss, catcher.

Smith is withholding the names of two men who have signed contracts and says he will not reveal their identity until reporting time comes. One is believed to be a fast independent pitcher who has been playing ball in these parts while the other is that of a college shortstop who desires that his identity be kept secret until he has a chance of making good.

Two departments of the local club are all that seem to need bolstering. These two are are the pitching staff and the first base position. With four men under contract and a fifth the property of Smith, the staff would seem to be building up fast but there is a scarcity of old heads in the bunch and to win ball games in the Central league requires more headwork and skill than most of the youngsters possess nowadays.

Herb Hill and Louis Schettler are the only veterans Ed has now lined up. Before he was taken sick early last season Hill had worked eight shutout games, but after his illness he was considerably weakened and often failed to go the entire nine innings. A winter of rest should have helped him.

Terre Haute Pitcher.

Schettler performed well for Terre Houte last season and was looked upon as the mainstay of the Terrier staff. He knows the ins and outs of the pastime and will be able to give the young fellows some real advice. Of the three recruits under contracts only little is known of their ability.

Paul Schants is a southpaw from Chicago who, Smith says, had been going good in semi-pro circles and with a little coaching and help from the catcher, should improve considerably. Either Smith or LaRoss are good men to work with the youngsters behind the bat.

"Heinie" Rasmussen, winner of first prize in the Chicago Tribune amateur tryouts, who was taken on the last eastern trip of the White Sox last year and who, from reports, learned a lot about the game from his association with the big boys, should, with the right spirit and support, show something of the stuff necessary to stick in the league.

The Bowman family, breeders of the great Abe of last year, will try to stick in the Central again this season, and Stacy Bowman, Abe's brother, has been handed a contract by Smith. Stacy is 19 years old and reports say he shows as much promise as his big brother did at the same age. Bowman is a southpaw.

ANNUAL CONCORDIA TOURNAMENT.

The annual military tournament and exhibition of the Concordia college cadets will be held April 10, according to the announcement made by Captain George Byroade, commandant of the battalion. Captain Byroade will direct the tournament. Competitive drills and exhibitions, wall scaling and soldierly accomplishments will make up the program of events. A complex battalion drill by the entire corps will be the final number. The military band of the students will give a concert preceding the program.

OWLS LOSE TO SPENCERVILLE.

Spencerville, Ind., March 20.—The Fort Wayne Owls were defeated by the Spencerville Independent basketball team here Saturday night by a score of 50 to 33. In the preliminary the St. Joe grammar school defeated the Spencerville grammar school team by a score of 35 to 33.

SHOP AND RAILROAD NEWS

GEORGE BUTLER DIES IN PHILADELPHIA

Formerly Resided in Fort Wayne and Worked at Knitting Mills.

George and Charles Butler, knitters, the former residing at 726 Runnion avenue and the latter at 1934 Howell street, are in receipt of news of the death of their father, George Butler, of Philadelphia, which occurred Saturday night at the family home, following a long illness. The deceased was 67 years old, a native of England, and is survived by the widow and eight children. The latter are George H. and Charles Butler, of Fort Wayne; Mrs. David Lipschutz, of Bayonne, N. J.; Mrs. William Nutt, Mrs. Henry Overmeyer, Mrs. Mary Dillon, Miss Frances Butler and Edwin Butler, all of Philadelphia. The funeral was held Tuesday afternoon at Philadelphia. When the ...ne Knitting mills were first established in Fort Wayne, Mr. Butler came here from his home in England to work in those shops and he was employed there until fifteen years ago, when he resigned and moved to Philadelphia to engage in mercantile lines. He established and conducted a small general store business, at which he was engaged when taken with the illness which resulted in his death. He was of a jovial, sociable character and made friends of all with whom he came in touch and news of his death will be received with sorrow by a large number of people in Fort Wayne. The sons in this city visited their father a short time ago, when it became apparent that he could not survive the attack, but they were not able to go to the funeral, because of delay in learning of the death of their father.

"GOOD FELLOWS' CLUB."

Hon. Fred Landis Will Tell Electro-Technics About It.

The lecture at the Moose hall tonight, the sixth number of the Electro-Technic club, is attracting more attention than did some of the preceding excellent entertainments. Hon.

HON. FRED LANDIS.

Fred Landis, of Logansport, will be the speaker and his subject will be "The Good Fellows' Club," one of the best lectures of this most interesting lecturer. While the lecture is for the benefit of the members of the Electro-Technic club and invited guests, "none who apply for admission will be turned away," Chairman H. W. Baals said this morning. The Bowser Efficiency club, the Wayne Knitting Mills Safety club, the Rotary club and one or two other similar organizations are the invited guests.

AGAIN AT THE "LIGHTS."

Lieutenant W. H. Miller is a Factory Engineer.

Lieutenant W. Howard Miller, of Company E, First Indiana infantry, is again an employe of the General Electric works. This morning he assumed the duties of factory engineer, working under the direction of Factory Superintendent E. A. Barnes. When he quit the employ of the Electric company to enter the military service, nine months ago, he was employed in the capacity of material engineer. His new duties will give him charge of the annealing and treating department, a very important work. Lieutenant Miller was busy replying to greetings from his old associates at the factory much of the time yesterday.

MOVING IN NEW BUILDING.

Entz-Owens Transmission Department to Have New Quarters.

The work of moving the Entz-Owens transmission department of the General Electric works to the fourth floor of building No. 26, on Wall street, commenced this morning and will be completed tomorrow. This department was formerly located on the fourth floor of building No. 6, and the space vacated will be utilized in the expansion of the small motor department. Max Holz is the foreman of the transmission department and he has about fifty men at present, but will soon have double that number.

TO VISIT ELECTRIC WORKS.

Rotary Club Will Be Supt. E. A. Barnes' Guests.

At the close of the meeting of the Rotary club, which begins at 12 o'clock Wednesday, the members will enter automobiles and drive to the General Electric works, where they will be shown over the plant and otherwise entertained. The club will make the visit on the invitation of Factory Supt. E. A. Barnes, who is a member. But few of the members have been through the General Electric works and do not realize the magnitude of that industry. To such the revelations will be a big and pleasing surprise.

LIFE INSURANCE FOR EMPLOYES

The Chicago Great Western has provided life insurance for those section foremen and shop employes who have been in the service of the company at least one year. The policies are equal in amount to one year's pay with a minimum payment of $500 and a maximum of $2,000. There will be no expense of any kind to the insured, nor will any physical examination be required. When employes leave the road, the policies automatically become void. Nearly 850 men are affected by the plan, which became operative on March 1. The scheme is an experiment, and if it proves satisfactory will be extended to other classes of employes.

ATTENDED FUNERAL.

N. H. Crawford, who has charge of the information desk at the General Electric works, and his sister, Mrs. A. H. Lopshire, have returned from Catlin, Ill., where they went a few days ago to attend the funeral of their sister-in-law, Mrs. C. F. Crawford, the wife of the Wabash passenger and freight agent at Catlin. The deceased made many visits to her relatives in Fort Wayne and through these visits acquired quite a wide acquaintance in the city.

TELEPHONE SYSTEM ENLARGED.

The telephone system at the General Electric works has been enlarged and now has three instead of two operators and reaches the offices and other parts of the new buildings on Wall street. The operators are Miss Lillian Wolbolt, Miss Freda Lichtsinn and Miss Pauline Ridenour. The first two named have been at the exchange several years, Miss Ridenour being the new operator.

WILL GIVE BENEFIT TEA.

Mrs. Josephine Lacey, secretary of the society, announces that a benefit tea for the Woman's Union Label league will be given by Mrs. Miller, 1901 Lafayette street, next Friday afternoon, March 23, from 2 to 4. All members are requested to be present as a business session will be held in connection with the tea.

EIGHT CAR LOADS OF CADETS.

An eight car special train, bearing about 250 cadets from the naval training station at Great Lakes, Ill., passed through the city at noon today. The cadets are enroute to Philadelphia, where they will be divided and sent to various government naval stations.

GRIP BUSY AT SHOPS.

Grip appears to be particularly busy with the employes at the Pennsylvania blacksmith shop this week. Foreman F. A. Optaz' force is considerably reduced, temporarily, new names on the list of absentees on account of sickness being John Rupp, George W. McCoy, E. H. Stahlhut, O. F. Heine and M. Simon.

JOHN MORING IMPROVING.

John Moring, one of the old employes at the Pennsylvania blacksmith shop in point of service, is reported to be making rapid progress toward recovery. He is at the hospital, where he was operated upon about a week ago.

TO EXAMINE APPRENTICES.

L. S. Trachsel, head of the piece work department of the Pennsylvania, and examiner of the applicants for apprenticeship, will hold examinations next Saturday afternoon. He will have quite a large class, but could not give the exact number this morning.

CALLED TO BEDSIDE OF SON.

Mrs. L. E. Rehling, mother of E. H. Rehling, of the Pennsylvania blacksmith shop, left at noon today for Chicago, where another son is lying very ill. Mrs. Rehling will remain until her son recovers.

INDUSTRIAL NOTES.

E. Love has resigned a position at the erecting shop of the Pennsylvania.

C. Slusser and W. M. Kennedy are new employes at the Pennsylvania machine shop.

Machinist Ray Kemp is not on duty at the Pennsylvania lathe room because of sickness.

H. G. Gillie has been transferred from the Pennsylvania machine shop to the boiler shop.

James Laughlin, of the Pennsylvania planing mills, is off duty on account of sickness.

Floyd Weaver, formerly of the People's drug store, has taken employment at the General Electric works.

Machinist C. M. Kickley is at work again in the Pennsylvania erecting shop after an illness of three weeks.

William Sams, who was sick about two months, resumed his duties in the Pennsylvania tool room this morning.

F. Hawthorn took employment and J. Jordon resigned a job at the Pennsylvania machine shop this morning.

S. L. Keim, who was sick two or three days, resumed work at the Pennsylvania erecting shop this morning.

General Manager F. S. Hunting, of the General Electric works, has returned from a business trip to the east.

K. Geller and Carl Axt, the latter from the Pennsylvania, have taken clerical positions at the General Electric works.

Carl Roush, machinist at the Pennsylvania power plant, who had been visiting in Chicago, resumed his duties this morning.

William Mennewisch is again at his desk in the office of the Pennsylvania division storekeeper. He had been sick a few days.

While operating a machine at the General Electric works yesterday, Orville West had one of his hands painfully injured.

Michael Creigh, a Pennsylvania truckbuilder, resumed work this morning after an absence of several days on account of sickness.

After being disabled three weeks with an injured hand Machinist W. C. Tagtmeyer has returned to work in the Pennsylvania erecting shop.

H. W. G. Heine and F. E. Miller, Pennsylvania boilermakers, are off duty. Mr. Heine had his eyes injured by steel rust and Mr. Miller is sick.

Machinist W. J. Farnan, who was off duty to assist his folks in moving into new quarters, reported for work at the Pennsylvania lathe ship this morning.

F. C. Brace, a helper in the Pennsylvania boiler department, who was operated upon for appendicitis four months ago, has recovered and this morning resumed his duties at the shops.

John Reidel and E. P. Kahoe, of the Pennsylvania erecting shop, are sick and off duty. Machinist H. F. Reider, of the same shop, who had been sick, reported for duty this morning after a two weeks' absence.

C. M. Cummins, formerly of Wabash, took employment at the power plant of the Pennsylvania this morning. Z. Elder and John Brown, of that department, resigned their positions this morning.

H. M. Parker and R. C. Hirsch, of the Pennsylvania erecting shop, are off duty on account of sickness in their families. Mr. Hirsch was summoned home yesterday by a message stating that his wife was sick.

Mrs. D. A. Wolford, of Monroeville, wife of the retired Pennsylvania shopman, has made arrangements to visit friends and relatives in New York and will leave for that city in a few days. When Mr. Wolford went on the pension list, he became a salesman for a nursery company and soon afterwards moved to Monroeville.

John Reid, who came here four months ago to succeed A. J. Magley as electrical engineer in the transformer department at the General Electric works, has tendered his resignation to E. A. Wagner, the head of the department, to return to his old home in Kentucky. He will be succeeded by H. C. Newton, promoted from the students' course.

"The Lost Princess."

On every side is talk of the coming operetta for the benefit of Hope hospital, "The Lost Princess," which is a sequal to the operetta produced a few months since. This will be given on April 13 and 14 in the Majestic, and many prominent singers and dozens and dozens of beautiful young girls and children are lending their efforts to make it a success. A number of the cast is yet uncertain, but D. Burns Douglass will be Old King Cole, and Arthur Gessler will be Jack Goose. It is hoped to induce Mrs. H. H. Rogers to be Mother Goose.

CONDEMNED MEN GET AWAY FROM PRISON

Seven Alabama Slayers Make Successful Break for Liberty.

Birmingham, Ala., March 20.—David D. Overton, former county clerk of Madison county, under death sentence for the murder of Probate Judge William T. Lawler in Huntsville in June, 1916, with six other prisoners, two under death sentence, early today overpowered the guard at the Jefferson county jail here and escaped in an automobile. The alarm was given about ten minutes later and a motor car with deputies followed. It is believed the fugitives have gone north. The men who escaped with Overton are Thomas Malina and Samuel Massina, under death sentence for the killing of a peddler in Jefferson county, and four other prisoners under indictment for murder. Warden Lavender says the men overawed him with revolvers, took his keys and locked him in a kitchen. They leeft the jail from a side door leading to an alley, he says, and he was unable to make an outcry or follow until they made good thei rescape. The fugitives, according to the warden, dashed down the alley until they reached Fourth avenue and Twenty-first street, where an automobile was waiting for them.

Officials at the jail declared the escape was carefully planned. Each fugitive, Warden Lavender asserts, had a revolver. The men, it was said, had been given more or less liberty in the corridors of the jail and were looked upon practically as trusties.

An automobile believed to contain Overton and six companions was stopped near Odenville, Ala., between here and Gadsden, according to a report reaching here. The fugitives are thought by officials to be heavily armed and a fight between the prisoners and possemen is expected.

THE DEATHS.

GERARDOT.

John J. Gerardot, a resident of Jefferson township, died at his home Saturday evening at the age of 35 years. Death followed an illness due to complication of diseases. He is survived by the aged mother, Mrs. Clem Gerardot; his wife; one daughter, Cleota; four brothers—August, of Jackson township; Louis, of New Haven; Theodore, of Coldwater, O., and charles, of Jefferson township; and three sisters—Mary Dodane, of Fort Wayne; Hannah Gerardot, of Richmond, and Mrs. Louis Gerardot, of Zulu. Funeral services were held Tuesday.

KAADE.

Herman E. Kaade, son of Mr. and Mrs. August Kaade, of 1217 Swinney avenue, and employed as a patternmaker at the General Electric works, died Monday afternoon at St. Joseph's hospital at the age of 32 years. He had been a patient at the hospital only one week.

Mr. Kaade was a member of the Masonic Blue lodge and the Maccabees. He is survived by the parents, and four sisters and one brother, Mrs. E. L. Gordon and Mrs. J. T. Lund, of Portland, Ore.; Mrs. C. B. Sears, of Portland, Ore.; Mrs. H. M. Bridgeman, of Indianapolis, and William Kaade, of this city.

NEISE.

Mrs. Fred K. Neise, of Lima, Ohio, who has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Arthur F. Rosenberg, of 2909 Hoagland avenue, received a telegram Monday stating that her husband had died suddenly at the home in Lima. Death was due to heart trouble. The deceased had formerly resided here, but moved to Lima twenty years ago. He was 52 years old.

KERKENDALL.

James Kerkendall, aged sixty-four years, died at a hospital at 11 o'clock Tuesday forenoon. One daughter, Mrs. E. Bace, lives near Kingsland, Ind., and the body is being held at the Getz & Cahill undertaking establishment until her arrival. The deceased had lived in Allen county forty years.

SCHWIER ADMITS HE ACTED TO HASTILY

Says He Had No Unpatriotic Motive in Ordering Flags Removed.

County Commissioner W. C. Schwier is much distressed over the unfortunate affair with reference to the order for the removal of the flags from the windows of the county recorder's office. Mr. Schwier acknowledges his mistake and is sorry for it. He says he did not mean his order to be construed in the manner that it seems to have been by the public. A rule was made by the commissioners some time ago prohibiting the display of anything in the windows of the court house. The enforcement of that rule was uppermost in Mr. Schwier's mind and he had no thought that he was acting in an unpatriotic way. As a matter of fact, his friends declare, there is no more patriotic citizen in the country than he is and certainly none who loves the flag of his country any more devoutly or sincerely.

Mr. Schwier acknowledges his mistake and offers apology to the people of Fort Wayne for what he did in the following statement which he has authorized The Sentinel to publish:

"I want to apologize to the people of Fort Wayne for what I did that has seemed to them to have been an act degrading our flag. It may have been unwise, but God knows I had no thought hat I was acting in an unpatriotic way. I did not mean it in the way the people seem to think I did, but I can see what a mistake I made and I am ashamed that I acted with judgment so poor in a matter like that. What hurts and shames me is that I, an American bor ncitizen, should have given any occasion to be thought unpatriotic. I feel sure that those who know me well do not think that of me."

BOTTOM WHEAT PRICE MAKES SMALL ADVANCE

Quotations in Grain Will Probably Be Advanced Again Wednesday.

The rise in wheat on larger markets failed to bring much of an echo here Tuesday. One cent was added to the bottom quotation and the prices now stand at $1.86@1.88. This will probably be increased Wednesday, however, according to local dealers.

The touches of spring brought out a good market and there were plenty of farm products for sale and plenty of buyers. Hay was particularly in evidence, thirty-six loads being sold. The old prices of $10.00 to $12.00 were once more established. The corn prices were not as strong and of the six loads offered for sale not one sold for more than $1.14. The bottom figure was $1.06. Oats were slightly higher, bringing 68 cents at the top, but retaining 63 cents as the low price. Six loads were weighed at the city scales and sold.

CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

Chicago, March 20.—Notwithstanding that profit-taking by numerous holders gave the wheat market a material setback today he effect was only transient. Opening prices, which ranged from ½c decline to ½c advance, with May at $1.87½@1.88¼ and July at $1.58@1.58½, were followed by a sharp general break and then a rise all around to yesterday's finish or considerably above.

In corn, as well as in wheat, realizing sales were quickly absorbed. After opening ¼c off to ⅝c up, values underwent a moderate sag and then scored general net gains.

Oats showed no independent strength.

Toledo Closing Prices.

Toledo, O., March 20.—Close: Wheat—Cash, $2.02½; May, $2.04; July, $1.62¾.
Corn — Cash, $1.13¾@1.14¼; May, $1.14¾; July, $1.13¼.
Oats—Cash, 64@65c; May, 61¾c; July, 59¾c.
Rye—Cash, $1.60.

Cattle—Receipts, 150 head; market was steady.

Sheep—Receipts, 1,600 head; market was steady; lambs, lower; top, $15.75.

Pittsburg Market.

Pittsburg, March 20.—Hogs: Receipts, 500 head; market was steady; heavies, $15.70@15.75; heavy Yorkers, $15.60@15.65; light Yorkers, $15.00@15.35; pigs, $14.00@15.00.

Sheep and lambs—Receipts, 100 head; market was steady; top sheep, $12.50; top lambs, $15.50.

Calves—Receipts, 50 head; market was steady; top, $15.50.

Chicago Market.

Chicago, March 20.—Hogs: Receipts, 7,000 head; market was firm to 15c above yesterday; bulk, $14.80@15.10; light, $14.20@15.00; mixed, $14.55@15.15; heavy, $14.55@15.20; rough, $14.55@14.70; pigs, $10.60@13.50.

Cattle—Receipts, 2,000 head; market was strong; cattle, $9.25@12.65; stockers and feeders, $6.70@9.80; cows and heifers, $5.75@10.85; calves, $10.25@14.50.

Sheep—Receipts, 10,000 head; market was firm; wethers, $11.20@12.70; lambs, $12.65@15.10.

THE DAY ON WALL STREET.

New York, March 20.—Further appreciable advances were made in today's early dealings, the market displaying decided breadth and vigor. Stocks in which initial gains ran to a point or two included such rails as Union Pacific, Reading, New York Central, St. Paul and Chicago and Northwestern, Mexican Petroleum, Central Leather and American and Baldwin Locomotives. United States Steel opened with a block of 5,000 shares at 115¾, ¾ of a point up, this being soon extended. Bethlehem Steel, new stock, Crucible Steel, Republic Iron and leading metals were higher by 1 to 2 points with 2½ for General Electric.

The spirited movement of the first half hour gathered fresh momentum, sales of the forenoon being estimated at about 700,000 shares. Of this United States Steel, which continued its advance to 116½, contributed fully 20 per cent. Bethlehem Steel, new and old shares, increased their lead to 6½ and 6 points, with 2 to 4 points for popular equipments, International Nickel, General Motors and Oils. Shipping also bounded forward, Marine preferred showing a gain of 5¾ points and coppers averaged advances of 1½. Rails more than held their early gains, especially Union Pacific, St. Paul and Baltimore & Ohio. Bonds were firm.

WEATHER CONDITIONE.

The pressure is high over the south Atlantic states and off the north Pacific coast; it is low along the northern border, and a depression is centered over the southeastern slope. Except that scattered precipitation occurred at widely separated stations, the weathr has been mostly fair during the last 24 hours. The weather is somewhat warmer than the seasonal average in the west Gulf states, but over almost the entire country practically normal temperature conditions obtain.

CHORUS GIRL RISKS BULLETS—CALLED IRELAND'S BRAVEST COLLEEN.

LOUISA NOLAN SHOWING HONOR MEDAL TO CHORUS GIRLS.

Miss Louisa Nolan, 18-year-old chorus girl in "Three Cheers," playing in London, is called Ireland's bravest colleen. King George has just awarded her the military medal for heroism in the Irish revolt.

During a battle on the Dublin bridge Miss Nolan saw an English officer fall wounded. When she went to him, he asked for a stimulant. She had to cross the line of fire to get it.

Miss Nolan ran the gauntlet of bullets and got the stimulant. Returning, she again defied death. She saved the officer.

Honor Students Are Named by Prof. L. C. Ward, of High School.

Members of the fair sex have again won honors in this year's graduation class of the Fort Wayne High and Manual Training school. Two young ladies have won the veledictorianship and the salutatorianship. They are respectively Georgiana Hudson and Elizabeth Rogier. The former has an average of 93.32 per cent for the wour year's work and the latter 92.96 per cent.

The other honor students and their grades are as follows: Carl Rothert, 92.66; Harold Kinney, 91.32; Cecelia Tarletz, 90.95; Esther Flaig, 90.13; LaMoine Stump, 89.79; Mary Kinerk, 88.53; Frances Miller, 88.20, and Edna Smith, 87.73.

According to Prof. Louis C. Ward, principal of the high school, who announced the honor students Monday evening, there are one hundred and twenty candidates for graduation this year. This is a large number. The largest class that has ever graduated from the local high school was in 1913, when 124 students received their diplomas.

Graduation exercises will be held in the afternoon of Thursday, June 21, at the Palace theater. The speaker for the occasion has not been named.

The Patterson-Fletcher Company barber shop for children was a busy place yesterday. Mr. Gentis, who is in charge of the shop, is an ideal child's barber. Any child who goes to him once will want to go again. All barber tools in this shop are kept in a sterilizer and are absolutely sanitary.

FAIR TONIGHT AND WEDNESDAY.

ALL READY FOR PATRIOTIC REVIVAL TONIGHT

THE PROGRAM.

6:15 p. m.—Dinner for guardsmen at Elks' temple.

8 p. m.—Grand Patriotic parade starts. Guns will announce the moving of the column.

LINE OF MARCH

Form Berry and Harrison; march south on Harrison to Williams, east on Williams to Calhoun, north on Calhoun to Columbia, east on Columbia to Barr, south on Barr to Berry, west on Berry to Court House and disband. Grand Marshal, A. G. Emrick, Chief of Staff, Major C. F. Dreisbach.

Promptly on the stroke of 8 o'clock Tuesday night the field pieces of Battery D, Indiana field artillery battalwill sound a salute from the St. Mary's river flats, and Fort Wayne's great patriotic parade will swing into motion. To the music of four bands and a drum corps and with probably five thousand people in the line as an escort to the members of Company E, First Indiana infantry and Battery D, the city is prepared for the greatest patriotic demonstration in the history of Indiana.

The program began Monday night when Manager Frank E. Stouder opened the Palace theater to the returning guardians of the Texas border. Members of the societies of civil war veterans also were invited, and scores of them came with their ladies.

The veterans sat well forward in the center section of the house, and the guardsmen were directly behind them.

The olive drab uniform first came into view about 8 o'clock, and the house, already filled, began to cheer. As the new veterans of the Mexican border campaign marched to their seats the whole house stood and welcomed the guardsmen by remaining standing till the last of the boys had found his place and was seated.

Salute the Colors.

Manager Stouder inaugurated a new system at the theater Monday night by starting the performance with the Star Spangled Banner and the orchestra stood while it played. Toward the last note the curtain rose and displayed a huge American flag, probably the largest in the city, and in front of the flag stood the speakers of the evening. At the first note of the national air the

PRESIDENT AND CABINET DEBATE STEPS FOR WAR

Washington, March 20.—As the cabinet convened this afternoon the sentiment was generally expressed that the United States is virtually in a state of war with Germany.

Washington, March 20.—Further steps to protect American lives and property against the warlike operations of German submarines, are expected to take some more definite form after today's cabinet meeting. As has been the case since all official Washington acknowledged that a state of war practically exists between the United States and Germany there is a wide range of speculation on the precise action President Wilson contemplates, but there is no official ground for any forecast.

Calling of congress in extra session before April 16, the day first chosen for its assembly, still continues foremost among the probabilities, but there are no indications that President Wilson had finally decided upon it. On the other hand there were some indications that the date of the session would not be advanced.

Hurrying Preparations.

Preparations for carryin gout the policy of armed neutrality to its fullest degree are being hurried in the navy department. The possibilities of their execution range even to active co-operation at sea with the British

French troops pushing hard on the heels of the retreating Germans, are today within striking distance of the "Hindenberg line," the supposed goal of their retiring foe. The milestones on the Oise are the historical towns of Lille, Cambrai, St. Quentin, Leon and Lafere. The troops of General Neville were rising towards St. Quentin yesterday at a rate almost unprecedented in the present world war and had reached a point within five miles of the city. Unless some unheralded factor has entered into the situation the French have by this time either entered St. Quentin or the German retreat has halted.

In the meantime to the north the British are doggedly pushing forward to Canbrai and are apparently within striking distance of that town, the heart of the Lille-Lafere line and famous since the days of the Romans. The British are advancing more slowly than the French, but nothing either in the official reports from Paris or London or in the unofficial stories of newspaper correspondents at the front indicates that either army has yet come in contact with the main German forces. The theory that the Germans propose to halt their retreat on the Hindenburg line has been put forward by military critics in the allied capitals, but there has been no indication from Berlin of the plans of the German general staff and the purposes and meaning of the dramatic retreat of the invaders of France remain clothed in mystery.

French military observers estimate that the German retirement has already released 150,000 troops who are available for a long predicted counter offensive to be launched against the allies lines, against some speculative papers. The newspapers regard some such move on the part of von Hindenburg troops as almost certain and discuss the possibility of another tremendous drive to smash a way through to Calais.

In the meantime the only indication of a German attack to assume the initiative is an apparently sporadic discussion in the chamber of deputies. Nothing has developed to indicate an offensive on a scale great enough to offset the sensational evacuation of a thousand or more square miles in Picardy.

Washington, D. C., March 20.—The note to General Carranza declining his proposal for neutral action to bring peace to Europe by cutting off exports of supplies to belligerents was made public today at the state department.

The refusal was based, first, on the apparent hopelessness of peace at the present time as shown in the futility of President Wilson's efforts and Germany's attempts to embroil Mexico and Japan in war with this country and in the belief that any restriction of commerce with the belligerents would in effect be an unneutral discrimination.

"Nevertheless," the note concludes, "the president would not be understood as desiring to impede the progress of a movement leading to the resumption of peaceful relations between all the belligerents and would therefore wish the Mexican government to feel that his inability to accept in the present state of affairs should in any way militate against the attainment of the high ideals of General Carranza by the cooperation of other neutral govern-

FINAL HOUR OF IMPERIAL GLORY

Petrograd, March 20.—Via London.—The history of the last hour of Emperor Nicholas as ruler of Russia, is related by a correspondent of the Outro Rossli, of Moscow, as follows:

Two trains arrived at the station at Vishera (on the Moscow-Petrograd railroad, 125 miles southeast of Petrograd,) on the night of March 14. One train carried the emperor's suite, the second the emperor, Gen. Baron Frederick, minister of the imperial house; Rear Admiral Niloff, Gen. Zabel and others. Nicholas called from headquarters by the empress, was on the way to the Tsarkoe-Selo.

Czar is Deceived.

None of the telegrams about the revolution sent by President Rodzianko, of the duma, had reached the emperor. Every effort was made to keep him in ignorance of these affairs. Gen. Zabel protested, declaring that if the others refused to inform the emperor, he would do so. Nicholas, who had been sleeping, was awakened at 2 o'clock in the morning. He went to the dining car and demanded that Admiral Niloff tell him what had happened in Petrograd. He was told that a crowd of students, hoodlums and young soldiers had terrorized the duma, but that a few detachments of troops would be able to put them down. Just then Commander Voyekoff, of the imperial train, entered with a telegram stating that 700 of the St. George cavalry were on the way to Tsarskoe-Selo to present a cross to the emperor and had arrived at the nearby station of Dno, headed by Gen. Ivanoff.

"Your majesty," said Voyekoff, "it

SERIOUS PLOT SEEN DASH OF INTERNED SEAMAN TO ESCAPE

Washington, D. C., March 20.—Lieutenant Chorth and Machinist Mate Hermann Schroder, of the German interned crews at Philadelphia navy yard, are believed to have been drowned last night in an attempt to escape.

Eight other men who escaped at the same time have been captured by companies of marines and the Philadelphia police. There are in addition to the seven reported last night as having faile dto escape.

Fourteen men were concerned in the attempt to escape. Officials feel certain that the dash was known to the German officers and that the men, led by Lieutenant Chorth, made it with the sanction of the commanders. What their purpose was can only be left to speculation. Four men were captured while attempting to leave their ship. The crews of the Kronprinz Wilhelm and the Prinz Eitel Friederich were at once mustered and it was found that the lieutenant and nine men were missing. Companies of marines were at once dispatched in pursuit, the police reserves and civil authorities aiding in the chase. How the eight retaken were found the preliminary report does not show, nor what evidence there is to ssupport the supposition that the lieutenant and one man were drowneed. Two of the four men caught while attempting to leave their ship were in civilian dress, having discarded their uniforms for the dash, and were well supplied with money.

In connection with the coup it may or may not be significant that Baron von Schoen, a former attache of the German embassy, transferred to Mexico before the break with Berlin, recently has been reported traveling in the United States.

In the light of the present situation and all the circumstances the presence of a German diplomatic agent abroad in the country is looked upon with some concern. The prospect of German sailors at large also is regarded with apprehension.

All the men interned at Philadelphia are to be transferred back to Forts McPherson and Oglethrope, Ga., where they will be kept in stockades and guarded by troops of the Seventeenth infantry.

STORY OF THE BREAK.

Washington, March 20.—Preliminary reports to the navy department early today say that a lieutenant and nine men of the interned German sailors at the Philadelphia navy yard succeeded in making their escape in last night's dash from the yard.

Philadelphia detective bureau was responsible for the statement that from thre to ten of the crews of the interned German cruisers Kronprinz Wilhelm and Prinz Eitel Frederich got away in the dash for liberty last night, in which four sailors were captured. Nothing could be learned from government officials at the navy yard, where the two ships are interned, but the detectives insisted that several men, possibly ten, are at large. They swam a distance of 300 yards across a channel to the shore.

The dash was made under cover of darkness and when search was made at daylight the police found an interesting collection of property. It included ten life preservers marked with the initials of the two cruisers, three discarded uniforms and a dagger. They also found civilian clothing inclosed in oil skin bags and this, it is suspected, was placed on the shore by accomplices of the escaping men. The police say that each of the men captured had ten now $10 bills pinned to his undershirt.

Axles Broken and Tires Punctured in Corner Collision.

Occupants of two roadster automobiles were slightly injured Tuesday morning when the machines met in a corner clash at Harrison and Wayne streets. The two cars were badly damaged. Fast driving is given as a cause for the mishap.

Mrs. John G. Girard, 802 West DeWald street, who was in the one car, with her husband, complains of injuries to her left arm and side. She reported to police that the side of the machine in which she was riding was struck because Clarence Steward, of the Protective Electric Supply company, driver of the other car, was driving too fast.

Steward reports that Girard drove past the traffic sign and allowed him no room in which to pass the corner. Steward complains of an injured knee. Front axle was broken and both front tires punctured on Steward's machine.

Chicago, March 20.—The picture of Nicholas Romanoff, former emperor of Russia, with other imperial insignia has been removed from the walls of the Russian consulate in Chicago.

Erroneous Report Causes Much Excitement in Fort Wayne.

Rumor that Kaiser Wilhelm, of Germany, had been shot, caused no little excitement, and much speculation in Fort Wayne Tuesday. Newspaper officer were besieged with telephone calls throughout the day for confirmation of the report.

Origin of the rumor has not been explained. The first intimation of it was received in Fort Wayne about 10 o'clock Monday night. A report to that effect is said to have passed over the Western Union wire. Tuesday morning a similar report was heard over wires of the Pennsylvania railroad, which also stated that extra editions had been issued by the newspapers of Indianapolis. Passengers passing through the city alighted from the trains in search of extras or definite information. The report seems to have gained general circulation throughout this section of the country.

Of course, the rumor is erroneous. None of the press associations carried the story—not even the rumor.

DEMOCRACY MUST BE GERMAN HOPE SAYS SOCIALIST

Berlin, Monday, March 19.—(Via London, March 20.—11:40 a. m.)—Phillip Scheidmann, socialist leader in the reichstag, says in the socialist newspaper, Vorwaerts:

"It does not require many words to explain why almost the whole world is arrayed against us. The answer is given quickly. The whole world sees among our enemies more or less developed form of democracy, and in us sees only Prussians.

"We have always answered by referring to the absolutism of Russia, but now czarism has gone, and the emperor's successor to accept the throne only if the representatives of the people agree. These representatives are to be elected on the basis of universal, equal, direct and secret suffrage.

"In Asia the empire of the Mandarins opposed every reform. They desired an emperor with absolute power, as long as he did ,their will, and thereby undermined the monarchy and laid the foundation of a republic. In the European central empire similar spirits seek to build similar Chinese walls and hinder every reform. The clock shows five minutes to twelve. They imagine they hold up the time when they move back the hands to eleven.

"Why does the chancellor shrink back now from unconditional necessity? Always the hesitator, the procrastinator, Bethmann-Hollweg wants to begin to cure Prussia after the war. Russia also promised all reforms after the war, but the war lasted too long for the Russians. Why postpone till tomorrow what is absolutely necessary today, what even the king himself declared years ago was one of the most urgent matters of the business of the state? Now is the time for decisive action. The difficulties which might rise if the government adopts the reichstag system of elections for Prussian elections, are as a feather-weight as compared with the difficulties which will come if it does not do this. This chancellor should not delay one day. The Prussian people, as well as the other German states, will stand as one may at his side if he acts decisively."

In a different strain the Lokal Anzeiger, one of the newspapers closest to the chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg, says:

"A change in the Prussian electoral system has been promised for a year, and after the war will be debated and put into practice with all quiet thoroughness. That is no longer news; it is an obvious fact. To demand it for tomorrow and at that in connection with a hymn of jubilation for the Russian revolution is no precarious a venture that it must be rejected. It is certain that minister-president von Bethmann-Hollweg intended no such result from his last speech."

soldier boys were on their feet with the snap they learned while with the colors, and they stood at attention until the last note had died away. The remainder of the house stood, too, and no one any straighter than Thomas Toomey and his fellow veterans who occupied seats of honor in the front row.

Mayor Is Chairman.

Mayor Hosey called the assemblage to order, and welcomed the guardsmen back to Fort Wayne in the name of the people of the city. He told the boys in olive drab that Fort Wayne was not slow to realize the sacrifices they had made, and the trials they had undergone, in their service with the colors at the back door of the nation. Mr. Hosey also thanked Mr. Stouder for the gift of the theater, and the veterans of two other wars for the interest they had taken in the newly made veterans of the border campaign.

First on the program, Harry G. Hilgeman, talked briefly to the "boys." The boys of '61, of '98, and now of '16, sat before him, soldiers all, some a little grayer than others, but all possessed of the fighting spirit which made America.

Mr. Hilgeman welcomed first the heroes of '61 and '98 and then turned to the present guardians of the flag and told them that they could not realize what feeling existed for them in Fort Wayne.

"When you marched away to the border, you believed, and we all believed, that you were marching away to war. You went, not a man of you but with one thought, the thought that the nation's flag must be protected, and that you would follow it, no matter where it took you," Mr. Hilgemann continued. "We did not have war, and we thank God that tonight we are here to welcome you back from a victory of peace rather than to listen to the word that might come from the trenches somewhere in Mexico."

Captain Ryan Speaks.

Captain Thomas F. Ryan, commander of the recruiting detail working in this city, and a recognized authority on matters military, greeted the boys as the spokesman from Uncle Sam.

"I know what your border service means," he said, "what hardships you underwent. I know that there were times when your stomach told you that your throat had been cut, that you made remarks about the camp sites that you wouldn't make here. I know what you have undergone on the border campaign, for I had the honor of being a member of the Pershing expedition."

Captain Ryan hit a responsive chord when he urged universal service. The guardsmen gazed about in delight at their safe and civilian friends in other parts of the theater and applauded with an enthusiasm that was disconcerting to the young bloods who wore no uniform.

Urges Preparedness.

"Had the Union been prepared in '61 the civil war would have lasted two years instead of five, had we been prepared in '98 the Spanish-American war would have seen a very few American dead, compared to the number who gave their lives in service; had we been prepared last year Villa never would have attacked Columbus, and we should have been spared our Mexican unpreparedness. I don't believe in a great standing army as the ultimate effort in our preparedness. I believe in giving every man an education that not only will make him a soldier of the reserve, but will make him a better citizen. The time for universal service is ripe.

"And may I complete my welcome by asking Fort Wayne to get behind this patriotic movement, to put every shoulder to the wheel; may I ask every man to do his share. Get behind the president and uphold the dignity of the flag. Don't be afraid to show your colors. Let every public building and every business house and every private residence in Fort Wayne display the Stars and Stripes. If you have no flagpole hang them up in front of the door, and if that is impossible, for goodness sake don't be afraid to put them in the window."

Captain Ryan's reception was enthusiastic.

Following a splendid bill the soldiers were the guests at the Trier dancing academy at a "military ball."

The Parade.

The parade Tuesday night starts starts from Berry and Harrison promptly on the stroke of eight, and all divisions will be in line ten minutes before that time. This will be Fort Wayne, and probably Indiana's greatest patriotic demonstration. The thousands who will march are being augmented hourly by new organizations which will appear.

Grand Marshal Emrick has asked his aides and assistant marshals to meet him at the Commercial club at 7:15, to enable him to get them at their posts and avoid the confusion which will attend the gathering of the many marching bodies.

The dinner for the guardsmen will take place at the Elks' temple at 6:15 Tuesday night, and all guardsmen who did border service, or were discharged at Indianapolis, have been invited. The parade will follow immediately after the dinner.

Following the parade the public reception and welcome demonstration in the court house will be presided over by Mayor Hosey and the speakers will be the Rev. A. J. Folsom and the Hon. Charles E. Niezer.

The police department orders that no cars be parked on Calhoun street, between 7:30 and 9 o'clock, and that on the side streets automobilists shall not allow their cars to stand more than two feet from the curb. The entire day police force will be out with the night men to assist in handling the crowd. Special details of patrolmen will be scattered through the downtown districts.

A. D. T. Boys Will March.

Chief Delivery Clerk King, of the Western Union company and a platoon of the A. D. T. boys will march in the patriotic parade Tuesday night, according to information given out at the office Tuesday afternoon. The Red Men also will meet at their lodge and will take part in the parade, as will a number of other lodges not originally scheduled in the list. It seems that every organization of any size in the city is determined to display its patriotism by representation in the procession.

ing body. She rushed downstairs and found hi mon the floor, unconscious, but still breathing. Neighbors were called, but before medical help arrived the fireman was dead.

Twenty-three Years' Service.

In his twenty-three years of service with the city department, George W. Jasper made an enviable record as a man in the ranks and an official. On October 4, 1898, he was appointed captain of No. 3 engine company, and retained that position until on July 1, 1909, when he was appointed to the newly created office of assistant chief, which had been made for him.

Due to his untiring efforts much of the good service of the past few years of the department was accomplished. In recent years, since Chief Hilbrecht relinquished active charge of all fire runs, Chief Jasper has been first in command in the large majority of battles with the flames. His ability as a fire fighter has been recognized not only in Fort Wayne, but all throughout the central states.

Fire Prevention Work.

With the growth of fire prevention work, and the new systems inaugurated in recent years to prevent the starting and spread of fires, Chief Jasper had taken an active part. Under his direction the captains and lieutenants of the downtown fire brigades made almost weekly inspections of stores and warehouses, backyards and basements, and the success of the work is written in the records at headquarters, which show Fort Wayne's losses in the business district the smallest in the state.

His Last Fire.

The last fire which Chief Jasper attended was at the home of Dr. J. E. McArdle, on South Calhoun street, shortly aftere 7 o'clock Sunday evening. He was a member of the Elks and the Concordia Singing society.

The deceased is survived by the widow, four children, Alba, Irene, Ralph and Paul; one brother, Fred, and one sister, Mrs. L. C. Heck.

Chief Henry Hilbrecht announces that every member of the fire department who can be spared will march in the funeral procession. Arrangements for the funeral have not been completed.

the gashes and chips showed that the work was done within the last few days. The beautiful gardens of the outlying houses were also wrecked and every fruit tree within several miles of the town was sawed two-thirds of the way through and then broken down.

The correspondent of The Associated Press was among the first visitors to Peronne in the wake of the English troops, who have now swept well beyond the place.

Through Ruined Villages.

It was necessary to pass through half a score of ruined villages which only a few days ago were within the zone of intense artillery fire, before reaching the banks of the Somme. Crossing that stream on an improvised bridge and trudging through Halle, Peronne was reached over a road which had been reconstructed within 24 hours over succeeding rows of German trenches and through recurring masses of rusted barbed wire, some of these being at least six feet in height and 50 feet in width.

In the outskirts of the city English tommies were encountered wearing German "pickle" helmets and grinning from ear to ear. In the great square of Peronne, which is strewn by melancholy ruins, was the British lieutenant who led the first patrol into the city. He was mounted on a splendid little pony which he captured with its full equipment. Several other officers arrived during the morning and begged for the privilege of taking a ride about the place on this prize of war.

Buildings Blown to Ruins.

There was a ghostly silence in most sections of the city. No sound of war was to be heard except once when a prying German airplane scudded over into the shelter of the high clouds and anti-aircraft guns opened, driving him to quick retreat. British officers pointed out building after building where apparently the damage had resulted from interior explosions. In many cases walls, facing away from the line of British and French fire, had great squares blown through them, differing strikingly from the round holes made in other buildings by shells. The beautiful old sixteenth century church of St. Jeane was a pitiful mass of ruins, but one of its oil paintings still hung on a bit of wall in the transept and was miraculously untouched.

The statue of Catherine Devoix, which had adorned the great square, had been taken away by the Germans and a gaudily clad dummy left in its stead.

The Germans had left several foot bridges across the Somme which were apparently intact, but on closer examination showed that false sections had been inserted which gave way at the first foot pressure. The correspondent investigating one of these bridges too closely had an icy bath in the Somme. On the blank walls of the city there were many printed proclamations to the soldiers, including the entire text of some of Chancellor von Betlimann Hollwogg's speeches in the reichstag.

At a chateau just outside Peronne the Germans had killed two magpies and stuck them on the sharp points of the iron posts at either side of the entrance. "I suppose that signifies the German curse of bad luck," said a British subaltern, as he went whistling gaily on his way to find, as he said, "where the war has taken itself off to."

BLOCKADE OF GREECE LIFTED.

London, March 20.—(1:00 p. m.)—The ministers to Greece of the entente nations have again taken up their residence in Athens, Reuter's correspondent there reports. The discharge of a cargo of wheat destined for Piraeus begins today.

The admission of wheat to Greece indicates the lifting of the blockade which has been in effect for several weeks. The Greek government has made repeated representations that widespread suffering was being caused by the shutting off of food supplies, to which the entente responded that the blockade would be lifted when Greece had complied fully with its demands. The most important of these demands were the transfer of the army to lower Greece and the disbanding of the reservists, for the purpose of removing the possibility of an attack by Greek troops on the rear of the allied forces in Macedonia.

is enough that you appear at the Tsarskoe-Selo in the midst of these heroes and with the Tsarskoe-Selo garrison, go to the duma. All the troops will remember their oath. It will be easy to overcome these young soldiers."

"It is a lie, your majesty," shouted Gen. Zabel. "You are deceived. Read these telegrams. Here is the order: 'To the imperial train at Vishera: Do not send the train to Tsarskoe-Selo, but to Petrograd.'"

The emperor arose and exclaimed: "What does this mean? Is it so? Is Grekoff (who signed the order to divert the train) commander in Petrograd?"

Then General Zabel spoke out, saying: "There are 60,000 troops, with officers, backing the temporary government. Your majesty has been declared dethroned. It is impossible to go further."

Nicholas, completely nonpulsed, exclaimed:

"Why was I not told before? Why tell me now, when all is finished?"

Yields to His Fate.

After a moment he added with a gesture of helplessness:

"Let it be so. Thank God. I will abdicate if that is what the people want. I will go to Livadia (the estate of the Russian imperial family on the south coast of the Crima,) to my gardens. I am fond of flowers."

The train moved toward Bologoie. At Dno a telegram was received stating that the Tsarskoe-Selo garrison had revolted and that the empress had appealed to the duma for protection. Nicholas pondered the situation, then said:

"I shall go to Moscow. Mrozovski, (commander of the Moscow garrison,) used to say Moscow always would defend me."

At Bologoie was received a telegram stating that the Moscow garrison had joined the revolution. The train returned to Dno, where it met the train bearing Gen. Ivanoff.

The general related everything that had taken place, adding:

"There is only one thing to do now. It is to open the Dvina gate to the Germans and let them quiet the canaille."

Angrily Rejects Treason.

Nicholas rejected the suggestion, exclaiming angrily:

"I shall never become a traitor to my country."

Then Nicholas broke down and wept. After a moment he said:

"If only I knew my wife and children were safe I should go to Livadia quietly to finish my life and let Michael govern the country. He is liked by the people. I will sign my abdication and then go back to the army, say good bye to the soldiers and let them do as they like. I shall not stand in the way."

and French fleets to clean submarines out of the shipping lanes.

It was learned definitely before the cabinet meeting that the president, while considering deliberately all phases of the situation, had not finally made up his mind on any forward step beyond the active preparation of the navy for eventuality. For the present President Wilson is taking the position unlooked for change before conclusion that at all events the nation must be placed in a better state of preparedness, because he believes that from a practical standpoint Germany is making war on this country.

Favor Rigorous Measures.

Members of the cabinet before the meeting apparently were agreed that every possible step to safeguard American rights should be taken but were not sure whether anything would be gained by advancing the date of the extra session of congress. While the situation now facing the nation has been anticipated by the president ever since the submarine question between the United States and Germany became acute, he is considering it now again from all angles because of the far-reaching questions involved in an active entrance of the United States in the war. The president is known to believe that the objects he has in mind—the establishment of a league to preserve future peace—has been set far forward by the revolution in Russia. The murmuring against autocracy in Germany is also being considered.

No doubt now remains in the minds of most officials that unless there is gress meets, the president will open the extra session with an address making clear the new position into which the United States has been forced by Germany's ruthless disregard of American rights. He may discuss universal military training.

The indications before the cabinet assembled were that there would be no change in the situation before tomorrow although it was possible that discussion at the meeting might lead the president to act at once.

PROCLAMATION SOON DUE.

Washington, March 20.—Without waiting for the proclamation President Wilson is expected to issue today or tomorrow that a state of war exists between the United States and Germany, the government today prepared definitely for forceful action to clear trans-Atlantic ship lines of German submarines and to protect the coast.

Sixty submarine chasers, 110 foot, speedy craft, were ordered from the New York navy yard to be completed in about two months and bids for 200 more will be opened by the navy department tomorrow.

The naval academy was ordered to graduate the senior class March 29, and the junior class in September, so that 374 more junior officers may be available speedily.

The president authorized expenditure of the $115,000,000 emergency fund provided by congress to speed up construction of warships and suspended the law limiting labor in plants doing government work to eight hours a day.

Navy officers prepared plans for calling out privately owned motor boats offered by their owners for coast patrol work, and for manning the two thousand submarine chasers or patrol boats which it is estimated will be ready for action within four months.

It was thought the president might make some announcement after today's cabinet meeting whether he expects to call congress in special session before April 16.

WILSON TURNS DOWN CARRANZA'S SCHEME

ments in the use of their good offices and friendly mediation to bring about the end of the terrible war."

The note mentions the "careful and sympathetic consideration" which the United States has given to the proposal, refers to the new vigor of the warfare and goes on to say: "To render the situation still more acute, the government of the United States has unearthed a plot made by the government dominating the central powers to embroil not only the government and people of Mexico, but also the government and people of Japan in war with the United States. At the time this plot was conceived, the United States was at peace with the government and people of the German empire and German officials and German subjects were not only enjoying but abusing the liberties and privileges freely accorded to them on American soil and under American protection."

The note then takes up the proposal to cut off commercial relations with the belligerent nations and refers to the American note to Austria-Hungary to show the policy of this government in declining to stop munition shipments.

Believing that this position of the United States is based upon sound principles of international law the conclusion says: "And is consonant with the established practice of nations, the president * * * * * cannot bring himself to consider such a modification of these principles or of this practice as compliance with Gen. Carranza's proposal to suspend commercial relations with the warring nations would entail."

U-BOAT WAR HAS NOT SLACKENED BRITISH TRADE

London, March 10.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)—A visit around the harbors and docks of London, Liverpool and Manchester, undertaken with a view to observing how the German submarine blockade has affected shipping, revealed that "business as usual" is the rule in the British ports.

There has been no apparent slackening of trade at any point and the slight holding up of neutral shipping has not yet had any reflection in the weekly tonnage and trade opportunities of the port authorities. In each of three ports visited the figures of arrivals and departures make a favorable comparison with the figures of three months or a year ago and in each of these ports the stocks of foodstuffs and other merchandise stand at better than a peace time basis.

There is plenty of evidence that the British admiralty is taking up the submarine question with the greatest energy. The arming of merchantships goes on under rush orders at every port, and few British ships are now leaving without guns and gun crews.

"We have practically ceased to worry about submarines," remarked the superintendent of one of the big London docks. "We have too much else to do, attending to the daily routine of using to best advantage every minute of the time when a ship is in our hands.

Every ship that comes in has a few stories to tell about the excellent marksmanship of their gun crews. There is a great rivalry among the crews and if their reports about hitting floating barrels at fabulous distances in practice on the open sea are correct, there is little chance for the submarine that shows its periscope within sight of any of our ship lookouts."

GERMAN PUBLIC JUST LEARNS OF BIG RETIREMENT

Berlin, Monday, March 19.—(Via London, March 20., 11:50 a. m.)—The morning newspapers today gave the German public its first news of the big events on the front in France. All publish articles by military experts explaining the movement as a part of the strategical plan of the general staff for a decision on the western front and a master stroke to vitiate the preparations of the entente for an offensive, giving a decided advantage to the Germans. These writers are unanimous in expressing the fullest confidence in Field Marshal von Hindenberg. The Deutsche Tages Zeitung says:

"This is not the first strategic retreat von Hindenburg has executed in this war. It is necessary only to remember his great retreat from before Warsaw and the partial evacuation of Transylvania. Thus far these retreats of von Hindenburg always have borne fruit a hundredfold, so that we may face the new measure of our highest military commander with well founded confidence and the fullest assurance that it furnishes the preliminary to new German successes."

The Morgen Post says:

"The German people can and must have the fullest confidence in their leaders, especially von Hindenburg and his able counsellor and assistant von Ludendorff. Developments may be awaited with calm confidence."

The Vossische Zeitung says:

"We must not forget that the same von Hindenburg who began the Transylvanian campaign with a retreat and who in 1914 evacuated a conquered strip of Poland to strike the Russians like a bolt of lightning, now stands master of the battles of our western front."

MUCH WORK TO GET RAIL PACT IN OPERATION

New York, March 20.—Much hard work remains for the railroad managers and the brotherhood leaders as a result of yesterday's agreement putting into effect an eight hour day as from January 1. The task of fitting the new working day to the time schedules of every railroad in the country was taken up today by a committee of the brotherhoods and a sub-committee of the railroad managers.

About 800 schedule wage contracts must be signed on the new basis. These committees will decide in what manner the back wages due the men from the first of the year will be computed. It is estimated that the employes will receive between $12,000,000 and $13,000,000. There was some talk today of leaving the computation to the eight hour committee headed by Major General G. W. Goethals. Freight service on all trunk lines has been more or less deranged by the embargoes declared in anticipation of a strike. Nearly all the railroads lifted their embargoes yesterday as soon as they heard of the settlement.

The actual labor of effecting detailed changes in pay schedules will be done in conference between the individual managers and the general chairman of the four brotherhoods on these roads. With some 200 roads represented in the recent controversy approximately 800 forms of contracts will have to be revised so that 250,000 employes in freight service may receive increases averaging $240 yearly, or a total of $60,000,000 yearly as estimated by railroad heads. It developed today that between 5,000 and 6,000 passenger employes, most of whom are on eastern roads are to benefit under the agreement just reached. These are men in the so-called turnabout service, on trains which carry commuters and on which they have morning and evening runs, with "spread" time between when they are not actually working.

Fort Leavenworth, Kas., March 20.—Three hundred and forty members of the provisional battalion of second lieutenants, nearly all of whom were appointed from civil life, will complete their three months' training course here about April 1, it was learned today. They will then be assigned to units of the regular army and will have two years to "make good." The training of the young officers has been intensive and little attention has been given to the higher branches of military sciences since the aim being to educate the subalterns in practically everything the enlisted man is called upon to do, it is said at the military post.

ORGANISM OF STRANGE MALADY IS ISOLATED

Galesville, Wis., March 20.—The germ of the strange throat disease, which in the last few days has caused eight deaths in this village, and mystified physicians from nearby cities, has been isolated, according to a statement issued today by doctors and state health authorities, who investigated the epidemic. The disease was traced to an infected milk supply. More than 150 persons have contracted the malady. Two of three town physicians are ill of it and have been taken to a hospital. Many persons now convalescent will be crippled for life, health authorities say.

Authority on Russia Thus Explains German Chancellor's Speech.

(By J. H. DUCKWORTH.)

New York, March 20.—"I have not the slightest doubt that the revolution in Russia will lead to serious uprisings and momentous changes in Germany. The kaiser must see the writing on the wall. Autocratic monarchies are doomed.

H. BERNSTEIN

"That is the explanation for Chancellor Bethmann-Hollweg's belated championing of political reforms. At all costs the Hohenzollerns must head off a German revolution."

This is the interpretation of Herman Bernstein, greatest authority in the United States on Russian affairs, of the recent happenings in Russia and Germany.

For twenty years Bernstein, editor of the American Hebrew and of the Day, has been fighting for the freedom of Russia. He was a friend of Count Tolstoy. He visited Russia in 1908, 1909, 1910 and 1911.

In 1912 he was barred from Russia because of his articles in the United States criticising the Russian government's refusal to recognize the passports of American-Russian Jews. Colonel Myasoyedoff, who turned him back at the Russian-German frontier, was hanged a few months ago for his part in a gigantic grafting scheme.

"I believe," continued Bernstein, "that the men in German trenches, led to believe they are fighting a defensive war, will be the very leaders of these uprisings in Germany. They will demand drastic changes and reforms in th junker government that has so wickedly misled them, and that has been responsible for the horrible catastrophe now facing the German pople.

"A well-known German writer told me when I was in Germany last year that he would not be at all surprised if a revolution were to break out in Germany at any time led by a man now fighting in the trenches.

"This war has brought many ills in its train. But it has brought one consolation—democratization in the ranks of armies everywhere. That is why we see Russian troops supporting Russian revolutionaries, the same troops that ten years ago helped to crush the people.

"I believe the entire Russian revolution is due to the fact that the liberal element of the people believed a separate peace would kill all immediate hopes for a democratic Russia. It knew Germany preferred a backward, reactionary Russia for a neighbor, a Russia it could point to as more reactionary than itself.

Bethmann-Hollweg and others of the kaiser's ministers must have been unpleasantly surprised by the Russian revolution. They would have welcomed a revolution that would have split and weakened Russia and at the same time driven Russia into their hands.

"Real representatives of the Russian people have revolted, not along lines desired by the Germans, but along lines of real liberalism and freedom.

COLUMBIA CITY NEWS.

Columbia City, Ind., March 20.—James A. Steel, for several years a junk buyer in Union township, passed away Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the home of his cousin, Isabella Steel, northeast of Coesse.

Mr. and Mrs. Orlando Stickler, of Washington township, early Sunday morning discovered fire about the walls near the chimney in their home and a fire extinguisher put out the blaze, after $75 worth of damage had been done.

Northa Hazen, of Kosciusko county, and Miss Bertha Hill, daughter of Clark Hill, of Troy township, were wedded Saturday evening at the home of Rev. L. A. Luckenbill, of this city, and have gone to a farm in Kosciusko county to reside.

While at the Virgil Baublit home southwest of Larwill Sunday noon, Dr. L. W. Tennant, of Larwill, received a fracture of both bones of the right wrist when the engine of his auto backfired while he was cranking it.

Robert Jones, who sold his Washington township farm several months ago and moved his family to Columbia City, has purchased the eleven acre truck farm of C. C. Riddle, just north of the city, and will move to it April 1. The consideration was $4,500.

The residence property of the late Mrs. Sarah E. Hemmick, on North Chauncey street, has been purchased from the estate by Attorney B. J. Bloom for $3,500.

Paul Harter, teacher in the Coesse school, and son of Mrs. Lewis Harter, of this city, left Monday for Chicago to take the army physical examinations, having been appointed to West Point. During his absence his classes are being taken by Miss Lucy Jones.

Warren Thompson, employed on the Panhandle section, received a three-inch gash on the right cheek Monday afternoon when a flying spike hit him.

The home of Harry Foster, in South Whitley, is under quarantine, their son, George, 16, a high school student, having contracted scarlet fever. The school at South Whitley has been fumigated and classes were held Monday as usual.

Sheriff James Bodley Monday took to the Logansport hospital Miss Hazel Burnheimer, of Etna township, recently adjudged insane.

Miss Lida Glass, stenographer in the Bailey & Compton law office, has resigned and returned to her home in Ossian.

The maple sugar camps in the county are yielding little sap, owing to the protracted cold weather. At the Jacob Kaufman sugar camp, 45 gallons of syrup have been boiled; at the R. H. Maring camp, 50 gallons have been boiled, while at the Williamson-Keller camp, in Cleveland township, about 50 gallons have been obtained.

A special meeting of the township trustees will be held Wednesday afternoon in the office of County Superintendent A. R. Fleck, to receive the county agent petitions and subscriptions, the $500 guarantee having been raised. The county council will in a few days make application to Purdue university for the appointment of a county agent for Whitley county.

TAKE SALTS TO FLUSH KIDNEYS

Eat less meat if you feel Backachy or have Bladder trouble.

Meat forms uric acid which excites and overworks the kidneys in their efforts to filter it from the system. Regular eaters of meat must flush the kidneys occasionally. You must relieve them like you relieve your bowels; removing all the acids, waste and poison, else you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sours, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment; the channels often get irritated, obliging you to get up two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids and flush off the body's urinous waste get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine and bladder disorders disappear. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys and stop bladder irritation. Jad Salts is inexpensive; harmless and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then, thus avoiding serious kidney and bladder diseases.—Advertisement.

NOSE CLOGGED FROM A COLD OR CATARRH

Apply Cream in Nostrils To Open Up Air Passages.

Ah! What relief! Your clogged nostrils open right up, the air passages of your head are clear and you can breathe freely. No more hawking, snuffling, mucous discharge, headache, dryness—no struggling for breath at night, your cold or catarrh is gone.

Don't stay stuffed up! Get a small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm from your druggist now. Apply a little of this fragrant, antiseptic cream in your nostrils, let it penetrate through every air passage of the head; soothe and heal the swollen, inflamed mucous membrane, giving you instant relief. Ely's Cream Balm is just what every cold and catarrh sufferer has been seeking. It's just splendid.—Advertisement.

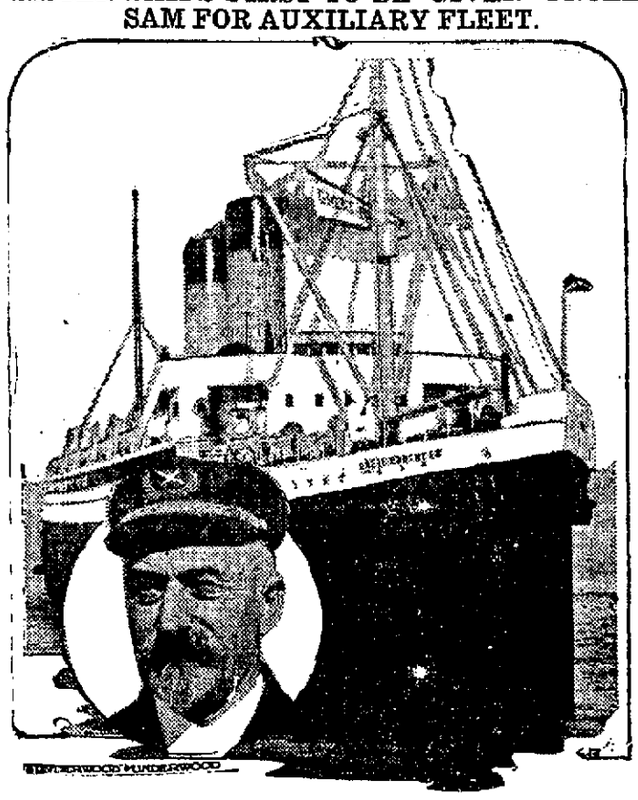
SISTER SHIPS FIRST TO BE GIVEN UNCLE SAM FOR AUXILIARY FLEET.



Uncle Sam's auxiliary fleet has already been started with the gift of the Great Northern and Northern Pacific, modern sister ships plying the Pacific for the Great Northern Steamship company. They are rated the fastest American merchant vessels. Built in 1915 they cost $6,000,000. Their crews have been sworn into the naval reserve. The pictures show the Great Northern and her captain, A. Ahman.

John 1:35-49; 2:13-22

35 Again the next day after, John stood, and two of his disciples;
36 And looking upon Jesus as he walked, he saith, Behold the Lamb of God!
37 And the two disciples heard him speak, and they followed Jesus.
38 Then Jesus turned, and saw them following, and saith unto them, What seek ye? They said unto him, Rabbi, (which is to say, being interpreted, Master,) where wdellest thou?
39 He saith unto them, Come and see. They came and saw where he dwelt, and abode with him that day: for it was about the tenth hour.
40 One of the two which heard John speak, and followed him was Andrew, Simon Peter's brother.
41 He first findeth his own brother Simon, and saith unto him, We have found the Messias, which is, being interpreted, the Christ.
42 And he brought him to Jesus. And when Jesus beheld him, he said, Thou art Simon the son of Jona: thou shalt be called Cephas, which is by interpretation, A stone.
44 Now Philip was of Bethsaida, the city of Andrew and Peter.
45 Philip findeth Nathanael, and saith unto him, We have found him, of whom Moses in the law, and the prophets, did write, Jesus of Nazareth, the son of Joseph.
46 And Nathanael said unto him, Can there any good thing come out of Nazareth? Philip saith unto him, Come and see.
47 Jesus saw Nathanael coming to him, and saith of him, Behold an Israelite indeed, in whom is no guile!
48 Nathanael saith unto him, Whence knowest thou me? Jesus answered and said unto him, Before that Philip called thee, when thou wast under the fig tree, I saw thee.
49 Nathanael answered and saith unto him, Rabbi, thou art the Son of God; thou art the King of Israel.

John 2:13-22.

13 And the Jews' passover was at hand, and Jesus went up to Jerusalem.
14 And found in the temple those that sold oxen and sheep and doves, and the changers of money sitting:
15 And when he had made a scourge of small cords, he drove them all out of the temple, and the sheep, and the oxen; and poured out the changers' money, and overthrew the tables;
16 And said unto them that sold doves, Take these things hence; make not my Father's house a house of merchandise.
17 And his disciples remembered that it was written, The zeal of thine house hath eaten me up.
18 Then answered the Jews and said unto him, What sign shewest thou unto us, seeing that thou doest these things?
19 Jesus answered and said unto them, Destroy this temple, and in three days I will raise it up.
20 Then said the Jews, Forty and six years was this temple in building, and wilt thou rear it up in three days?
21 But he spake of the temple of his body.
22 When therefore he was risen from the dead, his disciples remembered that he had said this unto them, and they believed the Scripture, and the word which Jesus had said.

Adamson Law Decision.

Agreement by the disputants, some hours in advance, left nothing immediately practical in the way of results for the supreme court to establish by its decision upholding the Adamson eight-hour law, beyond imposing a legal status upon the peace pact. But the decision is one of the vital and far-reaching constitutional settlements made by the court.

Stated in its lowest terms, the decision means that the constitutional power of congress to regulate interstate commerce has no defined limits. That power is made in this decision to appear broad enough to reach almost any possible circumstance or condition. Congress has the power to fix wages and to establish hours of labor and conditions of employment, just as it has power to delegate to the interstate commerce commission authority to fix rates Whatever may be essential or necessary to an effectual maintenance of interstate commerce, congress is authorized to deal with. Certainly congress will never be called upon to determine by law any matters that a few years ago would have been considered so radical and so outside the pale of a proper, safe, conservative and constitutional interference with interstate commerce as the fixing of wages and the establishment of hours. All that, however, has been settled in a decision upon issues raised but little more than half a year since.

Perhaps there would be a more settled confidence in the stability of this ruling had not the court divided itself as nearly as possible into equal bodies of opinion. The affirmation of the Adamson act was accomplished by a vote of five to four. It is to be noted that among the five affirming were Chief Justice White, who delivered the opinion, and Justice McKenna, the two justices who in point of service are the oldest on that bench. Justice White's support of the law and his opinion affirming it carry great weight and will do much to breed confidence in the major opinion of the court. In any event, the decision nails down the Adamson law and it defines additionally the great scope of congressional power to deal intimately and minutely with questions of interstate commerce.

Patriotic Revival.

It is a privilege none should refuse to embrace, this evening, to join in the welcome home to the national guardsmen of the two military units that went from this city to the Mexican border last summer. It is properly felt that these young soldiers deserve some token of the community's appreciation of their services to their country. An interesting and suitable program has been arranged in which the details are purposed to afford opportunity for a lively revival of patriotism in Fort Wayne. Perhaps patriotism is under no stress for a revival, but it will be strengthened and quickened in an occasion to show itself and voice itself. There will be a great throng of the city's people in this demonstration. It should include the participation of every person in Fort Wayne who is able to get to the center of things this evening. It is designed to be a patriotic outpouring of all the people of the city and lines will be drawn on no one who wants to join his appearance and his voice to the demonstration. Citizens of alien birth will have as much right and as hearty a welcome and as loyal a fellowship with the crowd as those who trace an American ancestry to Jamestown or Plymouth Rock. The spirit of the affair is Americanism—sane, sound and true. They are happily less than a handful among us who cannot come to this great meeting with that spirit glowing and throbbing in their breasts. We believe this demonstration is going to surprise even those who have made arrangements. We hope so; you hope so. Let all of us together help to make it so.

There is a stern and warlike note in the words of Josephus Daniels, who as secretary of the navy says he doesn't know what the navy can do against the submarine campaign, but whatever it can it will. That ought to set red terror stalking through Teutonic lands.

A WONDERFUL DECADE.

(Philadelphia Record.)

When the great historian of the future plans his monumental work upon man and his doings since the creation of the world one seems justified in believing that he will devote no little of his important space to that particular decade, from 1911 to 1920, in which we are now so fortunate as to live. When has mankind seen its like? Not even the period of the French revolution contained such dramatic episodes and such changes of vast and world-wide importance.

Russia's astonishing transformation, by which the last of the great autocracies is converted into a constitutional monarchy, is but the last so far of a kaleidoscopic series of amazing shifting scenes and overturns. The first month of the year 1911 witnessed the overthrow of the Diaz regime in Mexico, and Italy's war upon Turkey and conquest of Tripoli. In the year following the Turk was beaten to his knees by the Balkan nations and his long agony of misgovernment in Europe almost ended. This was quickly followed by the second Balkan war in 1913, and in 1914 Germany let loose all the furies by backing Austria in her onslaught on Servia. This most terrible of all wars still rages, with every promise of lasting at least another year.

While Europe has been convulsed, China has awakened from her long sleep, expelled the ruling Manchus and proclaimed a republic. Persia has also witnessed a dynastic revolution and has almost ceased to exist as a distinct nation. Among the other changes of government Portugal passed from a monarchy to a republic.

There have been great doings, political and peaceful, in the United States, and more seem destined to come. And there are still four years of this wonderful decade in which Hades may yet break loose in unsuspected quarters. Russia's example may prove contagious to some of her neighbors. A wonderful period, regarding whose doings the historans will be busily writing for centuries to come.

FILIBUSTERS.

La Follette, Stone, Clapp, Cummins, O'Gorman, Lane, Kenyon, Kirby, Works, Norris, Gronna, Vardaman—filibusters—daschund barks coming from under the disguise of American flags—made a notable speech the other day as Americans, with the words coming through a pretzel. What did they do?

Well, we'll tell you, George, in our language so that anybody can understand it—even ballplayers—the services they did for our president and country. Supposing a fella was drowning and calling for help. This bunch ran up to the shore and threw the drowning man more water. Or a fire, they helped put it out with gasoline and more wood. The train came rushing on to the open trestle, they saved the train from disaster by greasing the rails and flying green lights. The runaway horse ran wildly down the crowded street, they hopped into a taxi, got ten feet ahead of the horse and stayed that way, then held out a feedbag full of oats and a pitchfork full of hay. There you are. Ain't we all proud of our twelve cute senators? Dear brothers, next Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 brother La Follette will hold a crochet party at his house to make chest protectors for the Amazons. Tea and vanilla wafers will be served and I trust you will all be present.

GEORGE IS GRANDPA.

George Betzler, of West Wayne street, wore a big, long smile Tuesday morning. He also passed cigars to his friends. It wasn't his birthday either, nor his wife's. He did not fall heir to a large fortune either. He isn't the proud father of a baby boy, but his son is. He received word Tuesday morning that he was now a grandpa. And it is the first time, too. Francis George Betzler is the name of a big baby boy which arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John G. Betzler, of Chicago, some time Monday. George has not seen his grandson as yet, but he states that he bets he's a dandy.

LODGE NOTES

Secretary Gaylord S. Morton has mailed cards to every member of the Fort Wayne lodge No. 155, B. P. O. E., requesting them to be present Tuesday night and march in the patriotic parade. He expects 1,400 to be present. On Thursday evening final action will be taken on the proposed amendments of the constitution. The first after Lent social functions of the lodge will be a ball and reception on Easter Monday, April 9.

Lee J. Hartzell spoke Monday evening at a meeting of the Capt. J. B. White camp, Sons of Veterans, on the need of loyalty and patriotism on the part of every citizen. A company of Boy Scouts gave a demonstration at this meeting which was met with great applause. A resolution was passed at the meeting of this lodge commending and approving the action of Elias H. Bookwalter in displaying the Stars and Stripes in the windows of the recorder's office in the county court house.

Three applications were acted upon at a meeting of Phoenix lodge No. 101, Knights of Pythias, held Monday evening. Three visitors from the east were present.

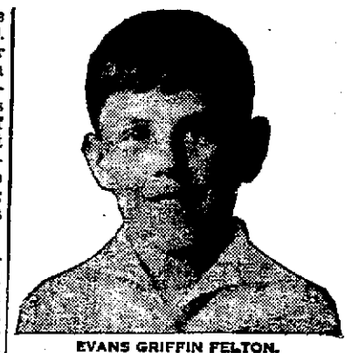
Nine Year Old South Bend Boy Loses Little Time From School

If more parents would follow the advice of Mr. J. M. Felton, 116 E. Broadway, South Bend, Ind., their children wouldn't lose much time from school on account of colds. The important thing is to treat these troubles at the first symptom. Keep plenty of fresh air in the bedroom, and at night apply a good application of Vick's VapoRub Salve, leaving the covering loose around the neck, so the vapors arising may be inhaled. Mr. Felton gives his experience as follows:

"About a week ago our nine year old boy came home from school with a cold—pain in his head and high fever. We put him to bed and applied Vick's VapoRub up his nostrils and over his chest, then covered with a warm flannel cloth and in the morning the pain in his head was gone and in two days he went back to school and has been well since. VapoRub is the best we have ever used."



EVANS GRIFFIN FELTON.

VapoRub relieves by absorption through the skin, taking out the tightness and soreness, and also by inhalation as a vapor. These soothing, antiseptic vapors loosen the phlegm and open the air passages. Three sizes.

THE STORY OF LLANO GRANDE AND THE FORT WAYNE BOYS WHO GUARDED THE VALLEY OF THE LOWER RIO GRANDE.

Fort Wayne's soldier boys are home from the border.

After eight months in the Texas sands, the Hoosier soldiers are mustered out and have returned to their civic duties. Fort Wayne has planned a welcome for them, an affair to take place today.

It is not only to welcome the returning guardsmen, but to display its patriotism that Fort Wayne has set aside this day. In these times of national peril there can not be too great a display of patriotic feeling, and Fort Wayne should do its best to make itself for one day at least the most enthusiastically American city on the continent.

But Fort Wayne hardly realizes what her boys have done in the sands of Texas. Bits of information coming in letters to parents and friends have told some of the story, but never has an exhaustive resume of the work and life of the Hoosier citizen soldiery on the border been written.

The President's Call.

The call of President Wilson, for guard troops to protect the border on the night of the 18th of last June, found Fort Wayne with a miserably small, but efficient guard quota. An infantry organization of about forty men comprised the Summit City's offering.

Captain John E. Miller, then in command o fthis company, which at that time was a portion of the separate infantry battalion of state troops, started out the night of the call to recruit his outfit to war strength.

Assisted by his son, Lieutenant Miller, and Captain Ray McAdams, at that time first lieutenant of the company, in less than four days the number of men had passed the required war strength and E company was ready to move.

Then came the first drills at Fort Benjamin Harrison for the green recruits, who had joined at the president's call. Those were days of anxious waiting, and days of labor for every man in the command. Many of the boys, green and unhardened, went out and worked in field drills hour after hour and day after day, and presently it became apparent that the Fort Wayne company was one of the best in the Indiana brigade.

Paper work, wrapped in endless miles of army red tape, was new to the militia officers. And the regular army mustering officers were impatient, and because the militiamen did not understand what they had never been taught, they became soured on the guard. But the Fort Wayne officers and enlisted men went about their duties and did their best, and each day their best became a little better.

Captain John E. Miller, grown exaggerated about the waist line, with good feeding and the comforts of home, found that he could not pass the physical examination, because he was over the weight limit. It was sad for this old guardsman to have to stay behind, but he was happy too at the thought that he was sending to the front a company well officered and with a lot of men as anxious to learn and as hard-working as any on those green fields at the fort.

So early in July the Fort Wayne infantry outfit left Indianapolis for "somewhere on the border," as a part of the newly organized First Indiana infantry, under the command of Colonel Leslie Naftzgar.

The Battery Organized.

For many years Fort Wayne had supported a battery of field artillery, but when the government decided that students could be made into soldiers, and interest here seem to fall, the equipment was removed to Purdue university and the local artillery unit was mustered out.

John E. Scheffer decided that Fort Wayne could support a battery, and it was not many weeks after the call that he was organizing the unit which became D battery, first battalion, Indiana field artillery. Leaving Fort Wayne with a war strength outfit, an organization for the most part composed of men who never had known military service, and, too, a pretty green looking lot of rookies, he arrived at Fort Benjamin Harrison with a tought road ahead of him.

If Company E was worked hard, the Battery certainly labored double time and no canteen. But it was not long until it began to shape itself into a military outfit, and it left for the border with a knowledge of what soldiering is, although still was comparatively soft.

Arrive on Border.

Company E went to the border by way of East St. Louis, Ilmo, Little Rock, Texarkana, San Antonio and Kingsville. Near San Antonio the scenery began to change, and sage brush and mesquite appeared for the first time in the lives of the men who were to become personally acquainted with it to a remarkable txtent.

One rookie looked out of the window of the train.

"Say, fellows," he asked, "what's that queer looking bush?"

"Why, that's cactus," said the man who had lived in Arizona on his uncle's ranch.

"Cactus! Aw, fellows, look quick at the cactus."

Cactus—to quote the versatile Mr. Noah Webster—Pl. Cacti, a kind of prickly plant, a genus of plants, type of the family Cactaceae, consisting of about 300 species.

Mr. Webster is wrong. He didn't count all of them. For Texas boasts more than that number of varieties of the prickly plant.

Llano Grande was the stopping place. One night the train stopped and the guardsmen found that they were at the town of Mercedes (pronounced Mer-say-dees, the accent on the second syllable), and that they were but five miles from the Rio Grande. Three and a half miles further was Llano Grande (pronounced Yano Granday), where their "camp site was waiting."

That Camp Site.

In the first gray heat of the tropic morning they moved on, and in less than an hour were glad to tumble out of the sweaty coaches they had occupied for a week. In the blazing border morning they were marched across a little sandy space, past a blistered white ranch house, and were halted on the edge of a mesquite thicket. Now it isn't the mesquite that's thick in the mesquite thicket, it's the things that grow among the mesquite.

But before you proceed hear ye what is mesquite. It is a Mexican shrub or tree, gnarled, and with leaves like the fronds of a fern, of hard red wood and never growing more than about fifteen or eighteen feet high. And there's about as much shade under a mesquite as there is under a fishing pole.

In among the trees was cactus—or rather, were cacti—all three hundred varieties you read about in Webster's works and then the others thrown in for luck.

This place the boys of Company E were told to convert into a camp site.

That first day will remain clear and red and ugly in the mind of every man who answered the president's call. A sun overhead that was a torment, a wind that breathed with blazing intensity and seemed to make the heat more unbearable, and then a rain, a rain that fell and splattered little hot drops on the backs of the tender guardsmen.

The cactus had to be grubbed out, and the ax-handles and the pick-mattocks, helves and shovels were short, and the limbs of the cactus were long and every time one touched them he carried away a bitter, bleeding spot that was to be sore for weeks to come.

But did the boys of Company E whine and say it couldn't be done, that they were not in condition for such horrible toil in such a horrible land?

THEY DID NOT!

Night found Company E and the remainder of the First Indiana camped in temporary tentage beside its neighbors, the Second and Third Indiana, which had arrived a few days before. It was not a pleasant camping place, to be sure, but the tents—old state issue canvas that leaked badly—held off part of the rain and made a shelter for the weary guardsmen who sank on their blankets and sought sleep in the horrible, feverish, tropic night of early July.

At midday a thermometer in the shade of a mesquite touched 118, and even after dark it played about the hundred mark.

After a night of sweaty attempts to sleep the hot day broke, and the guardsmen began their second twenty-four hours of labor in the sands of lower Texas.

Where Is Llano Grande?

The Rio Grande, making the international boundary between the land of the Mex and the United States, swings southwest at a 45 degree angle from El Paso to the gulf, reaching that body of water just south of Point Isabel. Eighteen miles upstream from the mouth is situated the city of Brownsville, a town of 10,000 people, of whom less than 2,000 are white. The Gulf Coast railroad enters Brownsville from the north, and across the river lies Matamorus, historic Mexican town.

Twenty miles above Brownsville, at the town of Harlingen, a little stub end of a railroad runs west, striking the Rio Grande at San Fordyce. Half way along this line, at a point seventeen and a half miles from Harlingen, is situated a ranch house, and across the track from it a land agents' hotel, Casa Grandes, opened when tourist trains bring the homeseekers down from North Dakota.

Years ago it was a great bunch-grass level, unmarked by tree or shrub, and was called by the Mexican "Llano Grande," or great plain. Then the mesquite came up from the south and the cactus from the west, and soon the land was a tangle of plants that rip and stick and tear.

It was at this place, without a permanent white settlement, without a road, or a man who knew the English language, and only a few scattered Mexican 'dobe huts, that the Fort Wayne boys and 13,000 other guardsmen from Indiana, Minnesota, Nebraska, Oklahoma and Iowa were set down.

The River Guard.

Along the Rio Grande at this point there is no water except what is pumped out of the river. Land companies have built canals leading from gigantic pumps along the river, and the drinking water and irrigation and all water used for any purpose passes through the canals and up into the interior.

Settlers had fled north when the bandit raids began, and the scattered ranch houses and truck farms were deserted. Cotton gins were in ruins after bandit depredations, and sugar mills still smouldered from the effect of the bandit's torch.

Small detachments of regulars guarded the big pumps that supplied the water to Harlingen, LeFeria, Mercedes, Donna, Mission and McAllen, the towns along the railroad six miles back from the river. Ranch houses, in grave danger of looting, situated on the military road half a mile from the river, were practically unprotected.

These places were given the militiamen to guard. There were five, and later six stations to be guarded out of Llano Grande, and the Fort Wayne boys had their work ahead of them. Mercedes pump, Progresso, Champion's Store, Donna pump, San Juan Hacienda, and later the town of Donna itself, all were guarded by Llano Grande troops.

Major Clyde Driesbash, of Fort Wayne, was in command of the battalion on this guard at one time, and later Company E was sent to guard San Juan Hacienda (pronounced San Wan Hah-thee-ain-dah).

In a bare plain, a mile from the river, and twenty-two miles from Llano Grande, stands a ruined sugar mill. Here, as a guard to the mill and its surroundings, the San Juan station was occupied by the Fort Wayne boys.

Trenches were built in every direction, and a surprise attack either by bandits or an invading force was impossible. The tents were set up in the midst of the trenches, and here in the hot January sun and the cold rains of the "northers," as north-wind storms are called, they did their guard.

Trails led to the river, and up and down the desert borderland, and here in the sultry desert noons and in the cool of border moonlight Fort Wayne boys patrolled. Here when the Mexican sand storms broke in fury and made life a torment, when the Texas rains made the trails knee-deep in mud, when the sun blistered the skin or the cold norther chilled the wet guardsmen, Fort Wayne guarded Uncle Sam's backyard.

For six miles up and down stream these patrols marched, always watching for activity on the opposite shore, always on the sharp lookout for bandits, exposed to the worst climate the continent knows in one of the world's most desolate spots, Company E "did its bit."

And back in camp at Llano Grande, when the company was there, it was not a case of sitting by and waiting for something to happen. Mr. John Texas needed roads along his southern border, and it was up to the Indiana soldiers to do their share. Many were the stiff backs and many the man who dropped unconscious at their labor in those days of road building between Mercedes and Llano Grande. Ambulances in a long train went out to the road gang empty and came back loaded. It was terrible work and it left the men weary beyond all belief.

Then there were the days of drilling and the nights of regimental and camp guard, and the two days hikes and the sham battles, all of which contributed to the making of the soldier.

That Brownsville Hike.

In the great fifteen day hike and sham battle of the twenty-three thousand men in the "Brown" and "White" forces, that extended from Llano Grande to Point Isabel and back, the Indiana troops, and especially Company E, proved that they were no longer "untrained guardsmen," that they were no longer "rookies," but that they were soldiers, as fit and capable as the Twenty-six, or the Twenty-eighth, or the Thirty-sixth Infantries of regular service. And Battery D, engaging in an artillery charge at Harlington, put on one of the most spectacular feats in the history of sham warfare.

And the last two days, with the troops under heavy marching orders on a road that was heavier still, the guardsmen marched thirty-five miles in thirty consecutive hours. Each day saw them seventeen and a fraction miles ahead of their camp ground of the night before. That was the feat—and the Indiana brigade marched at the head of the column—that caused the regulars to throw up the sponge and concede that the guardsmen were soldiers. That day when the bands struck up "The Viking," known along the border country as "Indianay" and considered by the troops the state song, when the brown tents of Llano Grande hove into view across the great east parade ground, Fort Wayne and Indiana soldiers stepped out steadily and boldly in the greatest military feat of peace times.

The troops learned to shoot—and Battery D developed into one of the best artillery units on the Palo Alto range, and they learned it as thoroughly as conditions would have permitted.

Fort Wayne has a right to be proud of her returning units. As a member of another regiment, and bound to the local company and battery only by Fort Wayne interests, the writer is willing to concede that the infantry and artillery units which called Fort Wayne their home, were the best trained, the most spirited, the best looking lot of soldiers among all the guards in the lower border country.

Turn out the guard! See the parade Tuesday night. Cheer the boys for the reputation they have made for their home town.

AT THE MAJESTIC.

Warfield Wednesday.

Under the direction of David Belasco and in the world renowned comedy-drama, "The Music Master," David Warfield, America's premier actor, will be seen at the Majestic theater Wednesday.

Of all the successes of Mr. Warfield's stellar career, this is far and away the greatest. Mr. Warfield has made the character of the music master, Herr Anton Von Barwig, all his own. Critics everywhere are a unit in the belief that it is in the class of Booth's "Hamlet" and Jefferson's "Rip Van Winkle." First produced in 1904, it ran for three full seasons on Broadway. This year Mr. Belasco revived it at the Knickerbocker theater, announcing an engagement of eight weeks. This was extended from time to time so that the run totalled twenty weeks, and during all this time there was scarcely a vacant seat in the theater. The company that has been appearing all season with Mr. Warfield will be seen here.

Zimbalist Making a Record.

When Efrem Zimbalist completes his engagement as soloist in the concerts of the annual spring tour of the New York Symphony orchestra, of which Walter Damrosch is conductor and director, the famous Russian violinist will have established a travel record for one season never approached by other concert artists. In the coast-to-coast trip that includes the principal cities of the country in its itinerary the artist will add more than 15,000 miles to his season's travels, making a total of nearly 20,000 miles since his first concert in October.

Brand New Way to Remove Hairy Growths

The vexed question of how to completely banish superfluous hair has been solved at last! By means of the new phelactine process, the hairs entire, roots and all, come out before your very eyes—easily, harmlessly, "quick as a wink." It is so different from the depilatory, electrical and shaving methods, you simply must try it to fully appreciate its remarkable advantages.

Phelactine is perfectly odorless, non-irritating, non-poisonous—a child could eat it without the least injury. It leaves the skin so soft, smooth and hairless, no one could tell you ever had a moustache or other hairy growth. If you will procure a stick of phelactine and follow the simple instructions, you will certainly be astonished and delighted with the result—or druggist will refund the price upon request.

SPRING OPENING AT MERGENTHEIM'S

Store is Beautifully and Artistically Decorated for the Occasion.

Mergentheim's millinery store has been beautifully and artistically decorated for the annual formal spring opening which started there Tuesday and will continue over Wednesday. Manager M. H. Cline and his assistants have been working night and day in an effort to make this spring opening surpass in beauty and display of latest hat styles any previous opening the store has ever had.

The entire store as well as the large display windows are cleverly decorated with Japanese lanterns, Japanese figures and landscapes that are thoroughly in accord with the various colored display of millinery and trimmings.

A new children's department has been added to the store and has been placed in the front of the building. In addition to the exquisite decorations for the opening, the management has secured the services of living models who will wear the millinery from their own workrooms or that selected by managemeent of the store. Mrs. C. A. orton, harpist, and Mr. T. Ciccone, violinist, will furnish the music for this afternoon, tomorrow afternoon and evening.

The large display windows of the store are gorgeously trimmed with Japanese lanterns, drapery, Japanese color schemes, and apple blossoms. The decorations and trimmings are the handiwork of Mr. Lawrence Hood, who is well known in Fort Wayne for his art work in all lines of display.

AT THE PALACE.

WAIT FOR THE PARADE.

New Palace Show Will Be Held This Evening.

The curtain will not rise this evening at the New Palace until after the patriotic parade in honor of the returned soldiers shall have disbanded. This decision was arrived at so as to insure all who wish to attend the show that they need not therefore miss the parade. Then, too, the New Palace employes want to be in on the salute to the returning guardsmen, who answered the call of the president nearly a year ago.

Japan has contributed the headline attraction to the current bill at the New Palace in the person of Mme. Sumiko and her four Geisha girls in a medley of operatic and American rag time airs. These diminutive lassies, bewitchingly pretty in their elaborately colored robes, sing American rag time as thought to the manner born. They have translated one of their songs from English into Japanese.

Lucy Gillett, the girl juggler, whose forte is her ability to combine exquisite feminine grace with every trick, no matter how difficult, is proving one of the varoites on the bill. WOMEN WIN DEBATE.

Decide That the Woman's Responsibility in Home Greater Than Man's.

At the social meeting of the congregation of Wayne street M. E. church, held in the church parlors Monday evening a debate on the subject "Resolved, That woman's responsibility in the house is greater than the man's," went to the affirmative side. Three women, members of Mrs. C. Claud Travis' Sunday school class had the affirmative side, while three members of the Men's Bible class attempted to refute their statements.

Several musical numbers completer the program. Vocal numbers by a trio were among these. Following the program, light refreshments were served. This was one one of a number of social sessions of the church members.

LADIES! DARKEN YOUR GRAY HAIR

Use Grandma's Sage Tea and Sulphur Recipe and Nobody Will Know.

The use of Sage and Sulphur for restoring faded, gray hair to its natural color dates back to grandmother's time. She used to keep her hair beautifully dark, glossy and attractive. Whenever her hair took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect.

But brewing at home is mussy and out-of-date. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for a 50 cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get this famous old preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients, which can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, it becomes beautifully dark and glossy.

Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite for those who desire a more youthful appearance. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.—Advertisement.

FORT WAYNE CHAUTAUQUA.

Redpath Lyceum Under Auspices of University Club Will Give Program.

Arrangements are complete for a chautauqua to be given in Fort Wayne next July under the auspices of the University club. The Redpath Lyceum people are to furnish the speakers and the tent which will house 3,000 people. One of the interesting features will be an address to be given by Miss Jeanette Rankin, the first woman to be elected to the United States congress. Members and officers of the University club are particularly enthusiastic about the arrangements.

FASHIONABLE FULLNESS IN SOFT BLOUSES.

BY BETTY BROWN.

New York, March 17.—Georgette crepe, unstarched cottons and linens go to the making of the most artistic summer blouses. Poorly designed garments of soft stuff always look scant and skimpy. The best models are cut on very generous lines, as in today's illustration of a Lucille blouse.

The huge collar emphasizes the curve of the shoulders and the enormous bishop sleeves drape rather than conceal well-rounded arms.

HAIR COMING OUT?

Dandruff causes a feverish irritation of the scalp, the hair roots shrink, loosen and then the hair comes out fast. To stop falling hair at once and rid the scalp of every particle of dandruff, get a 25-cent bottle of Danderine at any drug store, pour a little in your hand and rub well into the scalp. After a few applications the hair stops coming out and you can't find any dandruff.—Advertisement.

CHILD GETS SICK CROSS, FEVERISH IF CONSTIPATED

"California Syrup of Figs" can't harm tender stomach or bowels.

A laxative today saves a sick child tomorrow. Children simply will not take the time from play to empty their bowels, which become clogged up with waste, liver gets sluggish; stomach sour.

Look at the tongue, mother! If coated, or your child is cross, feverish, breath bad, restless, doesn't eat heartily, full of cold or has sore throat or any other children's ailment, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," then don't worry, because it is perfectly harmless, and in a few hours all this constipation poison, sour bile and fermenting waste will gently move out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. A thorough "inside cleansing" is oftimes all that is necessary. It should be the first treatment given in any sickness.

Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly printed on the bottle. Look carefully and see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company—Advertisement.

A Simple Home-Made Remedy that Gets at the Cause.

Thousands of people normally healthy in every other respect, are annoyed with a persistent hanging-on bronchial cough year after year, disturbing their sleep and making life disagreeable. It's so needless—there's an old home-made remedy that will end such a cough easily and quickly.

Get from any druggist "2½ ounces of Pinex" (50 cents worth), pour it into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup. Begin taking it at once. Gradually but surely you will notice the phlegm thin out and then disappear altogether, thus ending a cough that you never thought would end. It also promptly loosens a dry or tight cough, stops the troublesome throat tickle, soothes the irritated membranes that line the throat and bronchial tubes, and relief comes almost immediately. A day's use will usually break up an ordinary throat or chest cold, and for bronchitis, croup, whooping cough and bronchial asthma there is nothing better. It tastes pleasant and keeps perfectly.

Pinex is a most valuable concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, combined with guaiacol and is used by millions of people every year for throat and chest colds with splendid results.

To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with full directions and don't accept anything else. A guarantee of absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded goes with this preparation. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

GYPSY QUEEN WILL RETURN FOR JUSTICE

Has Gone from Fort Wayne, But Not Forever, She Said.

Alma Lorrel, the dark-eyed gypsy queen, has disappeared from Fort Wayne as suddenly as she arrived, two weeks ago. She dare not return to her race of roving folk since she associated with Earl Reed, 29, who roomed at 1345 Sherman street, she declared. Where she has gone nobody in Fort Wayne knows.

A sister-in-law of Reed's in whose home she stayed while in Fort Wayne, after her thrilling escape from the vigilance of her parents, in Columbus, Ohio, in order to be with Reed, has only her statement, made the day before she fairly vanished from the home:

"I don't get justice now. I come back some day for justice," Alma said, and her black eyes snapped fire.

Police court attaches who heard of the girl's statement have visions of a flashing dagger and a small dark figure fleeing down a black alleyway. They fear for Reed's safety and say so frankly. Possibly the gypsy woman will secure the aid of other members of her nomad, wild-hearted family in seeking vengeance on the man who she says she loves.

But Alma was not in police court, Tuesday morning and Judge Kerr dismissed the case in which Reed is charged with enticing a woman into improper relations. Reed's attorney says: "That is the last of the case." But is it?

Mostly Accidental.

Tim Tinsley, who recently returned with his wife from Oklahoma, was in a bad mood Monday night, it is charged. He broke glasses and wrecked a trunk in the rooming house on Montgomery street, where he and his wife were staying, it was claimed.

Tinsley pleaded guilty to the disorderly charge, but said that his disastrous attitude was largely accidental. He just chanced to let a large, cut-glass dish crash to the floor and he did not mean to wreck the trunk when he was getting some articles of wearing apparel from it, he told. His case was continued until Wednesday, when version of the landlady as to just how much of Tinsley's destructiveness was caused by accident, will be given.

Will Leave City.

Oscar Shaw and Gertrude Busher, said to be man and wife, will move their few belongings from a Baker street rooming house and leave Fort Wayne at once. So they promised Judge Kerr.

Shaw was charged with taking money from an expressman whom he is claimed to have taken to his Baker street apartment. The woman told that Shaw is not her husband and that he had induced her to come here from Ohio. Misstatements were made by both the man and woman. The easiest way for Fort Wayne to solve the general tangle was to send the pair out of town, Judge Kerr thought.

Other Police Court Cases.

William Parry, plumber, charged with assault and battery on a woman, will be tried on Thursday. A compromise between Parry and the husband of the woman, who claimed that Parry assaulted her, is expected.

Mathew Rubner, charged with disorderly conduct, will be tried on Wednesday. Fred Carlton was released after pleading guilty to a loitering charge.

Cases of public intoxication were William Lennon, colored, fined $5; Robert Boyne, colored, $1; John Brown, $5; J. A. Williams, $5; Charles Moran, $5, and William Barnwell, released.

The woman was alone at the time, the body being found in the bath room by a niece on her return from school. Mrs. Gregg had been visiting here three weeks. Despondency over ill health is the cause. She was about 40 years old.

Mrs. Ves Baker and son went to Monroe to join the family in making that place their future home.

Mrs. C. T. Rainier went to Monroe to visit with her daughter, Mrs. Forest Andrews.

John H. Heller and son, Dick, returned from Bloomington, where they were guests of Dewight and Robert Peterson and attended the basketball tournament.

Mrs. Cora Shady, a waitress at the Eagle cafe, has resigned there and has taken a position as waitress at the Martin restaurant.

Mrs. Fred Miller returned to Fort Wayne. She visited here with the Jacob Miller family.

E. E. Brown is learning the duties of motorman, and Dorse Stalter the duties of conductor on the Decatur-Fort Wayne interurban.

Mrs. H. L. Merry and mother arrived from Mendon, Mich. Mrs. Merry had been visiting there at her former home.

Mrs. H. W. Vitz and daughter, Adele, returned to their home in Indianapolis after a visit here with Mrs. Vitz' father, Rev. Spies.

George Bergman, of Fort Wayne, and Mrs. Hattie Martz, telephone operator of Geneva, were married here at the county clerk's office by Judge D. E. Smith.

Peter Musser was granted a divorce from Katie Leach Musser. He was prohibited from remarrying for two years.

Will Roop, prominent Blue Creek township farmer, is said to be seriously ill of gall stones.

Rev. J. H. Rilling of the Evangelical church officiated at the wedding of Otto Hoffman, teacher, of near Willshire, O., and Miss Verna Owens. The welding took place at the Charles Knodle home.

Miss Ida Reinking, of Union township, returned from a several days' visit with her sister, Mrs. Bosecker, in Fort Wayne.

Miss Jane Long, of Bluffton, was a guest of Miss Frances Mougey over Sunday.

Miss Helena Keller returned to her work in Fort Wayne. She was the guest of Misses Marie and Naomi Gass.

Mr. and Mrs. John Koop and daughter, Marcella, of Fort Wayne; Rev. and Mrs. Hinz and Mr. and Mrs. Louis Mailand were guests of Mrs. L. Bultemeier and daughter, Luella, at dinner.

Mrs. Jesse Dailey is entertaining the Sewing club this afternoon.

Ernest Frantz, prominent Root township farmer, dropped dead of heart trouble at his home after a few minutes' illness. He was about 74 years old. He and his wife celebrated their golden wedding last October.

Miss Lela Lewton, who was the guest of friends here, returned to Fort Wayne.

Mrs. M. D. Smith, of Lexington, Ky., is the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Balsma.

Mrs. Florence Hogston returned to Fort Wayne. She visited here with the Gilbert Strickler and A. M. Shoaf families.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Sheets and sister, Mrs. R. H. White, of Preble, went to Fort Wayne, where Mrs. Sheets took medical examination at the hospital.

Miss Ada Stevens went to Fort Wayne. She was called there by word that her sister-in-law, Mrs. Edwin Stevens, is very low of pneumonia. Mr. Stevens is also quite ill.

NEW RUSSIA IS CREATED

Tyranny Endured and Bad Faith in War Stood to Breaking Point.

London, March 20.—The following manifesto has been issued by the Russian provisional government to the nation, according to Reuter's Petrograd correspondent.

"Citizens: The great work has been accomplished. By a powerful stroke the Russian people have overthrown the old regime. A new Russia is born. The coup d'etat has set the keystone upon long years of struggle.

"Under pressure of awakened national forces, the act of October 30, 1905, promised Russia constitutional liberties which were never put into execution. The first duma, the mouthpiece of national wishes, was dissolved. The second duma met the same fate and the government, being powerless to crush the national will, decided by the act of June, 16, 1907, to deprive the people of part of the legislative rights promised them.

Lost All Rights They Had Won.

"During the ensuing ten years, the government successfully withdrew from the people all the rights they had won. The country was again thrown into the abyss of absolute ruin and administrative arbitrariness. All attempts to make the voice of reason heard were vain and the great world struggle into which the country was plunged, found itself face to face with moral decadence and power not united with the people—power indifferent to the country's destinies, and steeped in vices and infamy.

"The heroic efforts of the army, crushed under the cruel weight of internal disorganization, the appeals of the national representatives who were united in view of the national danger, were powerless to lead the emperor and his government into the path of union with the people. Thus, when Russia, by the illegal and disastrous acts of her governor was faced with the greatest disasters the people had to take the power into their own hands.

Unanimous for Revolution.

"With unanimous revolutionary spirit, the people, fully realizing the seriousness of the moment and the firm will of the duma, established a provisional government, which considers that it is their sacred duty to realize national desires and lead the country into the bright path of free civil organization. The government believes that the lofty spirit of patriotism that the people have shown in the struggle against the old regime also will animate our gallant soldiers on the battle fields.

"On its side the government will do its utmost to provide the army with everything necessary to bring the war to a victorious conclusion. The government will faithfully observe all alliances uniting us to other powers and all agreements made in the past. While taking measures indispensible for the defense of the country against a foreign enemy the government will consider it is its first duty to grant to the people every facility to express its will concerning political administration and will convoke as soon as possible a constituent assembly on the basis of universal suffrage at the same time assuring the gallant defenders of the country their share in the parliamentary elections. The constituent assembly will issue fundamental laws guaranteeing the country the immutable rights of quality and liberty.

Liberty and Equality.

"Concious of the burden of the political oppression weighing on the country and hindering the free creative forces of the people during years of painful hardships, the provisional government deems it necessary even before the constituent assembly to announce to the country its principles, assuring political liberty and equality to all citizens making free use of their spiritual forces in creative work for the benefit of the country. The government also will take care to elaborate the principles assuring all citizens uparticipation in communal elections which will be carried out on a basis of universal suffrage.

"At the moment of national emancipation the whole country recalls with Pious gratitude those who in the struggle for their political and religious ideas fell victims of the vengeance of the old power and the provisional government will joyfully bring back from exile and prison all those who thus suffered for the good of their country.

"In realizing these problems, the provisional government believes it is executing the national will and that the whole people will support it in its efforts to ensure the happiness of Russia."

KUCHER IS NAMED.

Theophile J. Kucher has been appointed deputy oil inspector for Fort Wayne by Carl H. Mote, the newly appointed chief inspector. Kucher will succeed Pat Bresnahan, who had been holding that position for the children of the late Tom Bresnahan, who was originally slated for the appointment. The new inspector was deputy controller under Mayor Grice.

ABLE TO RETURN HOME.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lee, who were operated upon three weeks ago at St. Joseph hospital, will return to their home, 1203 St. Mary's avenue, the latter part of the week.

TO ATTEND FUNERAL OF FIREMAN IN BODY

Council to Order Respects to Deceased Fire Fighter, Tuesday Night.

City council, assembled as a committee of the whole Tuesday evening, will ask all city officials to arrange to attend, in a body, the funeral of George W. Jasper, for twenty-three years a city fireman and who died suddenly Tuesday morning. Resolutions of respect for the valiant assistant chief will be ordered drawn up in behalf of the city by the council body.

Councilmen will meet, with all other officials, at the corner of Harrison and Wayne streets at 7 o'clock Tuesday evening to take part in the patriotic parade. After the demonstration of national loyalty the council members will go to the city hall for a special session of the committee of the whole.

Topic of business is whether the salaries of waterworks employes shall be raised. Councilmen have varied views on the subject. Some of the members believe that the waterworks men are being paid sufficient at this time. Others think that they should have been given a raise along with police and firemen. It is expected that increase for waterworks employes will be allowed.

SHOWS PLANS.

Fine Organization in New Bowser Office Building.

S. F. Bowser laid plans for the new five story office building, which will stand at the southeast corner of Creighton and Bowser avenues, and upon which work will start soon, before the members of the board of works Monday afternoon. The structure, in connection with the Bowser Tank works, will be one of the most completely organized office structures in the middle west.

Rest room, kitchen, restaurant, first aid department for employes who may meet with slight accidents while about their work, will be included in the building. Creighton avenue is to be widened ten feet in front of the building in order that automobiles may be parked before the structure without congesting traffic.

Building Permits.

Building permits were issued to L. M. Bauer to build frame residence, 1305 California avenue, $3,500; Railroaders Realty company, construct dwelling, 2317 North Clinton street, $3,000; Joseph Bundy, dwelling, 1827 Alabama avenue, $2,500; J. F. Dennis, repair house, 2850 Gay street, $500, and Fort Wayne House Wrecking company, build temporary shed, North Clinton street, $350.

File Expenses.

Latest candidates in the recent primary election to file their expense accounts were: Frank H. Kleekamp, democrat, candidate for city judge, $82; W. J. Whitman, republican, candidate for council from Ninth ward, $9.75, and F. J. Schwanz, democrat, candidate for councilman at large, $14.50.

Water Turned On.

Water from the No. 2 pumping station was turned into the city mains Monday night. Water from the No. 2 system has been pronounced "satisfactory" by J. C. Diggs, state chemist.

Bowser Buys Lots.

S. F. Bowser company purchased the lot offered for sale by the city on Tuesday. The lot, located on Reed street, had been originally purchased for a fire engine site for the Tenth ward.

To Talk Subway.

Assistant Superintendent Currier, of the New York Central lines, will be in Fort Wayne Wednesday morning to discuss plans for elevating the New York Central tracks over Elizabeth street. Meeting of Mayor Hosey and members of the works board has been called for conference with Currier at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning.

LINCOLN HIGHWAY FARMHOUSE DAMAGED

The farm house of Mrs. August Racine, situated on the Lincoln highway, three miles from the city, and less than a hundred yards from the new Lincoln school, was damaged by a roof fire at noon Tuesday. Firemen from Central engine house in a motor truck made the run to the place and extinguished the blaze before the loss amounted to $50. Reports in the city to the effect that the Lincoln school was on fire caused many motorists to make hurry-up runs to the place.

IN SERIOUS CONDITION.

Cyrus M. Miller, a farmer of Pleasant township and a brother to Assessor Edwin Miller, is in a serious condition at St. Joseph's hospital suffering from what is believed to be blood poisoning. His hand was injured a few days ago as the result of a gasoline engine explosion.

W. L. ENLIST WOMEN IN THE NAVAL SERVICE

Washington, March 20.—Secretary Daniels today ordered naval commandants at shore stations and all recruiting officers to be prepared to enlist women in the actual naval service, in case of an emergency.

The judge advocate general has ruled that women can be enlisted under the laws regulating recruiting. While it is not intended to place women aboard ships they may be utilized for shore duty in connection with coast defense. Grades corresponding to the yeomen class will be given to those qualifying as stenographers, clerks, typists or similar positions. Training in camps, a number of which have been organized under the auspices of the navy league also will be recognized by navy officials as a factor in choosing the women recruits. Another grade which may be designed is that of radio telegraphy and other communication divisions. Difficulty in obtaining men stenographers from the regular enlisted personnel caused the question of women's employment to be taken up.

COAL MINERS TO GET INCREASE OF WAGES

Columbus, O., March 20.—Ohio mine operators are holding a joint conference with the executive board of mine workers of Ohio here today to consider the proposition of granting to the miners a 10 per cent increase in wages effective April 1, on account of the high cost of living. If Ohio operators grant the increase or bonus, it is said, other states in the central competitive field including Indiana, Illinois and western Pennsylvania, may do likewise. Any increase that is granted would be entirely voluntary and outside of the present wage contract, which does not expire until March 31, 1918. The meeting here today is only for Ohio operators and miners.

CZAR ATTEMPTED TO STEM REVOLUTION

Tokio, March 17, 7:30 a. m.—(Delayed.)—According to information received here from Russia the Russian emperor was on a train outside of Petrograd when the revolution took place. He sent General Ivanhoff into the capital to rally the troops to the imperial defense but the general found the soldiers had gone over to the revolutionists and that the emperor's cause was hopeless. It is believed here that any grave disorder in Russia is unlikely unless the former emperor provokes internal war in an effort to regain his throne. The foreign office has been advised that the revolution has removed any danger of a separate peace between Germany and Russia.

VAST RUSH TO GET SUBMARINE CHASERS

Washington, D. C., March 20.—Th Orleans navy yard was today ordered to build at once four submarine chasers. The New York yard yesterday was ordered to build sixty.

The department had called upon all navy yards fitted to undertake small boat construction to submit estimates as to the number of submarine chasers they can turn out quickly. The Mare Island, Portsmouth, Boston, Charleston and other yards probably will be assigned to construction of chasers to the full extent of their capacity. It is possible that the construction of 150 or 200 chasers may be provided for in this way in addition to 200 or more to be offered tomorrow from private builders. The chasers are designed to do 35 knots and will be equipped with triple propellors and full capacity for long cruising radius.

MISSING MEN OF MEMPHIS HEARD FROM

New York, March 20.—A cablegram telling of the arrival at Glasgow, Scotland, of the missing eight officers and men of the crew of the American freight steamship City of Memphis, sunk last week in the German submarine zone off the British Isles, was received here today by W. H. Pleasants, president of the Ocean Steamship company, of Savannah, owners of the vessel. With the safety of these men assured, it becomes certain that the destruction of the City of Memphis involved no loss of American lives. The cablegram received here today was sent from Glasgow by Captain L. P. Borum of Norfolk, master of the lost freighter, and reads: "Memphis sunk seventeenth. Ship's boats separated during night. Three boats containing 48 men reported landed Irish coast. Myself and remaining landed Glasgow. Trying to assemble crew." Some hours after the freighter was sunk the life boat which was known to have contained the captain and seven companions, was found empty at sea and it had been surmised that the men had either been taken aboard the German submarine, or had been rescued by a ship not carrying wireless. The owners here are without information as to how the men reached Glasgow.

HAVE NEW PLAN TO DISTRIBUTE PAPER

Washington, March 20.—The trade commission plans to revise the sale and distribution of newsprint paper through a board which will represent all interests concerned. The board, to be named as soon as a price fixing pool proposed by the manufacturers finally is arranged, will comprise five members, one each from the manufacturers, large publishers, small publishers and the trade commission. The trade commission representative will operate the pool from offices in New York. Other members of the board will serve in an advisory capacity and their powers will be purely ministerial.

Manufacturers who have been accused of intimidating publishers into remaining out of the price fixing arrangements have, it is understood, assured the committee, if there should be any intimidation, subordinates have been responsible and officers of the companies themselves have not countenanced it. Members of the trade commission, just back from New York, where they urged on publishers the necessity for strict economy in the use of newsprint, say the war situation threatened a new condition in which the newsprint demand threatenes to cripple production.

READY TO ARRAIGN 150 INDICTED MEN

Indianapolis, Ind., March 20.—More than 150 indicted recently by the federal grand jury, charged with violations of the election laws in some manner, are to be arraigned tomorrow in the United States district court before Judge A. B. Anderson. The filing of a demurrer to the indictments is expected on the part of the lawyers representing at least some of the defendants. The indicted men will come from Evansville, Frankfort, Gary and Indianapolis.

SAFETY FIRST WORK IN MINES.

Washington, March 20.—Circulars in foreign languages and embodying lessons in first aid to the injured are to be distributed by the bureau of mines in furtherance of its safety first campaign among the million miners in the United States. The first of a series of circulars has been issued in Italian, Polish and Slovak. In announcing the plan, Secretary Lane said: "It is not only an additional effort toward safety of the miners but is also a step in the line of good citizenship."

CONGRESS HAS FULL POWERS IN RAIL STRIKE

New York, March 20.—Full power by the government through congress to prevent railroad strikes, in the opinion of the railroads, as expressed here today, is the country's chief gain from the decision by the United States supreme court yesterday upholding the Adamson act. An official spokesman for the national conference committee of railroad managers authorized the following statement:

"The chief thing that the country has gained out of this decision is that it establishes beyond doubt that the government through congress has full power to prevent railroad strikes. The opinion as read makes it plain that employes of interstate carriers, because of the public character of the railroads, are affected with a public interest and they have no more right to strike and tie up the commerce of the country than have soldiers and sailors.

"It is understood that Secretary Lane who was chiefly instrumental in bringing about the settlement, believes that this broad opinion from the court as to the public duties of the employes is the most important thing gained."

WAR BRIEFS

Berlin, March 20.—Via Sayville—There were several engagements of infantry and cavalry detachments yesterday between British and German forces in the territory on both sides of the river Somme, and the river Oise, abandoned by the Germans, according to the official statement issued today by the army headquarters staff.

The French yesterday and last night directed violent attacks against the German positions on the left bank of the Meuse, the statement adds, but everywhere were repulsed.

Paris, March 20.—12:30 p. m.—The war office announces that the French are still maintaining contact with the Germans along the section of the front over which the retirement is taking place but that the advance has become more difficult by the reason of absence of all communication and bad weather. German attacks at Avercourt wood and Hill 304 on the Verdun front, were repulsed. Serious loss was inflicted on the Germans.

St. John, N. B., March 20.—Sinking of the British steamer Bray Head, by a German submarine March 14, was announced in cable advices received by local agents today from the owners of the vessel at Belfast, Ireland. Captain Hoy and seventeen members of the crew, the message said, were missing.

Amsterdam, March 20.—Via London, 8 a. m.—A telegram received here from Frankfort-on-The-Main says that on March 16 a hostile airplane flew over the town and dropped six small bombs, one of which slightly damaged the roof of a house. The others fell in the river or in fields and caused no damage. The airplane was fired on by anti-aircraft guns. The French war office announced on Saturday that Frankfort-on-The-Main had been bombarded by a French airplane in reprisal for the setting afire of Bapaume.

HOLLAND IS FACING A THORNY COURSE

The Hague, March 17.—Via London, March 20, 4 a. m.—(Delayed)—Government officials are at work on the thorny problems of the admission of armed merchant men to Dutch ports but no official statement as to Holland's attitude was obtainable today. It is understood that so far, there is no divergence from the stand point laid down in the neutrality proclamation of August, 1914, by which all belligerent warships or their equivalents are barred from Dutch ports.

In the event of war being declared between the United States and Germany the attitude of the Dutch government is still problematical.

Third Advertised Letting of State Street Bridge Brings No Results.

Being of the opinion that a heavier bridge was needed at this point than was shown by the plans of the National Concrete company, the board of commissioners rejected all bids for the State street bridge at the third advertised letting of the contract, Tuesday afternoon at 2:40 o'clock.

The National Concrete company, of Indianapolis, was the only firm which submitted a bid at this letting. The bid which they submitted was for $64,000. The appropriation for this bridge by the county was $77,000.

It was brought out in the executive session of the commissioners that the State street bridge would be nearly as large as the Harrison street bridge which cost approximately $71,000, at which time the cost of material and labor were fifty to one hundred per cent. lower than it is now. The Laten plans upon which the National Concrete company based its bid, called for a bridge which would be much lighter than the Coombs street bridge.

A lare number of interested parties waited from ten o'clock Tuesday morning until in the afternoon for the decision of the commissioners.

HAD $500 ON PERSON.

Court Orders Nick Lapidot to Deposit Amount With Clerk.

Two weeks ago Flora Lapidot sued Nick Lapidot for divorce and also asked that an order be given the First National bank restraining it from paying out the $700 which he had deposited there. Nick, however, learned that his wife had sued him for divorce and he drew out the money before the restraining order was issued. It was discovered that he had gotten away with the money and was making plans to make his exit from the city. He was caught and was found to have $500 on his person. Tuesday morning Judge Eggeman, of the circuit court, ordered that he pay seven dollars a week for the support of his wife and that the five hundred dollars be deposited with the county clerk.

BROKE ALL THE DISHES.

Marguerite Piepenbrink Sets This Forth in Divorce Complaint.

Complaining that at one time when he came home he broke up all the dishes in the house, destroyed his stepson's bed and broke a number of pieces of furniture, Marguerite Piepenbrink has sued Carl Piepenbrink for divorce. The plaintiff also alleges that the defendant is cruel and inhuman and that at various times he kicked the plaintiff. The complaint further sets forth that the defendant often times becomes intoxicated at which times he is violent and abusive. She asks for an absolute divorce. Byron Hayes is the plaintiff's attorney.

Joseph Adams Says Wife Did Not Use Decent Language.

Joseph Adams has sued Lucy Adams for divorce. In his complaint he sets forth that she called him vile and indecent names which were of such a nature that they could not be set forth in print. The plaintiff further alleges that the fedenfant often times boasted of her conduct with other men and would tell him of her association with them. He asks that the court grant him the custody of a minor child, Howard Adams, aged four months. Hartzell and Todd are his attorneys.

Asks for $1,000.

John Place has sued Grant S. Smith on complaint on an account for wages. He asks that the court give him a judgment for $1,000. C. P. Squires is the attorney for the plaintiff.

Want Flag Poles.

Trustee Hamilton, of Wayne township, has made appeals for flag poles for the various schools in the township. He states that he would be more than willing to supply the needs if there was any money available. He states that if he erects a flag staff and secures a flag for one school that he intends to do it for all the schools.

Will Remove Cast.

C. J. Hutchins, county agent, was at the office Tuesday morning and stated that he intends to remove the cast from his leg in a few days. He states that the injury does not give him any pain.

Agree to Settle.

After the jury had set two hours the Adams township highway case was settled out of court, Monday afternoon. There was only $200 difference between the plaintiffs and the defendants and a compromise was made in some way.

Case Set for Trial.

The case of Andrew Rudowski against George Lloyd has been set for trial by jury for April 18. This is a damage suit for $2,500.

Dismisses Case.

Court Notes.

A change of venue was taken to the DeKalb county court in the case of Hockworth against Hockworth.

The jail gang was working on the roads at Huntertown, Monday.

Margaret Wilson was granted a divorce from James Wilson and her maiden name of Brown was restored.

TAKEN SERIOUSLY ILL.

E. J. Druley, of this city, who went to Chicago several days ago on a business trip, was taken seriously ill with pneumonia soon after his arrival, and his brother, T. J. Druley, of Walsh and company, was called to his bedside. He is somewhat improved.

Directors Order Work to Begin Soon on Beautification.

Eighteen members of the board of directors of the Concordia Cemetery association met in regular session at St. Paul's Lutheran school hall Monday evening and elected officers for the coming year. Paul Wolf was named president; Charles Scherer, vice president; Fred Landenberger, secretary; August Freese, financial secretary and treasurer, and William Doehrman, Otto Banks and Henry Franke, trustees.

The board of directors ordered that the work on the beautification of the grounds begin as soon as the weather permits. Many changes will be effected and everything will be done in the way of making the cemetery have a very attractive and beautiful appearance.

It is planned to have many new trees and shrubs planted around the edge of the grounds and large flower beds will be placed in the grounds along the driveway and walks. A new walk will also be built.

RUSSIA LIKELY TO BECOME REPUBLIC

Government to Rest for Present With Council of Ministers.

Petrograd, March 19.—Via London, March 20.—Russia's government, it was learned at the foreign office today, will rest exclusively in the control of the council of ministers until the convocation of the constitutional assembly. The duma committee has fulfilled its task as temporary governing body during the days of the revolution and thus will pass out of existence as the chief executive body of the government.

It is impossible as yet to forecast with any certainty the final form the government will assume since it will depend entirely upon the collective will of the entire people. The belief prevails in official circles that the opinion of the country will be found to favor a republican form of government, not under a president, but under a commission similar to the governing body of Switzerland. If this becomes an eventuality, it is not unlikely that from the present cabinet, containing the most popular leaders in the country, will be drawn the principal names of the commission which will govern the country.

In any event the old regime is dead, the foreign office today informed the Associated Press, and nothing can resurrect it. If the people decide upon a monarchy it will be a monarchy of the most limited type and the monarch will be stripped of all the traditional powers which belonged to the emperor and he will be little more than ruler in name only. The foreign office reiterated the declaration already made by the new government concerning the liberty and full rights for all the races which are component parts of the nation, and it was stated since this was applicable to Jews, as well as others, nothing now stood in the way of a new commercial treaty with the United States.

NEW REGIME TAKES WELL IN FINLAND

London, March 20.—Nearly all the district governors and officials in Finland voluntarily resigned when they heard of the revolution and little opposition was shown anywhere towards the new order of things, according to a Copenhagen dispatch to Reuter's, quoted in the Beroinske Tindinde. M. Roditcheff's appointment as the governor of Finland is said to have proved popular as he is known as a staunch advocate of Finnish aspirations. The prisoners in the fortress at Uleaborg have been liberated and the governor and police dismissed.

SEALERS IN CONVENTION.

Indianapolis, Ind., March 20.—The sixth annual conference of state, county and city inspectors of weights and measures opened here today with an address by Governor Goodrich. Dr. H. E. Barnard, state commissioner of weights and measures, discussed the new legislation on weights and measures. Annual reports and a question box occupied the remainder of the time of the opening session. Addresses and discussions of various questions of interest to the weight and measure inspectors were on the afternoon program.

PRETTY DETAIL OF AVIATOR'S FUNERAL

New York, March 20.—Twelve pupils of Peter Carl Millman, 22, one of the government's most capable aviation instructors, will fly over his grave tomorrow and drop flowers at the conclusion of Millman's funeral. Millman died Sunday night of pneumonia after five years' experience as an aviator and many spectacular flights without a serious accident.

Boy Placed in Catholic School by Father Missing Since November.

Warsaw, Ind., March 20.—Johnnie O'Leary, who has been missing from his home in Chicago since November 25, has been located at the St. Michael's academy at Plymouth. Saturday the boy ran out of the school into the arms of his mother and a big automobile whirled them away to Chicago.

The boy left his home on November 25 to go to the St. Lawrence Catholic church where he met his father, John O'Leary, and his aunt, Mrs. Sadie Killian. The father asked his son to accompany them, saying they were going to a ball game. At first the boy refused but finally consented. He was then told he was to have a good education and soon he was taken to the academy at Plymouth.

For months the boy received no word from his mother and many tearful nights followed. On Valentine's day the boy received a valentine inscribed "From Mother," but while at Plymouth the woman stated she had not sent the message.

Mrs. O'Leary was granted a divorce Friday in Chicago. On the same day she received a letter that Johnnie had managed to smuggle out of the school by another boy. The judge gave the woman the custody of the child and as soon as she learned of his whereabouts she hurried to Plymouth to get her boy.

TWO ROBBERIES.

Young Farmer Is Held Up South of Van Wert.

Van Wert, O., March 20.—George Grunewald, who lives about three miles south of town, on the Washington street road, was held up and robbed late Saturday night, while walking from town to his home. He met a horse and buggy on the road and when the outfit drew up to him, two men leaped out and by force relieved him of about $13 in money and a gold ring. The young man was so badly frightened that he did not report the robbery to the officers until Sunday morning, consequently the search for the thieves was greatly retarded.

The office of the Northern Grain Co., on Bonnewitz avenue, was burglarized Sunday night. Entrance was gained by forcing a lock. An examination failed to disclose anything missing. The officers are of the opinion that the burglary was the work of a boy.

PIONEER EDITOR DEAD.

J. W. Armstrong Succumbs at Home in Leesburg.

Leesburg, Ind., March 20.—James W. Armstrong, of this place, one of the pioneers and most prominent men of Kosciusko county, died at his home shortly after 7 o'clock Sunday morning following a sudden attack of acute indigestion. He was 82 years old.

Mr. Armstrong had been in remarkably good health, considering his advanced age and was not seriously ill until taken with the attack of indigestion about 1 o'clock Sunday morning, when physicians were summoned, but his condition grew gradually worse until the end, shortly after 7 o'clock.

SCHOOL BUILDING ENTERED.

Decatur, Ind., March 20.—It is very seldom that boys break into school. But that is what happened at the central school building, presumably Friday night. They pried open a window in a lower room; then pried open the door of the office of Superintendent M. F. Worthman with a crowbar, leaving prints on the floor and gaining entrance, broke open his desk. Only a few pennies were the total of the money in the desk. They turned everything topsy turvy, however, and a few papers, of value to no one except the owner of the desk, are missing. In leaving, the boys, for the burglars are believed to be boys, broke open a side door.

SEPARATE AFTER 7 MONTHS.

Auburn, Ind., March 20.—Mrs. Pearl Forsyth, who for the past six months has resided in the neighborhood of Garrett, has filed a suit for divorce from her husband, Paul Forsyth, in the DeKalb circuit court. The present residence of her husband is unknown, and affidavit is made in the case that he is a non-resident of Indiana. In her complaint Mrs. Forsyth alleges that she and her husband were married June 23, 1915, and separated about February 2 or 3, 1916. Cruel and inhuman treatment is given as the cause why she should have a divorce from her husband.

GIVEN BAD FRIGHT.

Bluffton, Ind., March 20.—Miss Desdalora Brunn, daughter of Charles Brunn, and an operator at the United telephone exchange, was given a bad fright shortly before 10 o'clock, when an unknown man grabbed her arm and then, when she broke away from him, followed her to within a short distance of her home at the corner of Williams and Ohio streets. The man met up with her near the Venis shoe shop on Johnson street and near the Presbyterian church he grabbed her arm. Miss Brunn started to run and he continued behind her until she was within a half block of her home.

FOSTER IS FINED.

Auburn, Ind., March 20.—R. E. Foster, proprietor of the poolroom on the south side of the public square in Auburn, was fined $5 and costs in the court of Mayor McClellan for a bad case of intoxication Saturday night. This is the second aggravated offense of this kind for Foster in the past few months, and the mayor made it plain to him that the third time would mean the limit at the state penal farm.

START SECOND MURDER TRIAL

John C. Spahr Again Being Tried for Killing Arrel Littler at Markle.

Huntington, Ind., March 20.—The second trial of John C. Spahr, former section foreman of the Erie at Markle, on a charge of murder began in the circuit court Monday morning before Clifford F. Jackman, special judge. The first task was the selection of a jury to hear the evidence of the killing of Arrel Littler on the evening of October 9, 1916.

Al Forst, who had served on the grand jury which indicted Spahr, was excused on that ground and Frank Christy, of Warren, was excused for personal reasons before the jury box was filled. The first twelve men to enter the jury box were George Gill, M. L. Vickery, E. E. Fisher, Peter Wendell, Henry Houser, Elmer Settlemyre, John Strobel, Frank Knight, Frank Strauss, A. Wasmuth, Elijah Thompson and Adam Shenkel.

In answers to Milo Feightner for the defense, Frank Strauss and Elijah Thompson said they had opinions concerning the case. Henry Houser asked the court to excuse him from jury duty on the ground that the law firm of Bowers & Feightner was in his employ, and he would feel embarrassed to serve as a juror. Mr. Houser said, in answer to questions, that despite this fact, if he was chosen as a juror, he thought he could, and would, weigh the evidence entirely free from any bias or prejudice.

The state challenged Mr. Houser for cause, and the defense objected. Judge Jackman sustained the objection, and the state finally asked if Mr. Houser had any conscientious scruples against inflicting the death penalty. He said he had, and the court sustained the challenge for cause.

Dan Andrew was the prospective juror who took Mr. Houser's place.

Wolcottville Girl Well Remembered by Her Step-Father.

Kendallville, Ind., March 20.—Miss Ruth Zoll Hammer, 18, a senior in the Wolcottville high school, and one of the charming young ladies of that town, has fallen heir to a fortune aggregating $21,500 and possibly more. She becomes an heiress by provisions of the will of the late Royal Hammer, of Indianapolis. Miss Zoll was an adopted daughter of Hammer's wife, with whom she had resided until the former's death.

Four thousand dollars in gold and $2,500 in silver were found in two safe deposit boxes owned by Royal Hammer, who committed suicide on March 9 in Crown Hill cemetery at Indianapolis. They were opened several days ago by John C. McCloskey, inheritance tax appraiser. The will also bequeaths $15,000 in real estate to Miss Hammer.

Stock certificates found in the boxes are largely mining certificates and are not thought to be of great value, although an appraisement has not been made.

WRECK ON BIG FOUR.

Warsaw, Ind., March 20.—F. A. Miller, traveling freight agent of the Big Four railroad, miraculously escaped death shortly before noon yesterday when two freight cars and a caboose were crushed almost to splinters as they struck an open switch near the east shore of Center lake. The loss resulting from the wreck will reich in the neighborhood of $3,500, according to estimates. One freight car now lies in the lake, one car was overturned and lies at the side of the track and the caboose in which Mr. Miller was riding is a complete wreck.

INDICTMENT QUASHED.

Auburn, Ind., March 20.—A motion to quash was sustained and the indictment dismissed in the DeKalb circuit court Monday in the case of the State against Nie Sheffer, charged with unlawfully mortgaging his personal property to defraud his creditors. Prosecuting Attorney J. R. Nyce will file another affidavit against Sheffer charging him with the same offense.

MOVIE ACTRESSES AND THEIR HAIR

Did it ever occur to you that every movie actress you have seen has lovely hair, while the most popular count their curls as their chief beauty? In fact, many are leading ladies just because of their attractive locks. Inquiry among them discloses the fact that they bring out all the natural beauty of their hair by careful shampooing, not with any soap or makeshift, but with a simple mixture by putting a teaspoonful of canthrox (which they get from the druggist) in a cup of water and applying this instead of soap. This full cup of shampoo liquid is enough so it is easy to apply it to all the hair instead of just the top of the head. After its use, the hair dries rapidly with uniform color. Dandruff, excess oil and dirt are dissolved and entirely disappear. The hair is so fluffy that it looks much heavier than it is, while its lustre and softness is delightful.—Advertisement.

NO STOMACH PAIN, GAS, INDIGESTION IN FIVE MINUTES

"Pape's Diapepsin" is the best antacid and stomach regulator Known.

"Really does" put upset stomachs in order—"really does" overcome indigestion, dyspepsia, gas, heartburn and sourness due to acid fermentation in five minutes—that—just that—makes Pape's Diapepsin the largest selling stomach antacid and regulator in the world. If what you eat ferments and turns sour, you belch gas and eructate undigested food or water; head is dizzy and aches; breath foul; tongue coated; your insides filled with indigestible waste, remember the moment "Pape's Diapepsin" comes in contact with the stomach all such distress vanishes. It's truly astonishing—almost marvelous, and the joy is its harmlessness.

A large fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin is worth its weight in gold to men and women who can't get their stomachs regulated. It belongs in your home—should always be kept handy in case of a sick, sour, upset stomach during the day or at night. It's the quickest, surest antacid for the stomach in the world.—Advertisement.

What a pity she doesn't know that Resinol Soap would clear her skin

"She would be a pretty girl, if it wasn't for that pimply, blotchy complexion!" But the regular use of Resinol Soap, aided at first by a little Resinol Ointment, would probably make it clear, fresh and charming. If a poor skin is your handicap, begin using Resinol Soap and see how quickly it improves.

Resinol Soap and Resinol Ointment are sold by all druggists. For free samples of each, write to Dept. 4-N, Resinol, Baltimore, Md.

OLD PRESCRIPTION FOR WEAK KIDNEYS

A medicinal preparation like Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, that has real curative value almost sells itself. Like an endless chain system the remedy is recommended by those who have been benefited to those who are in need of it.

Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is a physician's prescription. It has been tested for years and has brought results to countless numbers who have suffered.

The success of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is due to the fact that it fulfills almost every wish in overcoming kidney, liver and bladder diseases, corrects urinary troubles and neutralizes the uric acid which causes rheumatism.

Do not suffer. Get a bottle of Swamp-Root from any druggist now. Start treatment today.

However, if you wish first to test this great preparation send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing be sure and mention The Fort Wayne Daily Sentinel.—Advertisement.

FORT WAYNE BOWLER IS SENSATION IN SINGLES AT A. B. C. TOURNEY

Grand Rapids, Mich., March 20.—By narrowly missing the head pin in the tenth frame of his final game in the singles of the American Bowling Congress here yesterday, G. W. (Bill) May, of Fort Wayne, and a member of the Schieffer-Paiges, was cut out of first place and missed breaking the world's record in three-game singles.

May landed five pins behind Otto Kallusch, who is leading. He started striking in the third frame and went all the way through to the tenth frame without a miss. In the last he just scraped the head pin, leaving it standing with three others and lost his chance at the record and the lead. May's final score was 693, while the high man has a count of 698, and the record as shot by W. B. Pierce, of Pueblo, Colo., stands at 711. Four other Fort Wayne bowlers rolled into the money section as follows: Jimmy Beckes, Ed Slagle, Frank Seidler and Carl Suedhoff.

Scores of the Fort Wayne pinmen in singles were as follows:

Won National A. A. U. Basketball Championship Saturday.

Chicago, March 20.—Playing a sparkling game, the Illinois Athletic club of Chicago won the national A. A. U. basketball championship Saturday night, defeating the Brigham Young university team of Provo, Utah, 27 to 14.

The Illinois A. C. played a superior combination game and got away to a flying start, piling up seventeen points in the first half, while the Westerners were scoring eight. Elliot, left forward for the I. A. C., was the individual star.

The third place went to Montana State college, which defeated the Seward Park Blues of Chicago, 16 to 9.

Gold medals and a trophy emblematic of the championship were awarded the I. A. C. players. Silver medals went to the Brigham Young team and bronze medals to the Montana five.

DETROIT FIVES ROLL IN TOURNEY TONIGHT

Big Figures Expected form Teams Slated for the Day.

Grand Rapids, Mich., March 20.—Twenty-three Detroit teams will roll tonight against the 3,051 total that now promises to carry off the team honors of the American bowling congress tournament here after the failure of the powerful squad that shot on the final shift last night. Teams from Chattanooga, Lexington and Syracuse are also scheduled to roll and some big figures are expected.

In the minor events some fast work is also looked for, particularly from Herman Collins and "Kip" Selbach, of Chicago, and Eddie Kelly and Al Tommel, of Chicago, bracketed in the doubles.

McCaughan and Peachey, of Indianapolis, with their 1,314, still hold the lead in the two man event, while Otto Kallusch, of Rochester, with 698, remained at the top of the individuals. The failure of all but one of the big teams on the late shift last night—the Capitol alley five, of Indianapolis, being the lone exception with their 2,800—probably was due to the nervousness caused by the large crowd of spectators present. Missed spares were the cause of most of the low marks.

PHI DELTA CONVENTION.

Annual Session Will Be Held in Marion, June 18, 19 and 20.

The fifteenth annual convention of the Phi Delta Kappa fraternity will be held in Marion, Ind., June 18, 19 and 20, this year. Many Fort Wayne members of the fraternity have been planning to attend and the announcement that it will be held in the state comes to them agreeably. The local chapter, Iota, was offered the convention but because of the recent reorganization it was found impossible to take on the project, which is always a large one.

First picture of major league ball players being prepared for military service at their training camps in the south. Here are shown the Cleveland Indians drilling at New Orleans under Lieutenant W. C. Harrison and Sergeant Dennis of Uncle Sam's army. Army officers have been assigned to nearly every training camp. Ban Johnson, president of the American league, will give $500 for the best drilled team in his league.

Matty's Ability is Big 1917 Question of the National League.

BY PAUL PURMAN.

(The Sentinel special sport writer touring major league training camps.)

Shreveport, La., March 20.—Perhaps there is no more interesting question in baseball today than what steps Christy Matthewson is going to take to make a good ball club of the Cincinnati Reds.

MATTY.

As a manager Matty is an experiment. He was a great pitcher, a brainy one, but there have been many of these who have gone on the bone heap of wasted baseball ambitions.

It takes more than a great ball player to make a great manager. It takes a natural ability to lead men—men who for the most part are difficult to lead.

For this reason the Cincinnati team this year will be one of the most interesting in baseball to watch.

I watched Matty on the field here for two days. His men like him. There was no madhouse stuff. Matty asked for what he wanted and usually got it.

If he didn't there was no wild raving—no racing up and down in front of the bench.

Matty usually had a little comment—quiet, cutting, ironic, and though I visited the club early he seemed to be getting results.

I was especially interested in finding what course Matty would take with his pitchers.

From one of the greatest pitchers in the world you would expect to see something unusual in the handling of the mound staff.

The first day I watched Matty with his pitchers he was teaching them how to field. A great fielding pitcher himself, he intends to have a staff that no ball club can bunt off its feet and one that will not throw its games away by wild heaves to the bases.

Matty is too wise to send his men in with a lot of stuff this early in the season, but he is trying to teach them one of his greatest assets, control.

One other thing I noticed about Matty's work with his men. While I watched him and afterward when I talked to ball players and newspaper men who have been here since the Reds arrived, I found Matty never tells his men "This is the way I used to do."

Once in bunting practice he said, "This is the way Wiltse used to do."

Wiltse, by the way, was one of the greatest of fielding pitchers.

Matty may not make a great manager—there are many things which may come up between now and the opening of the season—but he will be a conscientious manager—which may help to drag Cincinnati out of the second division.

FULTON AND MORRIS TO SCRAP APRIL 10

New York, March 20.—Fred Fulton and Carl Morris finally have been matched. They will meet at the Manhattan A. C. on the night of April 10. Fulton was inclined to sidetrack both Morris and Moran, and in order to force him into a meeting Moran and Morris agreed to box for the privilege of besetting Fulton's heels. That did not materalize, as Grant Hugh Browne did not secure Madison Square Garden, as he had contemplated.

Tom McCardle, matchmaker of the Fairmount A. C., has arranged what should prove to be a cracking good battle between Knockout Joe Burman, of Chicago, the latest sensation among the bantams, and Frankie Daly, the little Staten Island boxer, who has been making rapid strides to the front of late.

SCRAPS.

New York, March 20.—Ted Lewis, the persistent challenger for Jack Britton's welter-weight championship, has been signed to a contract for another bout with Britton. They will meet this time on March 26 at Concinnati.

Memphis, Tenn., March 20.—A scheduled eight-round bout here last night between Jack Dillon, of Indianapolis, and Jack Moran, of St. Louis, was stopped by the referee in the sixth round and the decision awarded to Dillon to have the game, but sadly battered St. Louisan from further punishment.

Columbus, Ohio, March 20.—Joe Rivers, of Los Angeles, gave Johnny O'Leary, of Buffalo, a terrific lacing through eleven rounds of their scheduled twelve-round bout here last night. O'Leary's seconds threw in the sponge in the eleventh. Both men were over the 135-pound limit agreed upon.

Philadelphia, March 20.—Johnny Kilbane, featherweight champion, defeated Eddie Shannon, of San Francisco, in a six-round bout here last night. In the third round Shannon was dropped for a count of nine. Kilbane was the aggressor throughout.

JUNIOR FIVES MEET.

St. Paul's Juniors and St. Mary's Cardinals Play Thursday.

The St. Paul's Juniors and St. Mary's Cardinals meet Thursday night at St. Paul's auditorium in what should be one of the best games of the season's end. One game has been played between the two amateur fives and it resulted in a one-point win for the Cards. The rivals will be there with their strongest line-ups Thursday night, each team being anxious for a win. Pete Dietrich will officiate.

WABASH TEAMS WORK AT CAGE AND TRACK

Crawfordsville, Ind., March 20.—Coach Harry Schooler, of the Wabash college baseball team, has a squad of more than twenty men practicing daily in the Crawfordsville Y. M. C. A. gymnasium. This number includes all of the "W" baseball men in college except Bacon and Clements, who were on the basketball team. Mikels and Clements, last year's twirlers, will probably be selected to do slab duty for the Little Giants again this year.

Twenty-five candidates for the Wabash track team reported for the first practice under the direction of Captain Don Sims. Wabash has fine track prospects this spring. The Scarlet's track season was opened at the recent relays at the University of Illinois when the Little Giants brought home first honors in the college relay. Wabash will enter in the Drake university relays to be held April 21, at Des Moines. The Scarlet will send a half-mile relay team to that meet.

BACHELORS PLAY KEKIONGAS.

Football Champs Will Try Hand at Basketball Wednesday Night.

A basketball team representing the Bachelor A. C. will play the Kekiongas at Library hall Wednesday night. The Bachelors have not had a five in the field all season but many of their members have been playing on the Lyceum Acolians and a fast team has been recruited from the south side ranks. The Kekiongas have been playing a fast game and are going strong for the city title in the amateur division. A good game is expected and the sale of tickets has already reached a high mark.

HARRY SMITH SIGNED TO MANAGE BENDERS

Bosses Have Lined Up Twenty-Two Men to Start Training.

South Bend, Ind., March 20.—One important deal was pulled off by Owner Ed Smith the past week in the signing of Harry Smith of Wheeling as manager of the local club. Checking up of the season ticket books has kept the Bender boss busy all week and he plans to turn the entire matter of signing players over to the new manager as soon as he arrives in South Bend.

Several other contracts from fast semi-pro players were received during the week and when Smith checked up Saturday he found that twenty-two men were either signed or had accepted terms. The following men are under contract:

Pitchers, Herbert Hill, Paul Schanis, H. F. Rasmussen and Stacy Bowman; catchers, Harry Smith, Leonard Tree, Fred Watson and Siner; infielders, Ted Julian, Hogan and Wright; outfielders, Vincent Tydeman, L. T. Dalecke and Harrigton Smith.

More Will Accept.

Players who have been sent contracts and have told Smith that they will accept the terms but have not yet sent back the signed documents are J. Collins and Baschang, outfielders; Joe Grodick and Hensling, infielders; Louis Schettler, pitcher, and Harry LaRoss, catcher.

Smith is withholding the names of two men who have signed contracts and says he will not reveal their identity until reporting time comes. One is believed to be a fast independent pitcher who has been playing ball in these parts while the other is that of a college shortstop who desires that his identity be kept secret until he has a chance of making good.

Two departments of the local club are all that seem to need bolstering. These two are are the pitching staff and the first base position. With four men under contract and a fifth the property of Smith, the staff would seem to be building up fast but there is a scarcity of old heads in the bunch and to win ball games in the Central league requires more headwork and skill than most of the youngsters possess nowadays.

Herb Hill and Louis Schettler are the only veterans Ed has now lined up. Before he was taken sick early last season Hill had worked eight shutout games, but after his illness he was considerably weakened and often failed to go the entire nine innings. A winter of rest should have helped him.

Terre Haute Pitcher.

Schettler performed well for Terre Houte last season and was looked upon as the mainstay of the Terrier staff. He knows the ins and outs of the pastime and will be able to give the young fellows some real advice. Of the three recruits under contracts only little is known of their ability.

Paul Schanis is a southpaw from Chicago who, Smith says, had been going good in semi-pro circles and with a little coaching and help from the catcher, should improve considerably. Either Smith or LaRoss are good men to work with the youngsters behind the bat.

"Heinie" Rasmussen, winner of first prize in the Chicago Tribune amateur tryouts, who was taken on the last eastern trip of the White Sox last year and who, from reports, learned a lot about the game from his association with the big boys, should, with the right spirit and support, show something of the stuff necessary to stick in the league.

The Bowman family, breeders of the great Abe of last year, will try to stick in the Central again this season, and Stacy Bowman, Abe's brother, has been handed a contract by Smith. Stacy is 19 years old and reports say he shows as much promise as his big brother did at the same age. Bowman is a southpaw.

ANNUAL CONCORDIA TOURNAMENT.

The annual military tournament and exhibition of the Concordia college cadets will be held April 10, according to the announcement made by Captain George Byroade, commandant of the battalion. Captain Byroade will direct the tournament. Competitive drills and exhibitions, wall scaling and soldierly accomplishments will make up the program of events. A complex battalion drill by the entire corps will be the final number. The military band of the students will give a concert preceding the program.

OWLS LOSE TO SPENCERVILLE.

Spencerville, Ind., March 20.—The Fort Wayne Owls were defeated by the Spencerville Independent basketball team here Saturday night by a score of 50 to 33. In the preliminary the St. Joe grammar school defeated the Spencerville grammar school team by a score of 35 to 33.

GEORGE BUTLER DIES IN PHILADELPHIA

Formerly Resided in Fort Wayne and Worked at Knitting Mills.

George and Charles Butler, knitters, the former residing at 726 Runnion avenue and the latter at 1934 Howell street, are in receipt of news of the death of their father, George Butler, of Philadelphia, which occurred Saturday night at the family home, following a long illness. The deceased was 67 years old, a native of England, and is survived by the widow and eight children. The latter are George H. and Charles Butler, of Fort Wayne; Mrs. David Lipschutz, of Bayonne, N. J.; Mrs. William Nutt, Mrs. Henry Overmeyer, Mrs. Mary Dillon, Miss Frances Butler and Edwin Butler, all of Philadelphia. The funeral was held Tuesday afternoon at Philadelphia. When the ...gue Knitting mills were first established in Fort Wayne, Mr. Butler came here from his home in England to work in those shops and he was employed there until fifteen years ago, when he resigned and moved to Philadelphia to engage in mercantile lines. He established and conducted a small general store business, at which he was engaged when taken with the illness which resulted in his death. He was of a jovial, sociable character and made friends of all with whom he came in touch and news of his death will be received with sorrow by a large number of people in Fort Wayne. The sons in this city visited their father a short time ago, when it became apparent that he could not survive the attack, but they were not able to go to the funeral, because of delay in learning of the death of their father.

"GOOD FELLOWS' CLUB."

Hon. Fred Landis Will Tell Electro-Technics About It.

The lecture at the Moose hall tonight, the sixth number of the Electro-Technic club, is attracting more attention than did some of the preceding excellent entertainments. Hon.

HON. FRED LANDIS.

Fred Landis, of Logansport, will be the speaker and his subject will be "The Good Fellows' Club," one of the best lectures of this most interesting lecturer. While the lecture is for the benefit of the members of the Electro-Technic club and invited guests, "none who apply for admission will be turned away," Chairman H. W. Baals said this morning. The Bowser Efficiency club, the Wayne Knitting Mills Safety club, the Rotary club and one or two other similar organizations are the invited guests.

AGAIN AT THE "LIGHTS."

Lieutenant W. H. Miller is a Factory Engineer.

Lieutenant W. Howard Miller, of Company E, First Indiana infantry, is again an employe of the General Electric works. This morning he assumed the duties of factory engineer, working under the direction of Factory Superintendent E. A. Barnes. When he quit the employ of the Electric company to enter the military service, nine months ago, he was employed in the capacity of material engineer. His new duties will give him charge of the annealing and treating department, a very important work. Lieutenant Miller was busy replying to greetings from his old associates at the factory much of the time yesterday.

MOVING IN NEW BUILDING.

Entz-Owens Transmission Department to Have New Quarters.

The work of moving the Entz-Owens transmission department of the General Electric works to the fourth floor of building No. 26, on Wall street, commenced this morning and will be completed tomorrow. This department was formerly located on the fourth floor of building No. 6, and the space vacated will be utilized in the expansion of the small motor department. Max Holz is the foreman of the transmission department and he has about fifty men at present, but will soon have double that number.

TO VISIT ELECTRIC WORKS.

Rotary Club Will Be Supt. E. A. Barnes' Guests.

At the close of the meeting of the Rotary club, which begins at 12 o'clock Wednesday, the members will enter automobiles and drive to the General Electric works, where they will be shown over the plant and otherwise entertained. The club will make the visit on the invitation of Factory Supt. E. A. Barnes, who is a member. But few of the members have been through the General Electric works and do not realize the magnitude of that industry. To such the revelations will be a big and pleasing surprise.

LIFE INSURANCE FOR EMPLOYES

The Chicago Great Western has provided life insurance for those section foremen and shop employes who have been in the service of the company at least one year. The policies are equal in amount to one year's pay with a minimum payment of $500 and a maximum of $2,000. There will be no expense of any kind to the insured, nor will any physical examination be required. When employes leave the road, the policies automatically become void. Nearly 850 men are affected by the plan, which became operative on March 1. The scheme is an experiment, and if it proves satisfactory will be extended to other classes of employes.

ATTENDED FUNERAL.

N. H. Crawford, who has charge of the information desk at the General Electric works, and his sister, Mrs. A. H. Lopshire, have returned from Catlin, Ill., where they went a few days ago to attend the funeral of their sister-in-law, Mrs. C. F. Crawford, the wife of the Wabash passenger and freight agent at Catlin. The deceased made many visits to her relatives in Fort Wayne and through these visits acquired quite a wide acquaintance in the city.

TELEPHONE SYSTEM ENLARGED.

The telephone system at the General Electric works has been enlarged and now has three instead of two operators and reaches the offices and other parts of the new buildings on Wall street. The operators are Miss Lillian Wolbolt, Miss Freda Lichtsinn and Miss Pauline Ridenour. The first two named have been at the exchange several years, Miss Ridenour being the new operator.

WILL GIVE BENEFIT TEA.

Mrs. Josephine Lacey, secretary of the society, announces that a benefit tea for the Woman's Union Label league will be given by Mrs. Miller, 1901 Lafayette street, next Friday afternoon, March 23, from 2 to 4. All members are requested to be present as a business session will be held in connection with the tea.

EIGHT CAR LOADS OF CADETS.

An eight car special train, bearing about 250 cadets from the naval training station at Great Lakes, Ill., passed through the city at noon today. The cadets are enroute to Philadelphia, where they will be divided and sent to various government naval stations.

GRIP BUSY AT SHOPS.

Grip appears to be particularly busy with the employes at the Pennsylvania blacksmith shop this week. Foreman F. A. Optaz' force is considerably reduced, temporarily, new names on the list of absentees on account of sickness being John Rupp, George W. McCoy, E. H. Stahlhut, O. F. Heine and M. Simon.

JOHN MORING IMPROVING.

John Moring, one of the old employes at the Pennsylvania blacksmith shop in point of service, is reported to be making rapid progress toward recovery. He is at the hospital, where he was operated upon about a week ago.

TO EXAMINE APPRENTICES.

L. S. Trachsel, head of the piece work department of the Pennsylvania, and examiner of the applicants for apprenticeship, will hold examinations next Saturday afternoon. He will have quite a large class, but could not give the exact number this morning.

CALLED TO BEDSIDE OF SON.

Mrs. L. E. Rehling, mother of E. H. Rehling, of the Pennsylvania blacksmith shop, left at noon today for Chicago, where another son is lying very ill. Mrs. Rehling will remain until her son recovers.

INDUSTRIAL NOTES.

W. Love has resigned a position at the erecting shop of the Pennsylvania.

C. Slusser and W. M. Kennedy are new employes at the Pennsylvania machine shop.

Machinist Ray Kemp is not on duty at the Pennsylvania lathe room because of sickness.

H. G. Gillie has been transferred from the Pennsylvania machine shop to the boiler shop.

James Laughlin, of the Pennsylvania planing mills, is off duty on account of sickness.

Floyd Weaver, formerly of the People's drug store, has taken employment at the General Electric works.

Machinist C. M. Kickley is at work again in the Pennsylvania erecting shop after an illness of three weeks.

William Sams, who was sick about two months, resumed his duties in the Pennsylvania tool room this morning.

F. Hawthorn took employment and J. Jordon resigned a job at the Pennsylvania machine shop this morning.

S. L. Keim, who was sick two or three days, resumed work at the Pennsylvania erecting shop this morning.

General Manager F. S. Hunting, of the General Electric works, has returned from a business trip to the east.

K. Geller and Carl Axt, the latter from the Pennsylvania, have taken clerical positions at the General Electric works.

Carl Roush, machinist at the Pennsylvania power plant, who had been visiting in Chicago, resumed his duties this morning.

William Mennewisch is again at his desk in the office of the Pennsylvania division storekeeper. He had been sick a few days.

While operating a machine at the General Electric works yesterday, Orville West had one of his hands painfully injured.

Michael Creigh, a Pennsylvania truckbuilder, resumed work this morning after an absence of several days on account of sickness.

After being disabled three weeks with an injured hand Machinist W. C. Tagtmeyer has returned to work in the Pennsylvania erecting shop.

H. W. G. Heine and F. E. Miller, Pennsylvania boilermakers, are off duty. Mr. Heine had his eyes injured by steel rust and Mr. Miller is sick.

Machinist W. J. Farnan, who was off duty to assist his folks in moving into new quarters, reported for work at the Pennsylvania lathe ship this morning.

F. C. Brace, a helper in the Pennsylvania boiler department, who was operated upon for appendicitis four months ago, has recovered and this morning resumed his duties at the shops.

John Reidel and E. P. Kahoe, of the Pennsylvania erecting shop, are sick and off duty. Machinist H. F. Reider, of the same shop, who had been sick, reported for duty this morning after a two weeks' absence.

C. M. Cummins, formerly of Wabash, took employment at the power plant of the Pennsylvania this morning. Z. Elder and John Brown, of that department, resigned their positions this morning.

H. M. Parker and R. C. Hirsch, of the Pennsylvania erecting shop, are off duty on account of sickness in their families. Mr. Hirsch was summoned home yesterday by a message stating that his wife was sick.

Mrs. D. A. Wolford, of Monroeville, wife of the retired Pennsylvania shopman, has made arrangements to visit friends and relatives in New York and will leave for that city in a few days. When Mr. Wolford went on the pension list, he became a salesman for a nursery company and soon afterwards moved to Monroeville.

John Reid, who came here four months ago to succeed A. J. Magley as electrical engineer in the transformer department at the General Electric works, has tendered his resignation to E. A. Wagner, the head of the department, to return to his old home in Kentucky. He will be succeeded by H. C. Newton, promoted from the students' course.

"The Lost Princess."

On every side is talk of the coming operetta for the benefit of Hope hospital, "The Lost Princess," which is a sequal to the operetta produced a few months since. This will be given on April 13 and 14 in the Majestic, and many prominent singers and dozens and dozens of beautiful young girls and children are lending their efforts to make it a success. A number of the cast is yet uncertain, but D. Burns Douglass will be Old King Cole, and Arthur Gessler will be Jack Goose. It is hoped to induce Mrs. H. H. Rogers to be Mother Goose.

CONDEMNED MEN GET AWAY FROM PRISON

Seven Alabama Slayers Make Successful Break for Liberty.

Birmingham, Ala., March 20.—David D. Overton, former county clerk of Madison county, under death sentence for the murder of Probate Judge William T. Lawler in Huntsville in June, 1916, with six other prisoners, two under death sentence, early today overpowered the guard at the Jefferson county jail here and escaped in an automobile. The alarm was given about ten minutes later and a motor car with deputies followed. It is believed the fugitives have gone north. The men who escaped with Overton are Thomas Malina and Samuel Massina, under death sentence for the killing of a peddler in Jefferson county, and four other prisoners under indictment for murder. Warden Lavender says the men overawed him with revolvers, took his keys and locked him in a kitchen. They leeft the jail from a side door leading to an alley, he says, and he was unable to make an outcry or follow until they made good thei rescape. The fugitives, according to the warden, dashed down the alley until they reached Fourth avenue and Twenty-first street, where an automobile was waiting for them.

Officials at the jail declared the escape was carefully planned. Each fugitive, Warden Lavender asserts, had a revolver. The men, it was said, had been given more or less liberty in the corridors of the jail and were looked upon practically as trusties.

An automobile believed to contain Overton and six companions was stopped near Odenville, Ala., between here and Gadsden, according to a report reaching here. The fugitives are thought by officials to be heavily armed and a fight between the prisoners and possemen is expected.

THE DEATHS.

GERARDOT.

John J. Gerardot, a resident of Jefferson township, died at his home Saturday evening at the age of 35 years. Death followed an illness due to complication of diseases. He is survived by the aged mother, Mrs. Clem Gerardot; his wife; one daughter, Cleota; four brothers—August, of Jackson township; Louis, of New Haven; Theodore, of Coldwater, O., and charles, of Jefferson township; and three sisters—Mary Dodane, of Fort Wayne; Hannah Gerardot, of Richmond, and Mrs. Louis Gerardot, of Zulu. Funeral services were held Tuesday.

KAADE.

Herman E. Kaade, son of Mr. and Mrs. August Kaade, of 1217 Swinney avenue, and employed as a patternmaker at the General Electric works, died Monday afternoon at St. Joseph's hospital at the age of 32 years. He had been a patient at the hospital only one week.

Mr. Kaade was a member of the Masonic Blue lodge and the Maccabees. He is survived by the parents, and four sisters and one brother, Mrs. E. L. Gordon and Mrs. J. T. Lund, of Portland, Ore.; Mrs. C. B. Sears, of Portland, Ore.; Mrs. H. M. Bridgeman, of Indianapolis, and William Kaade, of this city.

NEISE.

Mrs. Fred K. Neise, of Lima, Ohio, who has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Arthur F. Rosenberg, of 2909 Hoagland avenue, received a telegram Monday stating that her husband had died suddenly at the home in Lima. Death was due to heart trouble. The deceased had formerly resided here, but moved to Lima twenty years ago. He was 52 years old.

KERKENDALL.

James Kerkendall, aged sixty-four years, died at a hospital at 11 o'clock Tuesday forenoon. One daughter, Mrs. E. Bace, lives near Kingsland, Ind., and the body is being held at the Getz & Cahill undertaking establishment until her arrival. The deceased had lived in Allen county forty years.

Says He Had No Unpatriotic Motive in Ordering Flags Removed.

County Commissioner W. C. Schwier is much distressed over the unfortunate affair with reference to the order for the removal of the flags from the windows of the county recorder's office. Mr. Schwier acknowledges his mistake and is sorry for it. He says he did not mean his order to be construed in the manner that it seems to have been by the public. A rule was made by the commissioners some time ago prohibiting the display of anything in the windows of the court house. The enforcement of that rule was uppermost in Mr. Schwier's mind and he had no thought that he was acting in an unpatriotic way. As a matter of fact, his friends declare, there is no more patriotic citizen in the country than he is and certainly none who loves the flag of his country any more devoutly or sincerely.

Mr. Schwier acknowledges his mistake and offers apology to the people of Fort Wayne for what he did in the following statement which he has authorized The Sentinel to publish:

"I want to apologize to the people of Fort Wayne for what I did that has seemed to them to have been an act degrading our flag. It may have been unwise, but God knows I had no thought hat I was acting in an unpatriotic way. I did not mean it in the way the people seem to think I did, but I can see what a mistake I made and I am ashamed that I acted with judgment so poor in a matter like that. What hurts and shames me is that I, an American bor ncitizen, should have given any occasion to be thought unpatriotic. I feel sure that those who know me well do not think that of me."

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and for years it was supposed to be incurable. Doctors prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Catarrh is a local disease, greatly influenced by constitutional conditions and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Medicine, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is a constitutional remedy, is taken internally and acts thru the Blood on the Mucous Surfaces of the System. One Hundred Dollars reward is offered for any case that Hall's Catarrh Medicine fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

BOTTOM WHEAT PRICE MAKES SMALL ADVANCE

Quotations in Grain Will Probably Be Advanced Again Wednesday.

The rise in wheat on larger markets failed to bring much of an echo here Tuesday. One cent was added to the bottom quotation and the prices now stand at $1.86@1.88. This will probably be increased Wednesday, however, according to local dealers.

The touches of spring brought out a good market and there were plenty of farm products for sale and plenty of buyers. Hay was particularly in evidence, thirty-six loads being sold. The old prices of $10.00 to $12.00 were once more established. The corn prices were not as strong and of the six loads offered for sale not one sold for more than $1.14. The bottom figure was $1.06. Oats were slightly higher, bringing 68 cents at the top, but retaining 63 cents as the low price. Six loads were weighed at the city scales and sold.

CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

Chicago, March 20.—Notwithstanding that profit-taking by numerous holders gave the wheat market a material setback today he effect was only transient. Opening prices, which ranged from ½c decline to ½c advance, with May at $1.87½@1.88¼ and July at $1.58@1.58½, were followed by a sharp general break and then a rise all around to yesterday's finish or considerably above.

In corn, as well as in wheat, realizing sales were quickly absorbed. After opening ¼c off to ⅝c up, values underwent a moderate sag and then scored general net gains.

Oats showed no independent strength.

Toledo Closing Prices.

Toledo, O., March 20.—Close: Wheat—Cash, $2.02½; May, $2.04; July, $1.62¾.
Corn — Cash, $1.13¾@1.14¼; May, $1.14⅝; July, $1.13¼.
Oats—Cash, 64@65c; May, 61⅝c; July, 59¼c.

THE DAY ON WALL STREET.

New York, March 20.—Further appreciable advances were made in today's early dealings, the market displaying decided breadth and vigor. Stocks in which initial gains ran to a point or two included such rails as Union Pacific, Reading, New York Central, St. Paul and Chicago and Northwestern, Mexican Petroleum, Central Leather and American and Baldwin Locomotives. United States Steel opened with a block of 5,000 shares at 115¾, ⅝ of a point up, this being soon extended. Bethlehem Steel, new stock, Crucible Steel, Republic Iron and leading metals were higher by 1 to 2 points with 2½ for General Electric.

The spirited movement of the first half hour gathered fresh momentum, sales of the forenoon being estimated at about 700,000 shares. Of this United States Steel, which continued its advance to 116½, contributed fully 20 per cent. Bethlehem Steel, new and old shares, increased their lead to 6½ and 6 points, with 2 to 4 points for popular equipments, International Nickel, General Motors and Oils. Shipping also bounded forward, Marine preferred showing a gain of 5⅝ points and coppers averaged advances of 1½. Rails more than held their early gains, especially Union Pacific, St. Paul and Baltimore & Ohio. Bonds were firm.

WEATHER CONDITIONE.

The pressure is high over the south Atlantic states and off the north Pacific coast; it is low along the northern border, and a depression is centered over the southeastern slope. Except that scattered precipitation occurred at widely separated stations, the weathr has been mostly fair during the last 24 hours. The weather is somewhat warmer than the seasonal average in the west Gulf states, but over almost the entire country practically normal temperature conditions obtain.

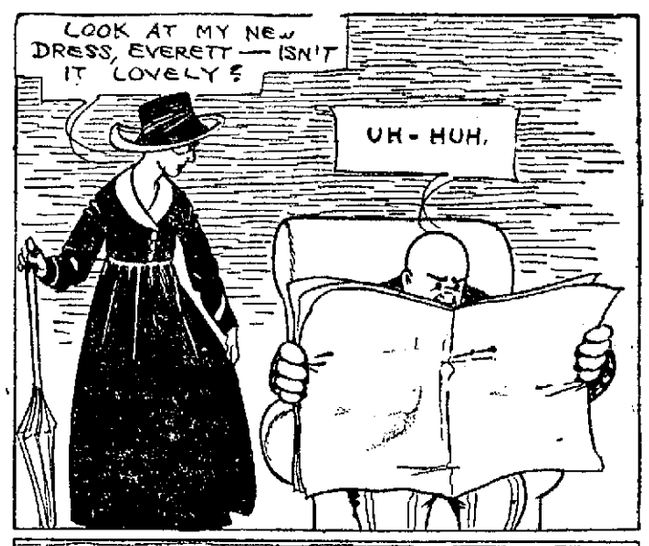
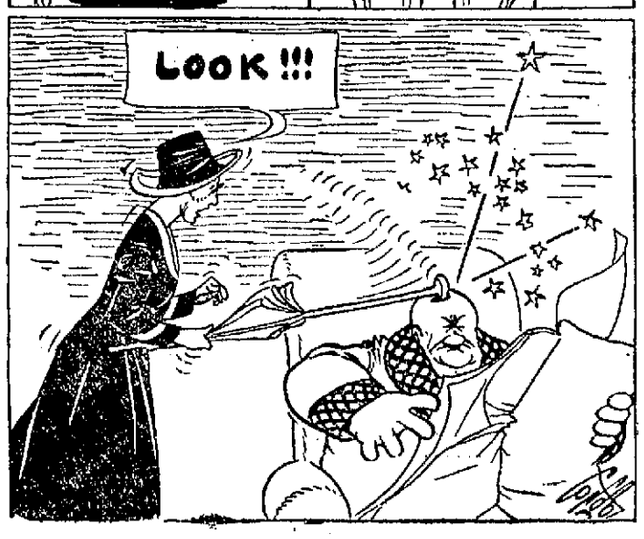
OUTBURSTS OF EVERETT TRUE





CHORUS GIRL RISKS BULLETS—CALLED IRELAND'S BRAVEST COLLEEN.

LOUISA NOLAN SHOWING HONOR MEDAL TO CHORUS GIRLS.

Miss Louisa Nolan, 18-year-old chorus girl in "Three Cheers," playing in London, is called Ireland's bravest colleen. King George has just awarded her the military medal for heroism in the Irish revolt.

During a battle on the Dublin bridge Miss Nolan saw an English officer fall wounded. When she went to him, he asked for a stimulant. She had to cross the line of fire to get it.

Miss Nolan ran the gauntlet of bullets and got the stimulant. Returning, she again defied death. She saved the officer.

Members of the fair sex have again won honors in this year's graduation class of the Fort Wayne High and Manual Training school. Two young ladies have won the veledictorianship and the salutatorianship. They are respectively Georgiana Hudson and Elizabeth Rogier. The former has an average of 93.32 per cent for the wour year's work and the latter 92.96 per cent.

The other honor students and their grades are as follows: Carl Rothert, 92.66; Harold Kinney, 91.32; Cecelia Tarletz, 90.95; Esther Flaig, 90.13; LaMoine Stump, 89.79; Mary Kinerk, 88.53; Frances Miller, 88.20, and Edna Smith, 87.73.

According to Prof. Louis C. Ward, principal of the high school, who announced the honor students Monday evening, there are one hundred and twenty candidates for graduation this year. This is a large number. The largest class that has ever graduated from the local high school was in 1913, when 124 students received their diplomas.

Graduation exercises will be held in the afternoon of Thursday, June 21, at the Palace theater. The speaker for the occasion has not been named.

The Patterson-Fletcher Company barber shop for children was a busy place yesterday. Mr. Gentis, who is in charge of the shop, is an ideal child's barber. Any child who goes to him once will want to go again. All barber tools in this shop are kept in a sterilizer and are absolutely sanitary.

The Sale of Spring Silks
Starts Today

No more important announcement could be made than the opening of this event. Never was our stock so wonderful in range—never so many delightful weaves and colorings. For this is essentially a silk season—suits are made of it—sport skirts—coats—blouses—Silks, Silks, Silks used for everything.

Five Specially Arranged Groups

GROUP ONE—
A collection of Messaline and Jap Silks, excellent quality and adapted for many spring and summer uses; Sale Price, 39c.

GROUP TWO—
Printed Taffetas and Satins, Moires, fancy silks of every description, all fresh and new and in all the most fashionable and desirable colorings. Various width; Sale Price, 69c.

GROUP THREE—
A great assortment in this collection of silks, including beautiful fancy silks, together with black taffetas, black messalines, silk poplins, etc. All yard wide. Wonderful values at 98c.

GROUP FOUR—
Lovely Crepe de Chines, Reviera, Satins, fancy Chiffons and Marquisettes, 40-inch and yard wide materials, in the loveliest of spring and summer colorings; Sale Price, 98c.

GROUP FIVE—
In this collection are exquisite fancy Crepes, Charmeuse, Chiffons and other charming weaves, in widths from 40 to 45 inches; not a wanted shade missing; Sale Price, $1.19.

Some of the Sweetest
New Hats for Children

Have just been opened up with everybody admiring.

Little mushroom shapes and sailor hats.

High-crowned straw hats with streamers perhaps—and a tiny knot of fruit. Dainty white hats of satin straw and crepe de chine.

They start at 69c and go to $5 for children of 2 to 6 years.

Again This Week, Skirts Made to Order, 85c

A before-Easter opportunity! Have a smartly tailored skirt, in any one of the five new models, the making to cost only 85c.

Choice of Our Line of Beautiful Spring Fabrics, Which Includes Every Wanted Weave and Color. Any Material Costing 75c a Yard or Over, Will Be Made Up.

Deliveries are very prompt. Workmanshop and fit guaranteed. For skirts of extra size, and white woolens, an additional charge of 50c will be made. —First Floor.

"Colorful" Collars for Women

And the more colorful the more fashionable. Bright colors preferred. Some collars are splashed in color. Fashioned of Georgette crepe, voile, sportussah, pongee and linen. Every pretty shape. Trimmings of lace, fancy stitching and hand-embroidery. Variously at 50c to $2.25.

Collars of white Georgette crepe, hand-embroidered, lace-trimmed, picot edged and other trimming touches, at $1.00 and $1.50.

Honiton Braid
Very Scarce—But Here!

Like so many other lines, almost impossible to get "since the war," there has been no Honiton braid on the market. We have been able to secure a limited quantity of this braid and women who see this announcement will be first to get a supply.

Honiton Braid is used effectively on scores of crochet patterns, and as trimming for wash dresses. Three widths priced at 15c to 30c for bolt of 6 yards.

Easter Ribbons

New Chinese ribbon is wonderfully beautiful and has many uses for Spring. It makes girdles for the fashionable one-piece frock and at the same time is most effective for fancy bags, $1.75 to $3.00.

Narrow grosgrain ribbons come in all the new colorings and there is a great variety of narrow sport ribbons which are so much in demand, 15c to 50c.

Two Ribbon Specials
For This Week

Beautiful quality brocade ribbons, 8 inches wide, in white and colors and two-tone effects; very special at 50c.

Hair bow ribbons in satin edge moire, five inches wide; pink, blue, white, rose, green, Copenhagen, black and two-tone combinations; specially priced at 19c and 25c.

A New Veil
That Forms the Hat Trimming

Particularly smart to wear with the sailor and trig little satin hats are the new crest veils. The embroidered motif on the veil is worn at the top, forming a touch of trimming for the hat, $2.00.

There are also many new ideas in circle veils, some plain, others with chenille dots, $1.00 to $3.00.

New bordered veils are in clever designs. Excellent qualities; variously priced at 25c to $1.00 a yard.

CATHERINE WINTERS MISSING FOUR YEARS

Little Girl Disappeared from Newcastle Home March 20, 1913.

Newcastle, Ind., March 21.—Tuesday marked the fourth anniversary of the disappearance of Catherine Winters from this city. At noon on March 20, 1913, Catherine was last seen on her way to her home in North Sixteenth street, and from that hour until the present, her disappearance has remained a mystery.

Dr. W. A. Winters, a dentist, of Newcastle, and the father of Catherine, has spent large sums of money, and the doctor himself has traveled thousands of miles in search of his daughter, but to no avail. When Catherine disappeared from the streets a band of gypsies was in the city, and it was thought by many that she had been kidnapped by them. Many supposed clews in this line were run down, and finally the search was given up.

When Catherine disappeared she was nine years old, and if she is living she has reached the age of thirteen. Dr. Winters still holds to the theory that his daughter was kidnapped by a band of nomads, and holds the belief that some day she will be returned to him.

COLLEGIANS ARE TRAINING.

Middlebury, Vt., March 21.—The faculty of Middlebury college has recommended upanimously that the board of trustees apply to the war department for the formation of a unit of the federal officers reserve training at the college. The students already have formed a military company and have requested that it be made the basis of the proposed unit.

ORRINE FOR DRINKING MEN

We are in earnest when we ask you to give Orrine a trial. You have nothing to risk and everything to gain, for your money will be returned if after a trial you fail to get results from Orrine. This offer gives the wives and mothers of those who drink to excess an opportunity to try the Orrine treatment. It is a very simple treatment, can be given in the home secretly, without publicity or loss of time from business.

Orrine is prepared in two forms: No. 1, secret treatment; Orrine No. 2, the voluntary treatment. Costs only $1.00 a box. Ask us for booklet.

CZARINA IS FIFTH OF QUEENS DRIVEN FROM HOME AS RESULT OF WAR.

The revolution in Russia has added another woman to the list of queens who have been driven from their palaces as a result of war.

Czarina Alexandra of Russia, is the latest. She is of German birth, the daughter of Grand Duke Ludwig IV of Hesse, and left with Czar Nicholas when he abdicated the throne.

The oldest and most famous royal exile is Empress Eugenie, former empress of France. She is 91 years of age and, ever since 1870, has been living in England, worshiped and beloved by all who know her.

Empress Eugenie was the wife of Louis Napoleon III, last emperor of France. While he was fighting the war of France against Prussia, she ruled the country. At the end of the war, the communist rebellion in Paris brought about her dethronement and her exile. She has not since returned to her country.

The present war has caused the exile of four queens now away from their palaces. Besides the czarina, they are Queen Elizabeth of Belgium, Queen Marie of Rumania and Queen Milena of Montenegro.

The first to be forced to leave the country was Queen Elizabeth. She is now nursing wounded soldiers in a hospital in France. Instead of returning to Brussels for a rest, she goes to her temporary home at Havre, France, where the Belgian capital has been transferred.

Queen Milena of Montenegro, was forced out of her palace soon after the beginning of the war. King Nicholas and she are said to have taken refuge in Italy, where they are awaiting their chance to return and again lead their people.

With the recent invasion of Rumania by the central powers, Queen Marie has been forced into exile in Russia. She went first, with the rest of the royal family and the administration, from Bucharest, the capital, to Jassy in the north of Rumania. When the enemy threatened that part of the country, the royal family fled to Russia, perhaps Petrograd, where Queen Marie is now.

French Premier is Facing a Crisis

ARISTIDE BRIAND

Disagreement over the policy of Premier Briand, of France, has reached a critical point threatening the overthrow of the present ministry and the institution of a more forceful cabinet. Briand succeeded Premier Viviani in 1915, after a shake-up like the one threatened now.
